Nearly a decade later Postwar Revisited returns to these debates to present an image of a historical period in which Western conceptions of art aesthetics and philosophy are all thrown into intense flux after Auschwitz and Hiroshima while the cultural energies of decolonization generate myriad artistic and intellectual practices across the globe which re-engage the connections of art to life itself. Focusing on modernist artists, artist collectives and architects central to dissonant regional traditions as well as influential exhibitions and patronage systems, the contributors produce a new understanding of emergent postwar global art. Provoking new ways of thinking, engaging and narrating art history, Postwar Revisited is essential reading for those interested in debates on global art history and global modernism, the intersections between art and decolonization, the cultural aspects of the Cold War and the Non-Aligned Movement and modern and contemporary art more generally. Contributors: Iftikhar Dadi, Okwui Enwezor, Patrick Flores, Hal Foster, Boris Groys, Atreyee Gupta, Elizabeth Harney, Jennifer Josten, Vivian Li, Tara McDowell, Alexandra Munroe, Nada Shabout, Terry Smith, Jenni Sorkin, Ming Tiampo.

Henry Moore Bibliography: 1986-1991, together with supplementary 1898-1986 publications ,1992    The Aesthetics of Mythmaking in German Postwar Culture André Fischer,2024-03-15. Myths are a central part of our reality. But merely debunking them lets us forget why they are created in the first place and why we need them. Andr. Fischer draws on key examples from German postwar culture from novelists Hans Henny Jahnn and Hubert Fichte to sculptor and performance artist Joseph Beuys and filmmaker Werner Herzog to show that mythmaking is an indispensable human practice in times of crisis. Against the background of mythologies based in nineteenth-century romanticism and their ideological continuation in Nazism, fresh forms of mythmaking in the narrative, visual and performative arts emerged as an aesthetic paradigm in postwar modernism. Boldly rewriting the cultural history of an era and setting in transition The Aesthetics of Mythmaking in German Postwar Culture counters the predominant narrative of an exclusively rational Vergangenheitsbewältigung coming to terms with the past. Far from being merely reactionary, the turn toward myth offered a dimension of existential orientation that had been neglected by other influential aesthetic paradigms of the postwar period. Fischer's wide-ranging transmedia account offers an inclusive perspective on myth beyond storytelling and instead develops mythopoesis as a formal strategy of modernism at large.    Expanding Universe Al Held,David S. Rubin,Contemporary Arts Center (New Orleans, La.),2002    The Culture Industry Revisited Deborah Cook,1996-05-01. As the culture wars continue to dominate
