Office of the Secretary of State,1906      Spreading the Gospel of Books Florence M. Jumonville,2019-11-06 In 1925 Essae Martha Culver a California librarian arrived in Louisiana to direct a three year project funded by the Carnegie Corporation that aimed to introduce public libraries to rural populations Culver purchased a round trip ticket but she never used the second half Instead she stayed in Louisiana the rest of her life working tirelessly to see libraries established in every parish by 1969 In Spreading the Gospel of Books Florence M Jumonville chronicles the impressive colorful history of Louisiana parish libraries and the State Library of Louisiana She draws upon Culver s journals and library reports in addition to correspondence scrapbooks and State Library internal documents and includes photos from five decades many never before published The campaign to persuade individual parishes to financially support a library of their own was a long uphill pull through poverty and politics flood and famine discouragement and depression war and bureaucracy ignorance and prejudice Culver credited success to the citizens whose thirst for books and embrace of the idea of a library inspired perseverance In time Culver s Louisiana plan served as an exemplar of library development elsewhere in the United States as well as abroad Culver touched the lives of generations of Louisianians who have never heard her name Spreading the Gospel of Books is her story along with that of colleagues and supporters of making the dream of library service come true for all      Highways and Agricultural Engineering, Current Literature ,1945      The Promotion of the Welfare and Hygiene of Maternity and Infancy Douglas Armour Thom,Emelyn Foster Peck,United States. Board of Control,1918      Bulletin ,1923      Freedom Libraries Mike Selby,2019-10-01 Freedom Libraries The Untold Story of Libraries for African Americans in the South As the Civil Rights Movement exploded across the United States the media of the time was able to show the rest of the world images of horrific racial violence And while some of the bravest people of the 20th century risked their lives for the right to simply order a cheeseburger ride a bus or use a clean water fountain there was another virtually unheard of struggle this one for the right to read Although illegal racial segregation was strictly enforced in a number of American states and public libraries were not immune Numerous libraries were desegregated on paper only there would be no cards given to African Americans no books for them read and no furniture for them to use It was these exact conditions that helped create Freedom Libraries Over eighty of these parallel libraries appeared in the Deep South staffed by civil rights voter registration workers While the grassroots nature of the libraries meant they varied in size and quality all of them created the first encounter many African Americans had with a library Terror bombings and eventually murder would be visited on the Freedom Libraries with people giving up their lives so others could read a library book This book delves into how these libraries were the heart of the Civil Rights Movement and the remarkable courage of the people who used them They would forever change libraries and librarianship even as they helped the greater movement change the society these libraries belonged to Photographs of the libraries bring this little known part of American history to life

A Forgotten Migration Crystal R. Sanders,2024-10-15 A Forgotten Migration tells the little known story of segregation scholarships awarded by states in the US South to Black students seeking graduate education in the pre Brown v Board of Education era Under the Plessy v Ferguson decision decades earlier southern states could provide graduate opportunities for African Americans by creating separate but equal graduate programs at tax supported Black colleges or by admitting Black students to historically white institutions Most did neither and instead paid to send Black students out of state for graduate education Crystal R Sanders examines Black graduate students who relocated to the North Midwest and West to continue their education with segregation scholarships revealing the many challenges they faced along the way Students that entered out of state programs endured long and tedious travel financial hardship racial discrimination isolation and homesickness With the passage of Brown in 1954 segregation scholarships began to wane but the integration of graduate programs at southern public universities was slow In telling this story Sanders demonstrates how white efforts to preserve segregation led to the underfunding of public Black colleges furthering racial inequality in American higher education
