Falk,2012-05-15 Barns of New York explores and celebrates the agricultural and architectural diversity of the Empire State from Long Island to Lake Erie the Southern Tier to the North Country providing a unique compendium of the vernacular architecture of rural New York Through descriptions of the appearance and working of representative historic farm buildings Barns of New York also serves as an authoritative reference for historic preservation efforts across the state Cynthia G Falk connects agricultural buildings both extant examples and those long gone with the products and processes they made and make possible Great attention is paid not only to main barns but also to agricultural outbuildings such as chicken coops smokehouses and windmills Falk further emphasizes the types of buildings used to support the cultivation of products specifically associated with the Empire State including hops apples cheese and maple syrup Enhanced by more than two hundred contemporary and historic photographs and other images this book provides historical cultural and economic context for understanding the rural landscape In an appendix are lists of historic farm buildings open to the public at living history museums and historic sites Through a greater awareness of the buildings found on farms throughout New York readers will come away with an increased appreciation for the state s rich agricultural and architectural legacy

A Huguenot on the Hackensack David C. Major, John S. Major, 2007 David Demarest or des Marets married Marie Sohier in 1643 in Middleburg the Netherlands They emigrated in about 1663 and settled first in New York and later in New Jersey

Set in Stone Kenneth Shefsiek, 2017-02-23 Challenges the belief that the Walloons and the Dutch of the Hudson Valley were cultural preservationists who resisted English culture In 1678 seven French speaking Protestant families established the village of New Paltz in the Hudson River Valley of New York Life on the edge of European settlement presented many challenges but a particular challenge for these ethnic Walloon families originally from the southern Spanish Netherlands was that they lived in a Dutch cultural region in an English colony In Set in Stone Kenneth Shefsiek explores how the founders and their descendants reacted to and perpetuated this multiethnic cultural environment for generations As the founding families controlled their town economically and politically they creatively and selectively blended the cultures available to them They allowed their Walloon culture to slip away early in the village s history but they continued to combine Dutch and English cultures for more than 150 years When they finally abandoned the last vestiges of Dutch culture in the early nineteenth century they did so just as descendants of English colonists began to claim that the national commitment to liberty and freedom was grounded in the nation s English heritage Not willing to be marginalized descendants of the New Paltz Walloons constructed an alternative national narrative placing their ancestors at the very center of the American story Kenneth Shefsiek demonstrates that he has a keen eye for detail and this careful attention to the small things helps bring New Paltz s past to life The book paints a surprising picture of one of the most intriguing communities in early America

Meredith A. E. McGriff, 2020-08-03 A new pottery tradition has been developing along the border of northern Indiana and southern Michigan Despite the fact that this region is not yet an established destination for pottery collectors Michiana potters are committed to pursuing their craft thanks to the presence of a community of like minded artists The Michiana Potters an ethnographic exploration of the lives and art of these potters examines the communal traditions and aesthetics that have developed in this region Author Meredith A E McGriff identifies several shared methods and styles such as a preference for wood fired wares glossy glaze surfaces cooler colors the dripping or layering of glazes on ceramics that are not wood fired the handcrafting of useful wares as opposed to sculptural work and a tendency to borrow forms and decorative effects from other regional artists In addition to demonstrating a methodology that can be applied to studies of other emergent regional traditions McGriff concludes that these styles and methods form a communal bond that inextricably links the processes of creating and sharing pottery in Michiana Ethno-Architecture and the Politics of Migration Mirjana Lozanovska,2015-12-22 Ethno Architecture and the Politics of Migration explores the interface between migration and architecture Cities have been substantially affected by transnational migration but the physical manifestations of migration in architecture and its effect on streetscape neighbourhood and city have so far been understudied This contributed volume examines how migrants interact with adapt and construct new architecture Looking at the physical urban and cultural impact of these changes on a variety of sites the authors explore architecture as an identity category and investigate what buildings and places associated with migration tell us about central questions of belonging culture community and home in regions such as North America Australia and the UK An important contribution to debates on place identity and the transformation of places as a result of mobility and globalised economies in the 21st century De Halve Maen ,1996 Dutch New York Roger G.
