Reading Sideways Dana Seitler, 2019-07-02 Reading Sideways explores the pivotal role that various art forms played in American literary fiction in direct relation to the politics of gender and sexuality in works of modern American literature It tracks the crosswise circulation of aesthetic ideas in fiction and argues that at stake in the aesthetic turn of these works was not only the theorization of aesthetic experience but also an engagement with political arguments and debates about available modes of sociability and sexual expression To track these engagements its author Dana Seitler performs a method she calls lateral reading a mode of interpretation that moves horizontally through various historical entanglements and across the fields of the arts to make sense of and see in a new light their connections challenges and productive frictions Each chapter takes a different art form as its object sculpture portraiture homecraft and opera These art forms appear in some of the major works of literature of the period central to negotiations of gender race and sexuality including those by Henry James Davis Willa Cather Du Bois Sarah Orne Jewett and Mary Wilkins Freeman But the literary texts that each chapter of this book takes as its motivation not only include a specific art form or object as central to its politics they also build an alternative aesthetic vocabulary through which they seek to alter challenge or participate in the making of social and sexual life By cultivating a counter aesthetics of the unfinished the uncertain the small the low and the allusive these fictions recognize other ways of knowing and being than those oriented toward reductively gendered accounts of beauty classed imperatives established by the norms of taste or apolitical treatises of sexual disinterestedness And within them and through reading sideways we can witness the coming into legibility of a set of diffuse practices that provide a pivot point for engaging the political methods of minoritized subjects at the turn of the twentieth century

The Short Story and Photography, 1880's-1980's Jane Marjorie Rabb,1998 For over a hundred years stories about photographs and photography have reflected the profound uncertainties and inconclusive endings of the modern world For many writers photography supposedly the most realistic of the arts turns out to be the most ambiguous As Jane Rabb observes in her introduction a number of the stories in this collection involve mysteries perhaps because photography has a capacity for both documentary reality and moral and psychological ambiguity Many nineteenth century writers represented here including Thomas Hardy and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle helped make short fiction as respectable as the novel Some of them were even serious photographers themselves The twentieth century is arguably a golden age for both the short story and photography This collection includes examples from a worldly group of writer Eug ne Ionesco Julio Cort zar Michel Tournier and Italo Calvino as well as the Chinese writer Bing Xin and John Updike Cynthia Ozick and Raymond Carver In this wide range of stories varying from sentimental to obsessive to sinister to tragic and even fatal the reader will find provocative examples of the confluence of the short story and photography both once considered the bastard stepchildren of literature and art Masculine Identities Herbert Sussman,2012-03-14 This book provides an intriguing look at the long history of the changing definitions of what it means to be a man identifying both the continuity and disparity in these ideals and explaining the contemporary crisis of masculinity In the classical Athens of Plato and Pericles erotic relations between adolescents and adult men what we now revile as pedophilia was the marker of manliness a clear example of how concepts of masculinity shift Even within modern western society there are conflicting ideals for men they are expected to be both aggressive and unemotional in business and sensitive and caring as a father and lover Masculine Identities The History and Meanings of Manliness provides a comprehensive consideration of what being a man has meant over time A fascinating read for men and women alike it examines masculine identities that emerged in the past and continue into the present such as the warrior the democratic man the craftsman the self made man of business as well as ethnic forms of manliness The work concludes by examining the contemporary issues of male sexuality same sex identity and the conflicts within men in the modern world     Teaching Edith Wharton's Major Novels and Short Fiction Ferdâ Asya,2021-05-13 This book translates recent scholarship into pedagogy for teaching Edith Wharton s widely celebrated and less known fiction to students in the twenty first century It comprises such themes as American and European cultures material culture identity sexuality class gender law history journalism anarchism war addiction disability ecology technology and social media in historical cultural transcultural international and regional contexts It includes Wharton s works compared to those of other authors taught online read in foreign universities and studied in film adaptations
