The Now Generation:

The Rise and Fall of Generation Now Tim Ingold, 2023-11-08 Is the future about to close in or is it open to new horizons For anthropologist Tim Ingold the root of our difficulty in facing up to the future lies in the way we think about generations We imagine them as layers succeeding one another like sheets in a stack This view figures as a largely unquestioned backdrop to discussions of evolution life and death longevity extinction sustainability education climate change and other matters of contemporary concern What if we were to think of generations instead as wrapping around one another along their length more like fibres in a rope than stacked sheets In this compelling new book Ingold argues that a return to the idea that life is forged in the collaboration of overlapping generations might not only assuage some of our anxieties but also offer a lasting foundation for future coexistence But it would mean having to abandon our faith both in the inevitability of progress and in the ability of science and technology to cushion humanity from environmental impacts A perfect world is not around the corner nor will our troubles ever end Nevertheless for as long as life continues there is hope for generations to come Army Logistician, 1980 The official magazine of United States Army logistics

AUSTRALIA-INDONESIA CONNECTION Jemma Purdey ,2021-12-12 In early 2020 Australia and Indonesia entered an historic high point in their bilateral relationship The President of Indonesia Joko Widodo visited Canberra where he addressed the Joint Houses of Parliament and meetings were held to put the final touches on the Indonesia Australia Comprehensive Partnership Agreement IA CEPA Since then tested by the COVID 1 9 pandemic crisis the strength and depth of the Australia Indonesia relationship between governments also business and community organisations and individuals has come more clearly into focus The people to people connectivity that has driven the Australia Indonesia relationship is being re imagined in creative digital ways and in the face of a global economic crisis IA CEPA is a bright spot for potential growth in trade and exchange In response to these trends and opportunities for deepening engagement the chapters in this volume represent research undertaken by Indonesians and Australians working together as part of a collaborative research program initiated by the Australia Indonesia Centre with a focus on thematic areas Youth and Education and Business and Tourism Digital Futures and Connectivity Collectively the research offers insights into what is driving Indonesia s future with a focus on its young people those aged 17 35 years are the largest single demographic group in Indonesia digital technologies and an increasingly mobile middle class What is shaping the outlook of young Indonesians on the world and their relations with their regional neighbours including Australia How are Indonesians using digital technologies for social and commercial exchange in ways that are making them increasingly open to international connections What kinds of experiences are Indonesia s increasingly mobile middle classes looking for when they travel overseas for education or leisure What does this mean in terms of opportunities for greater connectivity and exchange within the Australia Indonesia relationship after the crisis has subsided and beyond

Critique of Information Scott Lash, 2002-01-21 This penetrating book raises questions about how power operates in contemporary society It explains how the speed of information flows has eroded the separate space needed for critical reflection It argues that there is no longer an outside to the global flows of communication and that the critique of information must take place within the information itself The operative unit of the information society is the idea With the demise of depth reflection reflexivity through the idea now operates external to the subject in its circulation through networks of humans and intelligent machines It is these ideas that make the critique of information possible This book is a major testament to the prospects of culture politics and theory in the global information society

No One to Meet Raphael Falco,2022-10-18 A groundbreaking appreciation of Dylan as a literary practitioner WINNER OF THE ELIZABETH AGEE PRIZE IN AMERICAN LITERATURE The literary establishment tends to regard Bob Dylan as an intriguing if baffling outsider That changed overnight when Dylan was awarded the 2016 Nobel Prize in Literature challenging us to think of him as an integral part of our national and international literary heritage No One to Meet Imitation and Originality in the Songs of Bob Dylan places Dylan the artist within a long tradition of literary production and offers an innovative way of understanding his unique and often controversial methods of composition In lucid prose Raphael Falco demonstrates the similarity between what Renaissance writers called imitatio and the way Dylan borrows digests and transforms traditional songs Although Dylan s lyrical postures might suggest a post Romantic avant garde consciousness No One to Meet shows that Dylan s creative process borrows from and creatively expands the methods used by classical and Renaissance authors Drawing on numerous examples including Dylan s previously unseen manuscript excerpts and archival materials Raphael Falco illuminates how the ancient process of poetic imitation handed down from Greco Roman antiquity allows us to make sense of Dylan s musical and lyrical technique By placing Dylan firmly in the context of an age old poetic practice No One to Meet deepens our appreciation of Dylan s songs and allows us to celebrate him as what he truly is a great writer The American Jew Michael Greenstein,1991 Can one live a dual commitment as an American Jew or does the Jew in fact compromise his own roots Crypto Wars Craig Jarvis,2020-12-14 The crypto wars have raged for half a century In the 1970s digital privacy activists prophesied the emergence of an Orwellian State made possible by computer mediated mass surveillance The antidote digital encryption The U S government warned encryption would not only prevent surveillance of law abiding citizens but of criminals terrorists and foreign spies ushering in a rival dystopian future Both parties fought to defend the citizenry from what they believed the most perilous threats The government tried to control encryption to preserve its surveillance capabilities privacy activists armed citizens with cryptographic tools and challenged encryption regulations in the courts No clear victor has emerged from the crypto wars Governments have failed to forge a framework to govern the at times conflicting civil liberties of privacy and security in the digital age an age when such liberties have an outsized influence on the citizen State power balance Solving this problem is more urgent than ever Digital privacy will be one of the most important factors in how we architect twenty first century societies its management is paramount to our stewardship of democracy for future generations We must elevate the quality of debate on cryptography on how we govern security and privacy in our technology infused world Failure to end the crypto wars will result in societies sleepwalking into a future where the citizen State power balance is determined by a twentieth century status quo unfit for this century endangering both our privacy and security This book provides a history of the crypto wars with the hope its chronicling sets a foundation for peace Minority Elderly Services ,1982 Making a Difference R. C. Sproul,2019-01-01 The great challenge for the Christian in a post Christian context is how to impact this fallen world with our faith In Making a Difference beloved theologian R C Sproul shows readers how to confront today s moral and social issues with an effective biblical response Dr Sproul first examines the major philosophies that affect the way Americans think and act secularism existentialism humanism and pragmatism and then presents ideas on how to apply a biblical perspective to spheres of public life that need the Christian s influence today economics science art and literature and government Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1982 United States.
