Nancy Bonvillian, 2020-03-20 The fifth edition of Women and Men Cultural Constructs of Gender presents a synthesis of a wide range of ethnographic and historical data concerning the roles of women men and gender nonconforming people in different societies It focuses on both material conditions and ideological valuations that affect and reflect cultural models of gender NEW TO THIS EDITION Chapter 3 includes new sections on alternative gendered identities in the Lakota of the Plains and the Navajo of the Southwest and on Yanomamo land rights Chapter 4 contains new sections on marriage options in the Northwest Coast and on Canadian First Nations contemporary issues concerning territorial rights and the protection of lands from contamination Chapter 6 is significantly expanded by thorough discussions of the intersectionality of gender class and race Chapter 7 includes a new section on the transmigration of women from poor countries in Asia Africa and Central and South America to wealthier countries in the Middle East Europe and North America to work as nannies cooks and other household help as well as other resources Chapter 8 is significantly revised to include changes that have recently taken place to counter dominating and dominant notions of gender and sexuality This revision contains numerous new sections along with updated economic and social statistical data pertaining to the United States and to global resources It reframes concepts of gender and of the intersectionality of gender class and race as they relate to discussions throughout the book Ethnographic studies are expanded to include contemporary material on the peoples featured in the chapters Stand Out

Rob Jenkins, Staci Lyn Sabbagh, 2002 Cognitive Linguistic Approaches to Teaching Vocabulary and Phraseology

Frank Boers, Seth Lindstromberg, 2008-08-27 Mastering the vocabulary of a foreign language is one of the most daunting tasks that language learners face The immensity of the task is underscored by the realisation that it is not only single words but also numerous standardised phrases idioms collocations etc that need to be acquired There is thus a clear need for instructional methods that help learners tackle this task and yet few proposals for vocabulary instruction have so far gone beyond techniques for rote learning and familiar means of promoting noticing The reason for this is that vocabulary and phraseology have long been assumed arbitrary The volume offers a long overdue alternative by exploring and exploiting the presence of linguistic motivation or systematic non arbitrariness in the lexicon The first half of the volume reports ample empirical evidence of the pedagogical effectiveness of presenting vocabulary to learners as non arbitrary The data reported indicate that the proposed instructional methods can benefit when both the nature of the target lexis and the basic cognitive orientations of particular learners are taken into account The first half of the book mostly targets lexis that has already attracted a fair amount of attention from Cognitive Linguists in the past e g phrasal verbs and figurative idioms The second half broadens the scope considerably by revealing the non arbitrariness of diverse other lexical patterns including collocations and word partnerships generally This is achieved by recognising some long neglected dimensions of linguistic motivation etymological and phonological motivation in particular Concrete suggestions are made for putting the non arbitrary nature of words and phrases to good use in instructed language learning The volume is therefore of interest not only to applied linguists and researchers in Second Language Acquisition Foreign Language Teaching but also to second and foreign language teaching professionals
