The Occupation And Annexation Of Latvia 1939-1940 Documents And Materials:

The Occupation and Annexation of Latvia, 1939-1940 Ilga Grava-Kreituse, 1995 Historical Dictionary of Latvia Aldis Purs, Andrejs Plakans, 2017-05-02 Latvia is located on the eastern shore of the Baltic Sea After a brief period of independence between the two World Wars Latvia was annexed by the USSR in 1940 It reestablished its independence in 1991 following the breakup of the Soviet Union Although the last Russian troops left in 1994 Latvia continues to revamp its economy for eventual integration into various Western European political and economic institutions Since May 2004 Latvia is a member of the European Union This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Latvia contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 500 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Latvia International and National Law in Russia and Eastern Europe Ferdinand J.M. Feldbrugge, Roger Clark, Stanislaw Pomorski, 2021-11-22 The disappearance of the USSR as a superpower to be replaced by the Russian Federation and a host of new states has had wide ranging consequences in the field of law The establishment of market economies and the need to set up institutional frameworks to foster the rule of law have precipitated comprehensive domestic law reforms in the countries concerned The major focus of the present work however is on the metamorphosis of the network of international law relations brought about by the fundamental change in the political and constitutional climate and the emergence of numerous new actors Apart from the relations between states as the classical province of international law the impact of international law on national legal orders has acquired overwhelming importance and the successor states of the Soviet Union have not escaped the effect of this development Some of the most urgent questions thrown up by these developments are analyzed by a team of leading legal specialists from the Russian Federation North America and Western Europe Alfred Valdmanis and the Politics of Survival Gerhard P. Bassler, 2000-01-01 Valdmanis's wily political manoeuvring in Latvia Germany and Canada from 1938 to 1954 is more the stuff of fiction than history Policy of Occupation Powers in Latvia, 1939-1991 E. Pelkaus, Andrejs Veisbergs, 1999 The Rise and Fall of the Soviet Navy in the Baltic 1921-1941 Gunnar Åselius, 2005-01-10 This book based on extensive work in Russian archives investigates how strategy organisational rivalry and cultural factors came to shape naval developments in the Soviet Union up to the invasion of 1941 Occupation of Latvia, 2004 International Law from a Baltic Perspective Ineta Ziemele, 2020-11-04 Celebrating the 20th anniversary of the Baltic Yearbook of International Law this volume contains a selection of articles chosen by the editors to showcase the Yearbook's important contribution to international legal scholarship and practice It thus offers ground breaking articles within several areas of international law including international humanitarian law international human rights law peaceful settlement of disputes European Union law and the history of international law Naturally issues relevant to the international legal status of the Baltic States and the consequences of their occupation by the Soviet Union are also explored as well as questions relevant to transitional justice and the collapse of communism Finally articles on new areas such as bioethics and cyberspace are also included showing where the development of science prompts the need for legal regulation This wide ranging selection reflects the Yearbook's aim to offer a unique forum among international legal periodicals where the past meets the future

Northern European Overture to War, 1939-1941, 2013-05-24 While the German invasion of Poland in September 1939 was a pivotal moment in European history and precipitated the outbreak of the Second World War western historiography has largely neglected Northern Europe Two questions dominated the course of events the Anglo German contest for control of the access to the Atlantic Ocean and the Soviet German contest for control of their former territories as a precursor to the future Total War they expected to wage against each other This anthology of 23 essays considers both these issues collectively and provides a new international perspective on the region's transition from the relative peace of the interwar era to the all out war following the German invasion of the Soviet Union in 1941 Contributors are Azar Gat Michael Epkenhans Andrew Lambert Tom Kristiansen Rolf Hobson Gunnar selius J rg Hillmann Werner Rahn S awomir D bski Ole Kristian Grimnes eslovas Laurinavi ius Alfred Erich Senn Lars Ericson Wolke Karl Erik Haug Boris Vadimovich Sokolov Toomas Hiio Magnus Ilmj rv Palle Roslyng Jensen Hans Christian Bjerg Valters erbinskis Michael H Clemmesen and Marcus Faulkner

Latvia in World War II Valdis O. Lumans, 2006 Valdis Lumans provides an authoritative balanced and comprehensive account of one of the most complex and conflicted arenas of the Second World War Struggling against both Germany and the Soviet Union Latvia emerged as an independent nation state after the First World War In 1940 the Soviets occupied neutral Latvia deporting or executing more than 30 000 Latvians before the Nazis invaded in 1941 and installed a puppet regime The Red Army expelled the Germans in 1944 and reincorporated Latvia as a Soviet Republic By the end of the war an estimated 180 000 Latvians fled to the West The Soviets would deport at least another 100 000 Drawing on a wide range of sources many brought together here for the first time Lumans synthesizes political military social economic diplomatic and cultural history He moves carefully through traditional sources many of them partisan to scholarship emerging since the end of the Cold War to confront such issues as political loyalties military collaboration resistance capitulation the Soviet occupation anti-Semitism and the Latvian role in the Holocaust

State Continuity and Nationality: The Baltic States and Russia Ineta Ziemele, 2025-09-01 Political changes in Central and Eastern Europe in the 1990s led to important territorial changes and confronted decision makers and international lawyers with complex questions relevant to State continuity and succession The case of the Baltic States was particularly difficult since they re-emerged after half a century of Soviet occupation In addition to questions on the status of new States important issues arose with regard to the fate of nationals of the former federations generating frantic international efforts in developing and consolidating available rules and principles on nationality in situations of territorial change In this context the Baltic case stood apart It raised questions of non recognition of consequences of their illegal occupation in international law but that was not the way the issues were dealt with. The book documents and examines the story of the Soviet occupation of the Baltic States in 1940 and their claim to State continuity fifty years later. It brings in the issue of the obligations of Russia in this context. The book asks the question what nationality solutions had to be adopted in the region and shows the scrutiny they received from international institutions. This second edition of the book revisits decisions that were taken in the 1990s and asks whether they have withstood the test of time. The case of the Baltic States is an example of the strength of international law rules when applied with courage and of the risks when too many compromises with rules and principles are accepted. Although the book is specific in its coverage it is of general importance because it draws conclusions concerning developments in law and practice which are relevant for a better understanding and regulation of statehood and nationality in international law.

Baltic Yearbook of International Law, 2003 Ineta Ziemele, 2003. The Baltic Yearbook of International Law is an annual publication containing contributions on topical issues in international law and related fields that are relevant to Baltic affairs and beyond. In addition to articles on different aspects of international law each Yearbook focuses on a theme with particular importance to the development of international law. Volume 3 contains contributions that were presented at or inspired by the conference entitled 'Reparations to States Groups and Individuals: Implementation of State Responsibility' organised on the occasion of the inauguration of the Yearbook. Undoubtedly there are many difficult legal and political questions surrounding the implementation of the law of State responsibility and this volume addresses only some of them. The contributions disclose several fundamental questions concerning the implementation of State responsibility: Can or should the general principles of State responsibility such as the obligation of full reparation be modified when applied within a specific framework of a treaty regime? Can or should these principles be modified when a treaty embodies rights that are generally considered to have achieved the character of jus cogens norms? How to enforce the obligation of reparations between States when one of them does not recognise any such obligation? One way or another all articles published in this volume raise the issue of ways and means to ensure the compliance of States with their international obligations and their responsibility in case of violations of these obligations.
