The North Pennines Landscape Landscape Assessments:

The North Pennines Landscape ,1991-01-01 The North Pennines from Prehistory to Present Paul Frodsham,Martin Green,Greg Finch,2024-11-14 The first comprehensive survey of the archaeology of the North Pennines from Mesolithic to modern times Traces of 10 000 years of human activity survive today including flint scatters at Mesolithic campsites earthworks of prehistoric and later settlements and field systems and extensive remnants of the post medieval miner farmer landscape Routledge Handbook of Landscape Character Assessment Graham Fairclough,Ingrid Sarlöv Herlin,Carys Swanwick,2018-05-11 In this multi authored book senior practitioners and researchers offer an international overview of landscape character approaches for those working in research policy and practice relating to landscape Over the last three decades European practice in landscape has moved from a narrow if relatively straightforward focus on natural beauty or scenery to a much broader concept of landscape character constructed through human perception and transcending any of its individual elements Methods tools and techniques have been developed to give practical meaning to this idea of landscape character The two main methods Landscape Character Assessment LCA and Historic Landscape Characterisation HLC were applied first in the United Kingdom but other methods are in use elsewhere in Europe and beyond to achieve similar ends This book explores why different approaches exist the extent to which disciplinary or cultural specificities in different countries affect approaches to land management and landscape planning and highlights areas for reciprocal learning and knowledge transfer Contributors to the book focus on examples of European countries such as Sweden Turkey and Portugal that have adopted and extended UK style landscape characterisation but also on countries with their own distinctive approaches that have developed from different conceptual roots as in Germany France and the Netherlands The collection is completed by chapters looking at landscape approaches based on non European concepts of landscape in North America Australia and New Zealand This book has an introductory price of 125 205 which will last until 3 months after publication after this time it will revert to 140 225 The Economic Valuation of Landscape Change José Manuel L. Santos,1998-12-18 The increase in landscape degradation in the last decades has resulted in a growing public concern for policies to conserve the countryside This book presents theories of valuation and economic welfare which are applied to policies to conserve the landscape Environmental agricultural and ecological economists will be interested in this book as will geographers and those involved in planning and countryside management After the European landscape convention Angioletta Voghera,2011 Landscapes at Risk? Edward Holdaway,Gerald Smart,2013-07-04 The purpose of this book is to examine the role that Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty AONB have in the protection of the landscape The authors draw upon experience in the UK and abroad Countryside Planning Kevin Bishop,Adrian Phillips,2012-05-23 Annotation Major and comprehensive new volume on countryside planning and management Edited and with contributions by the leading authorities in the field Essential reading on the future of the countryside for all professionals organizations teachers and students The drivers of countryside management and conservation are increasingly international and European They aim to provide comprehensive new frameworks for the whole countryside and community driven planning and protection This book examines the impact and effectiveness of these approaches their integration and practical value drawing on a range of highly relevant case studies The result is a volume that provides a fully up to date review and analysis of the pressures on the countryside the policies for the future and the keys to successful implementation Field Sketching and the Experience of Landscape Janet Swailes,2016-06-17 The act of field sketching allows us to experience the landscape first hand rather than reliance upon plans maps and photographs at a distance back in the studio Aimed primarily at landscape architects Janet Swailes takes the reader on a journey through the art of field sketching providing guidance and tips to develop skills from those starting out on a design course to those looking to improve their sketching Combining techniques from landscape architecture and the craft and sensibilities of arts practice she invites us to experience sensations directly out in the field to enrich our work to look closely at the effects of light and weather understand the lie and shapes of the land through travel and walking and to consider lines of sight from the inside out as well as outside in Full colour throughout with examples checklists and case studies of other sketchers methods this is an inspirational book to encourage landscape architects to spend more time in the field and reconnect with the basics of design through drawing practice

New Light on the Neolithic of Northern England Gill Hey,Paul Frodsham,2021-01-13 These papers highlight recent archaeological work in Northern England in the commercial academic and community archaeology sectors which have fundamentally changed our perspective on the Neolithic of the area Much of this was new work and much is still not published has been overlooked in the national discourse The papers cover a wide geographical area from Lancashire north into the Scottish Lowlands recognising the irrelevance of the England Scotland Border They also take abroad chronological sweep from the Mesolithic Neolithic transition to the introduction of Beakers into the area The key themes are the nature of transition the need for a much improved chronological framework regional variation linked to landscape character links within northern England and with distant places the implications of new dating for our understanding the axe trade the changing nature of settlement and agriculture the character early Neolithic enclosures the need to integrate rock art into wider discourse Drivers of Environmental Change in Uplands Aletta Bonn,Tim Allott,Klaus Hubacek,Jon Stewart,2009-01-13 Addressing policy related issues providing up to date scientific background information and laying out pressing land management questions this interdisciplinary volume identifies and discusses key directions of environmental change in uplands as well as providing an outlook into future management and conservation options responding to these changes Landscapes of the Anthropocene with Google Earth Andrew Goudie,2023-12-06 This book considers the meaning of the term considers the value and characteristics of Google Earth and discusses the main driving forces of landscape change Google Earth provides a means whereby one can identify changes in the landscapes of Earth over recent decades

This has been a time of great human activity and landscapes have been transformed as a result of such factors as land use and land cover change climate change the intensive harnessing of new energy sources population pressures and globalization Many geologists now believe that the whole Earth System is being changed and that there is thus a need to introduce the concept of the Anthropocene It then looks at specific landscape types including rivers coasts lakes deserts tundra and glaciers

Landscape Appreciation David Jacques, 2019-12-02 This book examines the many theories of preferred landscape over the last half century and informs those readers teaching or in landscape practice of the main lines of argument so that they can make up their own minds

The Landscapes of W. H. Auden's Interwar Poetry Ladislav Vít, 2021-12-14 This is the first book length study foregrounding Auden's sense of place as a means for enhancing our grasp of this crucial twentieth century poet Proposing that Auden had a remarkable spatial sensibility this book concentrates on his treatment of his homeland England as well as the North Pennines and Iceland both of which served as his good places holy grounds and sources of topophilic sentiment The readings draw on the scholarship of humanistic geography tracing patterns of mental constructs which emerge from spatial experience In a scholarly but engaging way this book argues that focusing on Auden's poetics of place as it emerged and evolved can be instrumental to our understanding of this influential poet not only in relation to his epoch but also to the Anglophone poetic tradition Precisely because of his stature these elaborations on Auden's preoccupation with places escapism borders and local identity promise to enrich our understanding of the cultural and intellectual climate of the interwar period when established notions of local places and cultures were beginning to be contested by internationalisation This study will be of interest to both academics and students in the field of Anglophone literary studies while also appealing to those attracted to Auden's poetry interwar culture and the literary representation of space

Threatened Landscapes Bryn Green, 2003-09-02 Few if any environments are free of human intervention Often this generates ecosystems which are rich in biodiversity historical interest recreational opportunity and scenic beauty just as worthy of conservation as the more natural ecosystems on which protection programmes have been almost exclusively focussed These cultural landscapes ranging from the farm and forest lands of Europe and Eastern North America through to the pasture lands and savannas of the Middle East and Africa to the paddylands of the Pacific Rim are usually the product of relatively low level sustainable exploitation of the environment over long periods of time Many have survived for centuries if not millennia but now urban expansion depopulation of rural areas and most damagingly the intensification of agricultural and silvicultural practices are everywhere leading to a loss of their cherished biodiversity and amenity Whilst past changes have mostly added to the valued characteristics of these landscapes modern farming and forestry are creating sterile monocultures on the better land whilst marginal lands are being abandoned This book documents these changes illustrates them through detailed case studies of a representative selection of threatened landscapes analyses their underlying causes and explores ways by which they can continue to be maintained or new landscapes created which maintain their desired characteristics
