Social Care Markets Progress And Prospects:

Social Care Markets Gerald Wistow, 1996 Based on detailed research in twenty five local authorities this book focuses on initial experiences of and attitudes towards operating within social care markets It examines perspectives on and capacities to implement the community care reforms and locates them within conceptual and policy frameworks which help us identify implications for local authorities private and voluntary sector providers central government and the research community Generally local authorities have moved from a relatively crude anti commercialism to a belief that the market is capable of delivering benefits to users and carers However there is relatively little evidence that authorities have developed understandings of how to use the market to achieve social goals This is a fascinating story of how social care markets are actually operating It is the second book to arise from this large scale longitudinal research and is a worthy successor to the widely welcomed first book Social Care in a Mixed Economy Market Research in Health and Social Care Mike Luck, Rob Pocock, Mike Tricker, 2003-09-02 The shift to managed markets has meant that whilst planners and purchasers of health and social services seek information on needs managers who provide these services seek information on performance and response Market research contributes to both This text is a comprehensive and rigorous introduction to the relevance planning and management of market research in the areas of health and social care that have developed in Britain and most other industrialised countries It features an explanation of how managed markets provide the context for market research a comprehensive guide to choosing the appropriate survey method recommendations for commissioning monitoring and implementing results practical advice on producing successful student projects a comparative international perspective Intended for managers and students of public sector management and marketing this outstanding book contains instruction on research methods practical advice for managers and professionals on how to commission monitor and implement the results of market research and an excellent selection of case studies Complex Policy Planning Philip Haynes, 2018-08-13 First published in 1999 this book examines recent developments in the application of chaos and complexity theory to the applied social sciences and the implications for the government planning of social care services The study argues that there are fundamental limitations to traditional government political and managerial planning structures Chaos and complexity theory shows that the effects of time and space are critical aspects for planners to consider Small changes in isolated social or individual factors can have larger scale effects on the future validity of a policy programme In particular rigid linear statistical calculations like the Government Standard Spending Assessment can undermine the ability of local authorities to make realistic plans It is proposed that government political strategies and managerial methods of analysis need to better understand the complexity of information available to them New political and institutional typologies are required if planning activity is to evolve to be of optimal social value The Voluntary Sector in the United Kingdom Jeremy Kendall, Martin Knapp, 1996 This book provides an analytical overview of the vast range of historiography which was produced in western Europe over a thousand year period between c 400 and c 1500 Concentrating on the general principles of classical rhetoric central to the language of this writing alongside the more familiar traditions of ancient history biblical exegesis and patristic theology this survey introduces the conceptual sophistication and semantic rigour with which medieval authors could approach their narratives of past and present events and the diversity of ends to which this history could then be put By providing a close reading of some of the historians who put these linguistic principles and strategies into practice from Augustine and Orosius through Otto of Freising and William of Malmesbury to Machiavelli and Guicciardini it traces and questions some of the key methodological changes that characterise the function and purpose of the western historiographical tradition in this formative period of its development

Management, Social Work and Change

Elizabeth Harlow, John Lawler, 2018-02-05 This title was first published in 2000 This text focuses on developments in social work and its management In doing so it is of necessity multi disciplinary research and literature from the fields of management organization and social policy as well as social work are drawn upon The major theme of the book is change which paradoxically appears to be the major constant Change is everywhere and living with change is part of the modern condition As the various transformations of social work are articulated their influence becomes apparent Each process will constitute a theme around which the content of this book is introduced Although these processes are interdependent each will be dealt with in turn

Managing Change and Innovation in Public Service Organizations

Kerry Brown, Stephen Osborne, 2012-10-02 The context and environment of public services is becoming increasingly complex and the management of change and innovation is now a core task for the successful public manager This text aims to provide its readers with the skills necessary to understand manage and sustain change and innovation in public service organizations Key features include the use of figures tables and boxes to highlight ideas and concepts of central importance a dedicated case study to serve as a focus for discussion and learning and to marry theory with practice clear learning objectives for each chapter with suggestions for further reading Providing future and current public managers with the understanding and skills required to manage change and innovation this groundbreaking text is essential reading for all those studying public management public administration and public policy

Community Care in England and France

Bleddyn Davies, José Fernández, 2018-12-17 First published in 1998 the aims of this book are the comparison of community care service and financing systems the comparison of reform arguments and history over the last decade the comparison of who uses how much of what services and with what impact on their needs and the probability of having to enter institutions for long term care The book breaks new ground by comparing systems from a new perspective and describing contemporary reform argument and proposals for the first time in the English language It presents new evidence from the most ambitious collection and analysis of quantitative data so far made for the comparison of the two countries based on matched area samples collecting comparable information about cohorts of new users on two or more occasions The book also shows how the need related circumstances of users differ between countries and within each country between areas The book shows how and why higher levels of the French cash benefit for community care had more effect on the central policy goal than its British counterpart how higher levels of services generally had little impact on it in either country but on average how the effect of the British services were much greater

Voluntary Organizations and Innovation in Public Services Stephen P. Osborne, 2013-01-11 The innovative capacity of voluntary organizations has become a touchstone for their role in providing public services Across the world there are increasing pressures on voluntary organizations to improve the quality and effectiveness of public services through innovation and change This volume uses original research to assess the innovative capacity of voluntary organizations It provides a conceptual framework for understanding the innovative capacity of voluntary organizations empirical evidence detailing the nature and extent of innovation an analysis of successful innovators in personal social services the applicability of the for profit model of innovation to non profit organizations an account of the contingent nature of voluntary organizations relationship to their external environment and particularly their main funders The development of a theory of innovation in non market and nonprofit conditions makes this volume an important addition to organizational studies literature

Relational Social Work Fabio Folgheraiter, 2004 In this innovative book Fabio Folgheraiter presents a systematic introduction to networking and reflexive practice in social work The text explores how the interested parties in social care can acquire a shared power in care planning and decision making and that when this networking occurs the efficacy of caring initiatives increases

European Social Policy and Social Work Hans van Ewijk, 2009-09-10 European Social Policy and Social Work explores shifts in international social policies and how they affect national trends and thus the context for social work practice The book discusses international and national social work strategies and practice and investigates the responsibilities for social welfare held by the state the market and civil society Hans van Ewijk then elaborates a new concept of citizenship based social work which supports and encourages self responsibility social responsibility and the implementation of social rights The main themes covered are international social policy and social work from welfare to workfare citizenship essentials of citizenship based social work community policy and community work social work and alternative areas of activity such as youth care and social care Integrating different roots and social professions in an overarching new concept this book particularly looks at European Union countries Hans van Ewijk examines debates regarding social work as an internationally recognised profession and science This book is suitable for social work students academics and professionals with an interest in social policy and international social work
