The Odyssey Of A Filmmaker Robert Flahertys Story:

The Odyssey of a Film-maker Frances Hubbard Flaherty, 1972 The text which follows grew out of a number of talks which Frances Flaherty during which film clips from the great Flaherty films were used to accompany her remarks Frances Flaherty who became his wife in 1914 shared with him the triumphs and frustrations of his creative years Robert Joseph Flaherty was an American filmmaker who directed and produced the first commercially successful feature length documentary film Nanook of the North Filming Robert Flaherty's Louisiana Story Helen Durant, 1998 This book details the production of Robert Flaherty's most beautiful and most ambitious film Louisiana Story At its core are the production diaries of Helen van Dongen associate producer and editor for the project and a pioneer among women filmmakers Her informative notes which have never before been published illuminate the problems and challenges of shooting and cutting the film on location in the bayou country of Louisiana The essays describe the creative partnership that van Dongen developed with Flaherty They also provide insight into New York's documentary film scene during the 1930s and 40s The illustrations include film stills working documents and archival photographs there are also biographies and filmographies Odyssey of a Film-Maker Frances Hubbard Flaherty, 1984-07-01 A Bibliography of Ethnographic Films Rolf Husmann, 1992 The Flaherty Patricia R. Zimmermann, Scott MacDonald, 2017-05-15 A history of this singular institution that has indelibly shaped independent and documentary filmmaking as well as its critical reception Film Quarterly This is the inspiring story of The Flaherty one of the oldest continuously running nonprofit media arts institutions in the world which has shaped the development of independent film video and emerging forms in the United States for more than sixty years Combining the words of legendary independent filmmakers with a detailed history of The Flaherty Patricia R. Zimmermann and Scott MacDonald showcase its history and legacy amply demonstrating how the relationships created at the annual Flaherty seminar have been instrumental in transforming American media history Moving through the decades each chapter opens with a detailed history of the organization by Zimmermann who traces the evolution of The Flaherty from a private gathering of filmmakers to a small annual convening to today's ever growing nexus of filmmakers scholars librarians producers funders distributors and others associated with international independent cinema MacDonald expands each chapter by giving voice to the major figures in the evolution of independent media through transcriptions of key discussions galvanized by films shown at The Flaherty Discussions feature Frances Flaherty Robert Gardner Fred Wiseman Willard Van Dyke Jim McBride Michael Snow Hollis Frampton Erik Barnouw Barbara Kopple Ed Pincus Trinh T Minh ha Bruce Conner Peter Watkins Su Friedrich Marlon Riggs William Greaves Ken Jacobs Kazuo Hara Mani Kaul Craig Baldwin Bahman Ghobadi Eyal Sivan and many others Robert J. Flaherty Paul Rotha, 2015-09-30 Producer of Nanook of the North Moana Man of Aran and other pioneering documentaries between 1920 and 1940 Robert J. Flaherty was America's first independent film artist Popular conceptions of Flaherty have led many either to worship his work and regard him in mythical terms or to debunk him as a fraud and castigate him for lack of a social consciousness Rarely has the attempt been made to understand him in the context of his times This captivating study presents Flaherty through the eyes of someone who knew him personally the brilliant British filmmaker and scholar Paul Rotha A colleague and close friend of Flaherty Rotha gives us a powerfully written biography that is a balanced and intimate look at the life and work of an American genius Editor Jay Ruby has restored the Rotha biography including a wealth of anecdotes letters and memoirs that begin to bring Robert Flaherty the man into focus An especially valuable dimension of this work is the appraisal of Flaherty the filmmaker from the viewpoint of a major figure of the British industry He summarizes in detail the critical response to Flaherty of his contemporaries about which only sketchy information has previously been available Flaherty regarded himself as an explorer as well as a filmmaker The exciting story of this biography takes us from the Arctic where Flaherty spent years filming Nanook to the South Pacific England the Aran Islands and finally the United States his courage and overarching vision resulted in an unprecedented recording of the human struggle and in documentary films that reached a wider audience than ever before

Frank Capra Frank Capra,2004 Few Hollywood directors had a higher profile in the 1930s than Frank Capra 1897 1991 He served as president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences and of the Screen Directors Guild He won three Academy Awards as best director and was widely acclaimed as the man most responsible for making Columbia Pictures a success This popularity was established and sustained by films that spoke to and for the times It Happened One Night Mr Deeds Goes to Town Meet John Doe and Mr Smith Goes to Washington These replicated the nation s hopes and dreams for a national community He worked with some of the brightest stars in Hollywood James Stewart Clark Gable Jean Arthur Gary Cooper Barbara Stanwyck Claudette Colbert Bette Davis Donna Reed and Ann Margret Capra s interviews express his connection to the national audience and explore his own story He was a Sicilian immigrant boy who survived rough and tumble beginnings to become Hollywood s most bankable director In reflecting on his life almost every one of his films was a parable of acclaim verging on disaster He spent much of the 1940s in uniform while making films for the War Department Although Capra was an optimist World War II and his series of Why We Fight films called his legendary optimism into question His postwar film It s a Wonderful Life 1946 gave an answer to those questions with an astonishing directness Capra never equaled again In 1971 he published his autobiography The Name Above the Title Many of the interviews collected here come from this period when as an elder statesman of motion picture art and history he reflected on his long career The interviews portray the Capra legend vividly and demonstrate why the warm relations between Capra and his audiences continue to inspire acclaim and admiration Leland Poague a professor of English at Iowa State University is the editor of Conversations with Susan Sontag University Press of Mississippi He is the author of Another Frank Capra and The Cinema of Frank Capra An Approach to Film Comedy

The Cinematic Griot Paul Stoller,1992-06-15 The most prolific ethnographic filmmaker in the world a pioneer of cin ma v rit and one of the earliest ethnographers of African societies Jean Rouch 1917 remains a controversial and often misunderstood figure in histories of anthropology and film By examining Rouch s neglected ethnographic writings Paul Stoller seeks to clarify the filmmaker s true place in anthropology A brief account of Rouch s background revealing the ethnographic foundations and intellectual assumptions underlying his fieldwork among the Songhay of Niger in the 1940s and 1950s sets the stage for his emergence as a cinematic griot a peripatetic bard who recites the story of a people through provocative imagery Against this backdrop Stoller considers Rouch s writings on Songhay history myth magic and possession migration and social change By analyzing in depth some of Rouch s most important films and assessing Rouch s ethnography in terms of his own expertise in Songhay culture Stoller demonstrates the inner connection between these two modes of representation Stoller who has done more fieldwork among the Songhay than anyone other than Rouch himself here gives the first full account of Rouch the griot whose own story scintillates with important implications for anthropology ethnography African studies and film     Subject to Reality Shilyh Warren,2019-05-16 Revolutionary thinking around gender and race merged with new film technologies to usher in a wave of women s documentaries in the 1970s Driven by the various promises of second wave feminism activist filmmakers believed authentic stories about women would bring more people into an imminent revolution Yet their films soon faded into obscurity Shilyh Warren reopens this understudied period and links it to a neglected era of women s filmmaking that took place from 1920 to 1940 another key period of thinking around documentary race and gender Drawing women s cultural expression during these two explosive times into conversation Warren reconsiders key debates about subjectivity feminism realism and documentary and their lasting epistemological and material consequences for film and feminist studies She also excavates the lost ethnographic history of women s documentary filmmaking in the earlier era and explores the political and aesthetic legacy of these films in more explicitly feminist periods like the Seventies Filled with challenging insights and new close readings Subject to Reality sheds light on a profound and unexamined history of feminist documentaries while revealing their influence on the filmmakers of today     Savage Preservation Brian Hochman,2014-11-15 During the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries writers and anthropologists believed that the world s primitive races were on the brink of extinction They also believed that films photographs and phonographic recordings modern media in their technological infancy could capture lasting relics of primitive life before it vanished into obscurity For many Americans the promise of media and the problem of race were inextricably linked While professional ethnologists tried out early recording machines to preserve the sounds of authentic indigenous cultures photographers and filmmakers hauled newfangled equipment into remote corners of the globe to document rituals and scenes that seemed destined to vanish forever In Savage Preservation Brian Hochman shows how widespread interest in recording vanishing races and disappearing cultures influenced audiovisual innovation experimentation and use in the United States Drawing extensively on seldom seen archival sources from phonetic alphabets and sign language drawings to wax cylinder recordings and early color photographs Hochman uncovers the parallel histories of ethnography and technology in the turn of the century period While conventional wisdom suggests that media technologies work mostly to produce ideas about race Savage Preservation reveals that the reverse has also been true During this period popular conceptions of race constructed the authority of new media technologies as reliable archives of the real Brimming with nuanced critical insights and unexpected historical connections Savage Preservation offers a new model for thinking about race and media in the American context and a fresh take on a period of accelerated technological change that closely resembles our own     The Development Film in the Americas Molly Geidel,2025-10-28 In this book Molly Geidel traces the rise and fall of the development film an overlooked film genre that circulated widely in the Americas from the 1940s through the 1970s Development films often short documentaries were made at the behest of state agencies global governance organizations and private corporations to link capitalist conceptions of economic growth to improved quality of life Development films made this link beautifully compelling blending elements from ethnography and socially committed leftist film traditions to create indelible narratives of underdevelopment and modernization The Development Film in the Americas tells the story of these films and the hemispheric cohort of filmmakers who crafted them chronicling the filmmakers fraught relationships with both the organizations they worked for and the actors in their films Docufictions Gary D. Rhodes, John Parris Springer, 2014-10-01 Through most of the 20th century the distinction between the fictional narrative film and the documentary was vigorously maintained The documentary tradition developed side by side with but in the shadow of the more commercially successful feature film In the latter part of the century however the two forms merged on occasion and mockumentaries fictional works in a documentary format and docudramas reality based works in a fictional format became part of the film and television landscape The 18 essays here examine the relationships between narrative fiction films and documentary filmmaking focusing on how each influenced the other and how the two were merged in such diverse films and shows as Citizen Kane M A S H This Is Spinal Tap and Destination Moon Topics include the docudrama in early cinema the industrial film as faux documentary the fear evoked in 1950s science fiction films the selling of reality in mockumentaries and reality television and documentary forms The essays provide a foundation for significant rethinking of film history and criticism offering the first significant discussion of two emerging and increasingly important genres Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here New Makers of Modern Culture Justin Wintle, 2016-04-22 New Makers of Modern Culture is the successor to the classic reference works Makers of Modern Culture and Makers of Nineteenth Century Culture published by Routledge in the early 1980s The set was extremely successful and continues to be used to this day due to the high quality of the writing the distinguished contributors and the cultural sensitivity shown in the selection of those individuals included New Makers of Modern Culture takes into full account the rise and fall of reputation and influence over the last twenty five years and the epochal changes that have occurred the demise of Marxism and the collapse of the Soviet Union the rise and fall of postmodernism the eruption of Islamic fundamentalism the triumph of the Internet Containing over eight hundred essay style entries and covering the period from 1850 to the present New Makers of Modern Culture includes artists writers dramatists architects philosophers anthropologists scientists sociologists major political figures composers film makers and many other culturally significant individuals and is thoroughly international in its purview Next to Karl Marx is Bob Marley next to John Ruskin is Salman Rushdie alongside Darwin is Luigi Dallapiccola Deng Xiaoping runs shoulders with Jacques Derrida as do Julia Kristeva and Kropotkin Once again Wintle has enlisted the services of many distinguished writers and leading academics such as Sam Beer Bernard Crick Edward Seidensticker and Paul Preston In a few cases for example Michael Holroyd and Philip Larkin contributors are themselves the subject of entries With its global reach New Makers of Modern Culture provides a multi voiced witness of the contemporary thinking world The entries carry short bibliographies and there is thorough cross referencing There is an index of names and key terms
