Sinop Landscapes:

Sinop Landscapes Owen P. Doonan, 2011-06-01 The Black Sea coast is different from the rest of Turkey For more than 5 000 years Sinop the central point on the Turkish coast has seemed more remote from the rest of the Anatolian land mass than from Greece Italy Africa the Crimea Istanbul and Rome How was Sinop connected to them The Black Sea Trade Project explores the perception of connectedness how connected did people feel to those in other upland villages coastal villages ports the big port of Sinop and to distant shores How did economic infrastructural and political institutions bind local populations to larger systems and how were various institutional processes situated in landscapes In this first volume from the Sinop Regional Archaeological Project Owen P Doonan rigorously explores connection through Sinop and its hinterland from precolonial Greek settlements through ages of empires Roman Russian and Ottoman conquests to the present day

Sinop Landscapes Owen Doonan, 2004 Innovative approaches to the study of a diverse heavily forested region will be of interest to archaeologists attempting systematic surveys in such challenging environments Historians will appreciate the weaving together of rich local and regional narratives and the insights the volume provides into the long term history of the Black Sea The integration of the emerging field of Ottoman landscape studies with that of historical processes provides an invaluable example for all interested in how patterns established in the distant past can structure recent and even contemporary cultural and economic life BOOK JACKET Mediterranean Archaeological Landscapes Effie F.

Mellor Professor of Ancient History at UCLA which summarizes and enlarges upon the themes and contributions of the volume

Meanwhile the second part brings out local patterns and peculiarities within the archaeological remains of the City of Rome as well as almost every province of its empire Each chapter is written by a noted scholar whose career has focused on the subject Chronological coverage for each chapter is formally 44 BCE to 337 CE but since material remains are not always so closely datable most chapters center on the first three centuries of the Common Era plus or minus 50 years In addition the book is amply illustrated and includes new and little known finds from oft ignored provinces Readers will also find A thorough introduction to the peoples and operations of the Roman Empire including not just how the center affected the periphery Romanization but how peripheral provinces operated on their own and among their neighbors Comprehensive explorations of local patterns within individual provinces Contributions from a diverse panel of leading scholars in the field A unique form of organization that brings out systems across the empire such as transport across sea rivers and roads monetary systems pottery and foodways the military construction and technology Perfect for graduate and advanced undergraduate students of archaeology and the history of the Roman Empire A Companion to the Archaeology of the Roman Empire will also earn a place in the libraries of professional archaeologists in other fields including Mayanists medievalists and Far Eastern scholars seeking comparanda and bibliography on other imperial structures Archaeological Oceanography Robert D. Ballard, 2021-09-14 Archaeological Oceanography is the definitive book on the newly emerging field of deep sea archaeology Marine archaeologists have been finding and excavating underwater shipwrecks since at least the early 1950s but until recently their explorations have been restricted to depths considered shallow by oceanographic standards This book describes the latest advances that enable researchers to probe the secrets of the deep ocean and the vital contributions these advances offer to archaeology and fields like maritime history and anthropology Renowned oceanographer Robert Ballard who stunned the world with his discovery of the Titanic deep in the North Atlantic has gathered together the pioneers of archaeological oceanography a cross disciplinary group of archaeologists oceanographers ocean engineers and anthropologists who have undertaken ambitious expeditions into the deep sea In this book they discuss the history of archaeological oceanography and the evolution and use of advanced deep submergence technology to locate and excavate ancient and modern shipwrecks and cultural and other sites deep under water They offer examples from their own expeditions and explain the challenges future programs face in obtaining access to the resources needed to carry out this important and exciting research The contributors are Robert D Ballard Ali Can Dwight F Coleman Mike J Durbin Ryan Eustace Brendan Foley Cathy Giangrande Todd S Gregory Rachel L Horlings Jonathan Howland Kevin McBride James B Newman Dennis Piechota Oscar Pizarro Christopher Roman Hanumant Singh Cheryl Ward and Sarah Webster Rome and the Black Sea Region Tonnes Bekker-Nielsen, 2006-09-01 In 89 BC Roman legionaries intervened in the Black Sea region to curb the ambitions of Mithridates VI of Pontus Over the next two centuries the Roman presence on the Black Sea coast was slowly but steadily increased This volume deals with the Roman impact on the indigenous population in the Black

Sea region and touches on the theme of romanisation of that area Nine different contributors discuss several aspects of Roman identity and the cultural interaction one article even compares the situation to the American presence in Iraq though at the same time it also looks at the resistance to the Roman Empire and the Roman problems of creating peace in the region after the colonisation Romanisation and becoming Roman in a Greek world is a very popular field of discussion about which a lot has already been written This book however encircles three important themes the domination the romanisation and the resistance It covers two different sides of the Roman presence in the area and shows both the perspective of a Roman just arrived Pliny the Younger and a native seeing the Romans coming the historian Memnon of Herakleia Furthermore it describes how multi identity cultures manage to live together because becoming Roman not necessarily means becoming less Greek or less Gaulish less Scythian less Bosporan etc The diversity of the different chapters in this book creates reflection on the cultural change in the traditionalist yet cosmopolitan environment that was the Roman Black Sea Region

New Regionalism or No Regionalism? Ruxandra Ivan, 2016-04-29 The nation states in the Black Sea area have initiated many cooperative policies but the area also sees numerous tensions between neighboring states The conflict co operation paradox along with ethnic fragmentation and shared culture are two of the most salient features of the Black Sea Area These paradoxes are not the only force in the evolution of the region though There are also issues such as ethnic and national identity the failure of democratization energy and resources as well as the influence of other powers such as Russia the EU and the USA The key questions asked by the authors in this book are to what extent is there an emerging regionalism in the Black Sea area Is the Black Sea a region What are the common interests shared by the former USSR states the three EU member states neighboring the Black Sea Bulgaria Greece and Romania and a NATO country Turkey Are the fault lines dividing them more pervasive than the incentives for cooperation Can we speak of a shared identity The first part of the book places the Black Sea problematique in a wider historical and spatial context The authors then take a closer look at the region and examine further the structure of the Black Sea area They offer a perspective on smaller actors with great ambitions such as Azerbaijan and Romania and go on to make a comparison between the emerging regionalism in the Black Sea area and regionalisms in other parts of the world

The Black Sea and the Early Civilizations of Europe, the Near East and Asia Mariya Ivanova, 2013-08-26 The Black Sea lies at the junction of three major cultural areas Europe Central Asia and the Near East It plays a crucial role in enduring discussions about the impact of complex Near Eastern societies on European societies and the repercussions of early urbanization across Eurasia This book presents the first comprehensive overview of the Black Sea region in the prehistoric period It penetrates artificial boundaries imposed by traditions politics and language to encompass both the European and Asiatic coasts and both Eastern European and Western scholarly literature With a critical compilation and synthesis of archaeological data this study situates the prehistoric Black Sea in a global historical context By adopting the perspective of technology and innovation it transcends a purely descriptive account of material
