The Next 50 Years On The Moon:

The Next 50 Years on the Moon Erik Bergaust, 1974 Describes a projected colony on the moon which will serve as a base for the exploration of other planets Origins and the Next 50 Years Robert Shapiro, 1997-01-01 The accounts given by extraterrestrials in this volume are about events that occurred in our solar system many millions of years ago In that ancient time the solar system consisted of four planets and four radiar systems that orbited the central sun The four planets of the solar system are known today as Venus Earth Mars and a now totally shattered world that was called Maldec The term radiar applies to the astronomical bodies we presently call Jupiter Saturn Uranus and Neptune The original satellites of these radiars are generally called moons by Earth astronomers but the extraterrestrials prefer to call them planetoids This book reflects the personal views of a number of different types of extraterrestrials regarding the state of the local solar system and the state of the Earth NASA 50th Anniversary Proceedings: NASA's First 50 Years: Historical Perspectives Steven J. Dick, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, 2010-07-07 On 29 July 1958 President Dwight D Eisenhower signed the National Aeronautics and Space Act creating the National Aeronautics and Space Administration NASA which became operational on 1 October of that year Over the next 50 years NASA achieved a set of spectacular feats ranging from advancing the well established field of aeronautics to pioneering the new fields of Earth and space science and human spaceflight In the midst of the geopolitical context of the Cold War 12 Americans walked on the Moon arriving in peace for all mankind Humans saw their home planet from a new perspective with unforgettable Apollo images of Earthrise and the Blue Marble as well as the pale blue dot from the edge of the solar system A flotilla of spacecraft has studied Earth while other spacecraft have probed the depths of the solar system and the universe beyond In the 1980s the evolution of aeronautics gave us the first winged human spacecraft the Space Shuttle and the International Space Station stands as a symbol of human cooperation in space as well as a possible way station to the stars With the Apollo fire and two Space Shuttle accidents NASA has also seen the depths of tragedy In this volume a wide array of scholars turn a critical eye toward NASA s first 50 years probing an institution widely seen as the premier agency for exploration in the world carrying on a long tradition of exploration by the United States and the human species in general Fifty years after its founding NASA finds itself at a crossroads that historical perspectives can only help to illuminate NASA EP. United States. National Aeronautics and Space Administration, 1982 The American Statistical Arithmetic Francis Henney Smith, 1845 Space and the American Imagination Howard E. McCurdy, 2011-03 People dreamed of cosmic exploration winged spaceships and lunar voyages space stations and robot astronauts long before it actually happened Space and the American Imagination traces the emergence of space travel in the popular mind its expression in science fiction and its influence on national space programs Space exploration dramatically illustrates the power of imagination Howard E McCurdy shows how that power inspired people to attempt what they once deemed impossible In a mere half century since the launch of the first Earth orbiting satellite in 1957 humans achieved much of what they had once only read about in the fiction of Jules Verne and H G Wells and the nonfiction of Willy Ley Reaching these goals however required broad based support and McCurdy examines how advocates employed familiar metaphors to excite interest promising for example that space exploration would recreate the American frontier experience and prepare the public for daring missions into space When unexpected realities and harsh obstacles threatened their progress the space community intensified efforts to make their wildest dreams come true This lively and important work remains relevant given contemporary questions about future plans at NASA Fully revised and updated since its original publication in 1997 Space and the American Imagination includes a reworked introduction and conclusion and new chapters on robotics and space commerce

A Synopsis of Practical Philosophy John Carr,1843

The NASA Program in the 1990s and Beyond ,1988 Humans in Outer Space - Interdisciplinary Odysseys Luca Codignola-Bo,Kai-Uwe Schrogl,2009-06-18 Humans and space When faced with the issue of space exploration one generally has an idea of the elds of study and disciplines that are involved technology physics and chemistry robotics astronomy and planetary science space biology and medicine disciplines which are usually referred to as the sciences In recent discussions the human element of space exploration has attracted more and more the interest of the space sciences As a consequence adjacent disciplines have gained in relevance in space exploration and space research in times when human space ights are almost part of everyday life These disciplines include psychology and sociology but also history philosophy anthropology cultural studies political sciences and law The cont bution of knowledge in these elds plays an important role in achieving the next generation of space exploration where humans will resume exploring the Moon and eventually Mars and wherespacetourism isbeginningtobedeveloped With regard to technology one might soon be prepared for this Much less is this the case with space exploration by humans rather than by robots Robotic explorations to other planets across the solar system have developed in the past 50 years since the beginning of the space age with the presence of humans in nearby space and the landing on the Moon Space exploration is now not only focused on technological achievements
