The Of Eve New Canadian Library:

New Canadian Library Janet Friskney, 2015-05-07 In the mid 1950s much Canadian literature was out of print making it relatively inaccessible to readers including those studying the subject in schools and universities When English professor Malcolm Ross approached Toronto publisher Jack McClelland in 1952 to propose a Canadian literary reprint series it was still the accepted wisdom among publishers that Canadian literature was of insufficient interest to the educational market to merit any great publishing risks Eventually convinced by Ross that a latent market for Canadian literary reprints did indeed exist McClelland Stewart launched the New Canadian Library NCL series in 1958 with Ross as its general editor In 2008 the NCL will celebrate a half century of publication In New Canadian Library Janet B Friskney takes the reader through the early history of the NCL series focusing on the period up to 1978 when Malcolm Ross retired as general editor A wealth of archival resources published reviews and the NCL volumes themselves are used to survey the working relationship between Ross and McClelland as well as the collaborative participation of those who through the middle decades of the twentieth century were committed to studying and nurturing Canada's literary heritage To place the New Canadian Library in its proper historical context Friskney examines the simultaneous development of Canadian literary studies as a legitimate area of research and teaching in academe and acknowledges the NCL as a milestone in Canadian publishing history The Book of Eve

Stevens,1975 Domination Alkis Kontos,1975-12-15 One is usually conscious of tyranny and oppression domination is more subtle It is an abandonment of our freedom our will and our love of justice and yet socially psychologically and ontologically domination in some degree seems inevitable There is now in the western world an uneasy sense that more domination is going on than necessary and this work tries to outline the theoretic modalities of this human predicament The twelve essays in Domination examine such questions as Does the ego of the infant require for its development some experiences of dominance Is it men or the system that causes the domination of women How has capitalism with its property laws entailed limits on national and personal freedom What do existentialism and critical theory have to tell us about violence and reason or about magic and science as modes of life that constrain everyone What is racialism And if the world is beyond the powers of reason what does modern man now make his public and private raison d tre Those who are looking for amelioration of the quality and quantity of human freedom will find this book helpful in defining and cracking the chains The contributors in order of their appearance of their essays are O Weininger Elizabeth Brady R T Naylor R O Matthews C B

Love and Sex Nieli Langer,2024-12-06 Our parents and grandparents do have sex There I ve said it Love and Sex Are we ever too old is an opportunity to revisit the idea that the need for love and sex regardless of age gender sexual orientation or marital status is normal and natural The book is a collage of photos of older couples cartoons selected poetry about sexuality and couplehood as well as reviews of books and films that have celebrated late life love and sexuality The book is an original way to teach adult children grandchildren and the current cohorts of aging individuals to understand and accept the sexuality of maturing adults In so doing they can help transform the meaning of love and sexuality up to the very limits of life itself Annual Supplement to the Catalogue of the Library of Parliament in Alphabetical and Subject Order ... Canada.
