The Occult A Falconlet:

A Cultural History of Early Modern English Cryptography Manuals Katherine Ellison, 2016-06-10 During and after the English civil wars between 1640 and 1690 an unprecedented number of manuals teaching cryptography were published almost all for the general public While there are many surveys of cryptography none pay any attention to the volume of manuals that appeared during the seventeenth century or provide any cultural context for the appearance design or significance of the genre during the period On the contrary when the period s cryptography writings are mentioned they are dismissed as esoteric impractical and useless Yet as this book demonstrates seventeenth century cryptography manuals show us one clear beginning of the capitalization of information In their pages intelligence as private message and as mental ability becomes a central commodity in the emergence of England s capitalist media state Publications boasting the disclosure of secrets had long been popular particularly for English readers with interests in the occult but it was during these particular decades of the seventeenth century that cryptography emerged as a permanent bureaucratic function for the English government a fashionable activity for the stylish English reader and a respected discipline worthy of its own genre These manuals established cryptography as a primer for intelligence a craft able to identify and test particular mental abilities deemed smart and useful for England s financial future Through close readings of five specific primary texts that have been ignored not only in cryptography scholarship but also in early modern literary scientific and historical studies this book allows us to see one origin of disciplinary division in the popular imagination and in the university when particular broad fields the sciences the mechanical arts and the liberal arts came to be viewed as more or less profitable Graham's Magazine George R. Graham, Edgar Allan Poe, 1855 Chaucer and the Death of the Political Animal Jameson S. Workman, 2015-10-21 Drawing from classical myth the history of philosophy literature film music and painting Workman connects the artistic claims of Chaucer and tests them against similar gestures in the history of philosophy and literature What results is a radical retake on Chaucer as a philosopher and poet upending any preconceived views Paul Ernst's Game; and who Won It? Louise (Chandler) Moulton, 1855 Graham's American Monthly Magazine of Literature, Art, and Fashion , 1855 Graham's American Monthly Magazine of Literature, Art, and Fashion George R. The Falling Sickness Owsei Temkin, 1994-03 A thoroughly admirable and informative introduction to our knowledge of epilepsy in the Western world from antiquity to the early twentieth century American Scientist Owsei Temkin presents the history of epilepsy in Western civilization from ancient times to the beginnings of modern neurology First published in 1945 and thoroughly revised in 1971 this classic work by one of the history of medicine s most eminent scholars now returns to print available in both paperback and eBook formats The Missionary Review of the World , 1889 Our Greatest Writers John Carrington, 2003 Carrington takes the reader on an exploration of English literary heritage by reading small digestible sections which form an ordered programme. Meet all the major English writers who they were what they wrote their finest work and its significance. Effects of Atmospheric Pollutants on Forests, Wetlands and Agricultural Ecosystems T.C. Hutchinson, K.M. Meema, 2013-06-29 T C Hutchinson The NATO Advanced Research Workshop detailed in this volume was held in Toronto Canada in 1985. The purpose of the Workshop was to provide a state of the art report on our knowledge of the sensitivities and responses of forests wetlands and crops to airborne pollutants. Approximately 40 scientific experts from nine countries participated. Most participants were actively involved in research concerning the effects of air pollutants on natural or agro ecosystems. These pollutants included acidic deposition heavy metal particulates sulphur dioxide ozone nitrogen oxides acid fogs and mixtures of these. Also invited were experts on various types of ecosystem stresses physiological mechanisms pertinent to acid deposition and other areas that were felt by the director to be of direct relevance including effects of ethylene on vegetation the physiology of drought in trees the nature and role of plant cuticles as barriers to acid rain penetration the use of dendrochronological techniques in reconstructing the time of onset and the subsequent progression of growth declines the ability of soils to naturally generate acidity the role of Sphagnum moss in natural peat land acidity the use of lichens as indicators of changing air quality and the magnitude of natural emissions of reduced sulphur gases from tropical rainforests and temperate deciduous forests. The Workshop included a series of invited presentations and subsequent group discussions. These presentations were designed to allow syntheses of our present knowledge as well as detailed questioning and discussion.

Visions of England Paul Dave, 2006-03-01 Visions of England is a provocative and original exploration of Englishness in particular English class in contemporary cinema. Class has been a central part whether consciously or not of much of English social analysis and artistic production for over a century. But as a way of interpreting society class has found itself sidelined in a postmodern world. Visions of England presents a detailed analysis of the changing landscape of English class and culture. Visions of England explores a wide range of film production from gangster thrillers like Lock Stock Two Smoking Barrels to the period cinema of Elizabeth from cult classics like Performance and Trainspotting to the mainstream romantic comedy of Notting Hill and Bridget Jones from the social realist drama of Billy Elliot and The Full Monty to the multicultural comedy of Bend Sinister like Beckham and the experimentalism of films such as London Orbital and Robinson in Space. An extraordinarily wide ranging and incisive study. Visions of England rewrites the relationship of film and Englishness.

An Introduction to Literature for Students of English as a Foreign Language K. Thomas Baby, 2024-04-19 This textbook is the result of the author's long experience of teaching introductory English literature courses and the non availability of a suitable textbook for EFL English as a foreign language students. The books currently available in the market are beyond the comprehension level of average EFL students. In order to fill this gap and give a solid foundation to students the initial chapters of the book deal with important literary terms and a brief history of English literature In addition the book provides various types of comprehension questions focussing on the needs of EFL students Finally the book consists of carefully selected materials for the study of fiction poetry and drama from authors representing different ages of English literature This compact textbook can be considered as an excellent resource for all EFL students and teachers around the world Supplement to the Catalogue (issued in 1884) of the Circulating and a Portion of the Intermediate Departments, Worcester, 1889 Worcester Public Library, 1889 Dryland Ecohydrology Paolo D'Odorico, Amilcare Porporato, Christiane Wilkinson Runyan, 2019-10-26 By combining the analysis of biotic and abiotic components of terrestrial ecosystems this book synthesizes material on arid and semiarid landscapes which was previously scattered among various books and journal articles It focuses on water limited ecosystems which are highly sensitive to fluctuations in hydrologic conditions and in turn play an important role in affecting the regional water cycle Intended as a tool for scientists working in the area of the earth and environmental sciences this book presents the basic principles of eco hydrology as well as a broad spectrum of topics and advances in this research field Written by authors with diverse areas of expertise who work in arid areas around the world the contributions describe the various interactions between the biological and physical dynamics in dryland ecosystems ranging from basic processes in the soil vegetation climate system to landscape scale hydrologic and geomorphic processes ecohydrologic controls on soil nutrient dynamics and multiscale analyses of disturbances and patterns Contesting Earth's History in Transatlantic Literary Culture, 1860-1935 Richard Fallon, 2025-02-14 By the mid nineteenth century geologists and palaeontologists had reconstructed an authoritative narrative of Earth s deep history from the planet s molten origins to the rise of humanity Many figures in transatlantic science across subsequent decades however had problems with this narrative it was too secular inhuman and evolutionary or controlled too exclusively by elite scientists Speaking from palaeoscience s unevenly professionalized and controversy racked borders Christian fundamentalists charismatic psychics and respected scholars alike voiced their objections Until now no study has brought their work together for detailed comparative analysis Spanning from the 1860s to the interwar decades Contesting Earth s History examines the fascinating stories of five significant examples of fringe or borderline palaeoscience old and young earth creationism hollow earth theory clairvoyant time travel and sunken continent catastrophism Innovatively combining methods from literary studies with the history of science this book attends not just to the conceptual content of these strange sciences but also to their proponents communication of truth claims through diverse genres ranging from the scientific textbook and the technical monograph to the lost world romance and the epic poem By paying close attention to the hitherto overlooked textual forms and literary strategies of these works of pseudoscience this volume throws into relief the variant conceptions of audience evidence and method that jostled and competed in wider scientific culture during this period It also demonstrates that for all their diversity authors of borderline palaeoscience shared the desire to shift the balance of power creating textual spaces where exclusive hierarchies of scientific expertise could be levelled away These conjurors of lost worlds often captivated wide audiences and many of their bizarre astonishing and iconoclastic ideas remain with us to this day Some even inspired early science fiction by the likes of H P Lovecraft and Edgar Rice Burroughs Hijacking geologists and palaeontologists longstanding effort at making the prehistoric past visible authors on the borderlines of palaeoscience asserted their right to scientific authority and encouraged readers to gaze into time s abyss with bold new eyes Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly Frank Leslie,1894 A Guide to Occult Books and Sacred Writings of the Ages A.
