The Letters Of Ard Fairburn:

The Letters of A.R.D. Fairburn Arthur Rex Dugard Fairburn,1981 Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson,L.W. Conolly,2004-11-30 Post Colonial Literatures in English together with English Literature and American Literature form one of the three major groupings of literature in English and as such are widely studied around the world Their significance derives from the richness and variety of experience which they reflect In three volumes this Encyclopedia documents the history and development of this body of work and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide

Never a Soul at Home Stuart Murray,1998 The generation of writers that came to prominence in the 1930s laid down the framework for modern New Zealand literature This book looks at the beginnings of those writers careers at the influences of events like the Depression and the onset of war and at the role of cultural institutions Ultimately it is about the myths that surround the 1930s writers and the myths they made Picking Up the Traces Lawrence Jones,2003 The story of the generation of New Zealand writers who came of age in the 1930s and who deliberately and decisively changed the course of literature is told in this book shedding important new light on the key participants including Allen Curnow Denis Glover and Robin Hyde The movement is traced through small circulation magazines and small press publications from 1932 to 1941 The repudiations and loyalties by which the movement defined itself are explored including its opposition to the literary establishment and to late Georgian verse its naming of its precursors and allies from the 1920s and its choice of overseas models such as the British Moderns and the new American short story writers for the creation of a new literature oppose the cultural myths supported by the literary establishment and the writers responses to the world wide social upheavals of the period the Depression the international crises of 1935 to 1939 and World War II Letters of Frank Sargeson Sarah Shieff,2012-02-03 A rich and riveting record of both literary and social value Frank Sargeson is one of New Zealand s best loved and most important writers Besides the ground breaking short stories he wrote memoirs novels and plays He encouraged at least three generations of younger writers and for most of his adult life the famous bach behind the hedge at 14 Esmonde Road was at the heart of New Zealand s artistic and literary world Sargeson was also a prolific letter writer and this selection of 500 of the most fascinating ranges over half a century from 1927 to 1981 The letters are immensely readable vividly capturing his life and times his milieu and his personality Frank loved gossip could be bitchy and peevish but also kind affectionate funny ribald astute This collection selected edited and annotated by Sarah Shieff is a document of extraordinary significance for all those interested in New Zealand s literary and social history New Zealand's London Felicity Barnes,2013-11-01 Antipodean soldiers and writers meat carcasses and moa British films and Kiwi tourists throughout the last 150 years people objects and ideas have gone back and forth between New Zealand and London defining and redefining

the relationship between this country and the colonial center that many New Zealanders once called home Exploring the relationship between a colony and its metropolis from Wakefield to the Wombles it answers questions including How did New Zealanders define themselves in relation to the center of British culture and How did New Zealanders view London when they walked through King s Cross or saw the city in movies By focusing on particular themes from agricultural marketing to expatriate writers this discussion develops a larger story about the construction of colonial and national identities The Nationbuilders Brian Easton,2013-10-01 This is a collection of linked essays on individuals and companies from 1931 to 1984 who contributed in major ways to building the New Zealand nation It captures the intertwining of the lives of politicians their advisers and those influence them as well as the ideas and experiences that drove them While it focuses on economic strategy the book also looks at the cultural social union business and foreign policy strands of nationbuilding An original and provocative book it is backed by powerful nationalistic emotions and by a deep distaste for the kind of country that has been fashioned in New Zealand since 1984 Simply by Sailing in a New Direction Terry Sturm,2017-09-29 Allen Curnow 1911 2001 was at the time of his death regarded as one of the greatest of all poets writing in English For seventy years from Valley of Decision 1933 to The Bells of Saint Babel s 2001 Curnow s poetry was always on the move from his early approaches to New Zealand identity and myth to later work concerned with the philosophical encounter between word and world Curnow also played a major role in New Zealand life as editor critic commentator and anthologist as well as a much loved writer of light verse under the penname of Whim Wham In his later years he acquired an impressive international reputation winning the Commonwealth Prize for Poetry and the Queen s Gold Medal for Poetry Throughout his lifetime Allen Curnow revised selected and collected his poetry in various ways For the first time this collection brings together all of the poems that Curnow collected in his lifetime grouped in their original volumes The notes reproduce Curnow s comments on individual poems and include relevant editorial guidance This is the definitive collection of work by New Zealand s most distinguished poet A Book in the Hand Penelope Griffith,Penny Griffith,Peter Hughes,Alan Loney,2000 As we find ourselves in a technological revolution and the computer screen takes over the printed page the history of the book has become a subject of study throughout the world This collection of 15 essays looks at at a wide variety of topics from the history of the printed word in New Zealand Disputed Ground Robin Hyde,Gillian Boddy,Jacqueline D. Matthews,1991 This book brings together for the first time the best of Hyde s journalism Alongside extracts from the now out of print Journalese 1934 are previously uncollected articles and reviews from newspapers and magazines ranging in subject matter from the Treaty of Waitangi to the Spanish Civil War from China in the thirties to the Queen Street Riots These detailed and vivid accounts of aspects of New Zealand society and the international situation have an urgency with makes them relevant to us all The biographical introduction offers a fuller picture than we have had of this remarkable writer drawing on interviews letters and the work itself Back cover
