millennium      Melville and the Theme of Boredom Daniel Paliwoda, 2010-01-13 Boredom is a prevalent theme in Herman Melville's works Rather than a passing fancy or a device for drawing attention to the action that also permeates his work boredom is central to the writings the author argues He contends that in Melville's mature work especially Moby Dick boredom presents itself as an insidious presence in the lives of Melville's characters until it matures from being a mere killer of time into a killer of souls      The Routledge Handbook of Corpus Linguistics Anne O'Keeffe, Michael McCarthy, 2010-04-05 Provides an overview of a dynamic and rapidly growing area with a widely applied methodology This handbook covers the historical development of the field and its growing influence and application in other areas It is suitable for advanced undergraduates and postgraduates      Sing for Your Life Daniel Bergner, 2015-01-06 The New York Times bestseller about a young black man's journey from violence and despair to the threshold of stardom A beautiful tribute to the power of good teachers Terry Gross Fresh Air One of the most inspiring stories I've come across in a long time Pamela Paul New York Times Book Review Ryan Speedo Green had a tough upbringing in southeastern Virginia his family lived in a trailer park and later a bullet riddled house across the street from drug dealers His father was absent his mother was volatile and abusive At the age of twelve Ryan was sent to Virginia's juvenile facility of last resort He was placed in solitary confinement He was uncontrollable uncontainable with little hope for the future In 2011 at the age of twenty four Ryan won a nationwide competition hosted by New York's Metropolitan Opera beating out 1 200 other talented singers Today he is a rising star performing major roles at the Met and Europe's most prestigious opera houses Sing for Your Life chronicles Ryan's suspenseful racially charged and artistically intricate journey from solitary confinement to stardom Daniel Bergner takes readers on Ryan's path toward redemption introducing us to a cast of memorable characters including the two teachers from his childhood who redirect his rage into music and his long lost father who finally reappears to hear Ryan sing Bergner illuminates all that it takes technically creatively to find and foster the beauty of the human voice And Sing for Your Life sheds unique light on the enduring and complex realities of race in America      Climate Trauma E. Ann Kaplan, 2015-12-04 Each month brings new scientific findings that demonstrate the ways in which human activities from resource extraction to carbon emissions are doing unprecedented perhaps irreparable damage to our world As we hear these climate change reports and their predictions for the future of Earth many of us feel a sickening sense of déjà vu as though we have already seen the sad outcome to this story Drawing from recent scholarship that analyzes climate change as a form of slow violence that humans are inflicting on the environment Climate Trauma theorizes that such violence is accompanied by its own psychological condition what its author terms Pretraumatic Stress Disorder Examining a variety of films that imagine a dystopian future renowned media scholar E Ann Kaplan considers how the increasing ubiquity of these works has exacerbated our sense of impending dread But she also explores ways these films might help us productively engage with our anxieties giving us a seemingly prophetic glimpse of the terrifying future selves we might still work to avoid becoming Examining dystopian classics like Soylent Green alongside more recent examples like The Book of Eli Climate Trauma also stretches the limits of the genre to include features such as Blindness The Happening Take Shelter and a number of documentaries on climate change. These eclectic texts allow Kaplan to outline the typical blind spots of the genre which rarely depicts climate catastrophe from the vantage point of women or minorities. Lucidly synthesizing cutting edge research in media studies psychoanalytic theory and environmental science Climate Trauma provides us with the tools we need to extract something useful from our nightmares of a catastrophic future.

Ends of Assimilation John Alba Cutler, 2015 Ends of Assimilation examines how Chicano literature imagines the conditions and costs of cultural change arguing that its thematic preoccupation with assimilation illuminates the function of literature. John Alba Cutler shows how mid century sociologists advanced a model of assimilation that ignored the interlinking of race gender and sexuality and characterized American culture as homogeneous stable and exceptional. He demonstrates how Chicano literary works from the postwar period to the present understand culture as dynamic and self consciously promote literature as a medium for influencing the direction of cultural change. With original analyses of works by canonical and noncanonical writers from Amrico Paredes Sandra Cisneros and Jimmy Santiago Baca to Estela Portillo Trambly Alfredo V a and Patricia Santana Ends of Assimilation demands that we reevaluate assimilation literature and the very language we use to talk about culture.

The Buck, the Black, and the Existential Hero James B. Haile, 2020-04-15 Outstanding Academic Title CHOICE The Buck the Black and the Existential Hero Refiguring the Black Male Literary Canon 1850 to Present combines philosophy literary theory and jazz studies with Africana studies to develop a theory of the black male literary imagination. In doing so it seeks to answer fundamental aesthetic and existential questions. How does the experience of being black and male in the modern West affect the telling of a narrative the shape or structure of a novel the development of characters and plot lines and the nature of criticism itself. James B Haile argues that since black male identity is largely fluid and open to interpretation reinterpretation and misinterpretation the literature of black men has developed flexibility and improvisation termed the jazz of life. Our reading of this literature requires the same kind of flexibility and improvisation to understand what is being said and why as well as what is not being said and why. Finally the book attempts to offer this new reading experience by placing texts by well known authors such as Frederick Douglass Ralph Ellison and Colson Whitehead in conversation with texts by those who are less well known and those who have for the most part been forgotten in particular Cecil Brown. Doing so challenges the reader to visit and revisit these novels with a new perspective about the social political historical and psychic realities of black men.
