Rome and the Black Sea Region Tonnes Bekker-Nielsen, 2006-09-01 In 89 BC Roman legionaries intervened in the Black Sea region to curb the ambitions of Mithridates VI of Pontus Over the next two centuries the Roman presence on the Black Sea coast was slowly but steadily increased This volume deals with the Roman impact on the indigenous population in the Black Sea region and touches on the theme of romanisation of that area Nine different contributors discuss several aspects of Roman identity and the cultural interaction one article even compares the situation to the American presence in Iraq though at the same time it also looks at the resistance to the Roman Empire and the Roman problems of creating peace in the region after the colonisation Romanisation and becoming Roman in a Greek world is a very popular field of discussion about which a lot has already been written This book however encircles three important themes the domination the romanisation and the resistance It covers two different sides of the Roman presence in the area and shows both the perspective of a Roman just arrived Pliny the Younger and a native seeing the Romans coming the historian Memnon of Herakleia Furthermore it describes how multi identity cultures manage to live together because becoming Roman not necessarily means becoming less Greek or less Gaulish less Scythian less Bosporan etc The diversity of the different chapters in this book creates reflection on the cultural change in the traditionalist yet cosmopolitan environment that was the Roman Black Sea Region

New Regionalism or No Regionalism? Ruxandra Ivan, 2016-04-29 The nation states in the Black Sea area have initiated many co operative policies but the area also sees numerous tensions between neighboring states The conflict co operation paradox along with ethnic fragmentation and shared culture are two of the most salient features of the Black Sea Area These paradoxes are not the only force in the evolution of the region though There are also issues such as ethnic and national identity the failure of democratization energy and resources as well as the influence of other powers such as Russia the EU and the USA The key questions asked by the authors in this book are to what extent is there an emerging regionalism in the Black Sea area Is the Black Sea a region What are the common interests shared by the former USSR states the three EU member states neighboring the Black Sea Bulgaria Greece and Romania and a NATO country Turkey Are the fault lines dividing them more pervasive than the incentives for cooperation Can we speak of a shared identity The first part of the book places the Black Sea problematique in a wider historical and spatial context The authors then take a closer look at the region and examine further the structure of the Black Sea area They offer a perspective on smaller actors with great ambitions such as Azerbaijan and Romania and go on to make a comparison between the emerging regionalism in the Black Sea area and regionalisms in other parts of the world

The Black Sea and the Early Civilizations of Europe, the Near East and Asia Mariya Ivanova, 2013-08-26 The Black Sea lies at the junction of three major cultural areas Europe Central Asia and the Near East It plays a crucial role in enduring discussions about the impact of complex Near Eastern societies on European societies and the repercussions of early urbanization across Eurasia This book presents the first comprehensive overview of the Black Sea region in the prehistoric period It penetrates artificial boundaries imposed by traditions politics and language to encompass both the European and Asiatic coasts and both Eastern European and Western scholarly literature With a critical compilation and synthesis of archaeological data this study situates the prehistoric Black Sea in a global historical context By adopting the perspective of technology and innovation it transcends a purely descriptive
