The Newspaper In Art

William J. Byrnes

The Newspaper In Art:

The Newspaper in Art Garry Apgar, Shaun Higgins, Colleen Striegel, 1996 An art historian a newspaperman and an ad executive team up on this unique and esoteric study of the role that newspapers have played in the development of western art over the past 400 years In addition to a trio of learned essays the volume includes 210 outstanding reproductions of art works that include depictions of newspapers mostly as incidental props ranging from early etchings to genre paintings to trompe l'oeil to Cubist papers collages to commercial art The authors culled their examples from more than 200 libraries museums and galleries worldwide after sorting through roughly 80 000 works Nevertheless the preponderance of tangential examples makes all the more tenuous the authors labored attempts to promote the appearance of newspapers in art as seminal icons and harbingers of artistic change Amazon.com

When Art Makes News Katia Dianina, 2012-11-15 From the time the word kultura entered the Russian language in the early nineteenth century Russian arts and letters have thrived on controversy At any given time several versions of culture have coexisted in the Russian public sphere The question of what makes something or someone distinctly Russian was at the core of cultural debates in nineteenth century Russia and continues to preoccupy Russian society to the present day When Art Makes News examines the development of a public discourse on national self representation in nineteenth century Russia as it was styled by the visual arts and popular journalism Katia Dianina tells the story of the missing link between high art and public culture revealing that art became the talk of the nation in the second half of the nineteenth century in the pages of mass circulation press At the heart of Dianina's study is a paradox how did culture become the national idea in a country where few were educated enough to appreciate it Dianina questions the traditional assumptions that culture in tsarist Russia was built primarily from the top down and classical literature alone was responsible for imagining the national community When Art Makes News will appeal to all those interested in Russian culture as well as scholars and students in museum and exhibition studies

Doing Politics with Citizen Art Fawn Daphne Plessner, 2022-04-12 This book examines how citizen art practices perform new kinds of politics as distinct from normative status participatory and cosmopolitan models It contends that at a time in which the conditions of citizenship have been radically altered e.g. by the increased securitization and individuation of bodies and so forth there is an urgent drive for citizen art to be enacted as a tool for assessing the hollowed out conditions of citizenship Citizen art it shows stands apart from other forms of art by performing acts of citizenship that reveal and transgress the limitations of state centred citizenship regimes whilst simultaneously enacting genuinely alternative modes of non statist citizenship This book offers a new formulation of citizen art one that is interrogated on both critical and material levels and as such remodels the foundations on which citizenship is conceived performed and instituted

Art Systems Elena Shtromberg, 2016-02-01 From currency and maps to heavily censored newspapers and television programming Art Systems explores visual forms of critique and subversion during the height of Brazilian dictatorship drawing sometimes surprising connections between artistic production and broader processes of social exchange during a period of authoritarian modernization Positioning the works beyond the prism of politics Elena Shtromberg reveals subtle forms of subversion and critique that reinvented the artists political terrain Analyzing key examples from Cildo Meireles Antonio Manuel Artur Barrio Anna Bella Geiger Sonia Andrade Geraldo Mello and others the book offers a new framework for theorizing artistic practice By focusing on the core economic media technological and geographic conditions that circumscribed artistic production during this pivotal era Shtromberg excavates an array of art systems that played a role in the everyday lives of Brazilians An examination of the specific historical details of the social systems that were integrated into artistic production this unique study showcases works that were accessed by audiences far outside the confines of artistic institutions Proliferating during one of Brazil's most socially and politically fraught decades the works spanning cartography to video art do not conform to an easily identifiable style form material use or medium As a result of this breadth Art Systems gives voice to the multifaceted forces at play in a unique chapter of Latin American cultural history

Printing and Painting the News in Victorian London Andrea Korda, 2017-07-05 Printing and Painting the News in Victorian London offers a fresh perspective on Social Realism by contextualizing it within the burgeoning new media environment of Victorian London Paintings labelled as Social Realist by Luke Fildes Frank Holl and Hubert Herkomer are frequently considered to typify the sentimental Victorian genre painting that quickly became outdated with the development of modernism Yet this book argues that the paintings must be considered as the result of the new experiences of modernity the urban poverty that the paintings represent and most importantly the advent of the mass produced illustrated news Fildes Holl and Herkomer worked for The Graphic a publication launched in 1869 as a rival to the dominant Illustrated London News The artists illustrations which featured the growing problem of urban poverty became the basis for large scale paintings that provoked controversy among their contemporaries and later became known as Social Realism This first in depth study of The Graphic and Social Realism uses the approach of media archaeology to unearth the modernity of these works showing that they engaged with the changing notions of objectivity and immediacy that nineteenth century new media cultivated In doing so this book proposes an alternative trajectory for the development of modernism that allows for a richer understanding of nineteenth century visual culture

Scottish Art since 1960 Craig Richardson, 2017-07-05 Craig Richardson here addresses key areas of cultural politics and identity in a way that not only illuminates the development of Scottish art but teases out another strand of the plurality of developments which led to the success of artists throughout the UK in the 1990s It is of the highest relevance whether one's perspective is that of the development of the Scottish art British art or European art of this period The book adds significantly to our knowledge of the art of this period in a way that will aid not only our historical understanding but our understanding of the dynamics of art practice today Providing an analysis and including discussion interviewing artists curators and critics and accessing non catalogued personal archives towards a new chronology Richardson here examines and proposes a sequence of precisely denoted exemplary works which outlines a self conscious definition of the interrogative term Scottish art Among the artists whose work is discussed are John Latham Simon Starling Alan Johnston Roderick Buchanan Glen Onwin Christine Borland William Johnstone Joan Eardley Alexander Moffat Douglas Gordon Alan Smith Graeme Fagen Ross Sinclair and many others The discussion culminates in a critically original demonstration of the scope for further research and practice within the subject facilitating national cultural debate on the character of Scottish national visual art The American Art Review ,1880 The Consolidated Encyclopedic Library

Orison Swett Marden,1903 Art Worlds Roberta Wue,2014-12-09 The growth of Shanghai in the late nineteenth century gave rise to an exciting new art world in which a flourishing market in popular art became a highly visible part of the treaty port s commercialized culture Art Worlds examines the relationship between the city s visual artists and their urban audiences Through a discussion of images ranging from fashionable painted fans to lithograph illustrated magazines the book explores how popular art intersected with broader cultural trends It also investigates the multiple roles played by the modern Chinese artist as image maker entrepreneur celebrity and urban sojourner Focusing on industrially produced images mass advertisements and other hitherto neglected sources the book offers a new interpretation of late Qing visual culture at a watershed moment in the history of modern Chinese art Art Worlds will be of interest to scholars of art history and to anyone with an interest in the cultural history of modern China By focusing on objects sites social networks and technologies this elegantly conceived book enriches our understanding of art production and consumption in nineteenth century Shanghai The author makes masterful use of newspapers guidebooks diaries and advertisements as well as paintings to present readers with the compelling story of a city and its artists Tobie Meyer Fong author of What Remains Coming to Terms with Civil War in 19th Century China and Building Culture in Early Qing Yangzhou Rich in findings forensic in visual analysis and not least elegantly crafted Wue s book on painting printing and the social worlds of art in late Qing Shanghai is an exemplary contribution A must read volume Shane McCausland author of Zhao Mengfu Calligraphy and Painting for Khubilai s China
