Teaching Migration in Literature, Film, and Media Masha Salazkina, Yumna Siddiqi, 2025-06-14 People migrate to seek opportunities to unite with family and to escape war, persecution, poverty and environmental disasters. A phenomenon that has real lived effects on individuals and communities, migration also carries symbolic ideological significance. Its depiction in literature, film and other media powerfully shapes worldviews, identities, attitudes toward migrants and a political landscape that is both local and global. It is imperative then to connect the disciplinary and theoretical tools we have for understanding migration and to put them in conversation with students' experiences. Featuring a wide range of classroom approaches, this volume brings together topics that are often taught separately, including tourism, slavery, drug cartels, race, whiteness, settler colonialism, the Arab Spring, assimilation and disability. Readers are introduced to terminology and legal frameworks and to theories of migration in relation to Black studies, ethnic studies, Asian American studies, Latinx studies, border studies, postcolonial studies and Indigenous studies.
