Aging Masculinities in Contemporary U.S. Fiction Josep M. Armengol, 2021-07-26 This book focuses on representations of aging masculinities in contemporary U.S. fiction including shifting perceptions of physical and sexual prowess, depression and loss, but also greater wisdom and confidence, legacy as well as new affective patterns. The collection also incorporates factors such as race, sexuality, and religion. The volume includes studies amongst others on Philip Roth, Paul Auster, Toni Morrison, Ernest Gaines, and Edmund White. Ultimately, this study proves that men's aging experiences as described in contemporary U.S. literature and culture are as complex and varied as those of their female counterparts.

NA Short Fiction IM Richard Bausch, 2006-09-01 The Moral Worlds of Contemporary Realism Mary K. Holland, 2020-06-11 Literature has never looked weirder, full of images, colors, gadgets, and footnotes, and violating established norms of character, plot, and narrative structure. Yet over the last 30 years, critics have coined more than 20 new realisms in their attempts to describe it. What makes this decidedly unorthodox literature realistic? And if it is, then what does realism mean anymore? Examining literature by dozens of writers and over a century of theory and criticism about realism, The Moral Worlds of Contemporary Realism sorts through the current critical confusion to illustrate how our ideas about what is real and how best to depict it have changed dramatically, especially in recent years. Along the way, Mary K. Holland guides the reader on a lively tour through the landscape of contemporary literary studies, taking in metafiction, ideology, posthumanism, postmodernism, and poststructuralism, with forays into quantum mechanics, new materialism, and Buddhism, as well as to give us entirely new ways of viewing how humans use language to make sense of and to make the world.

Screening Contemporary Irish Fiction and Drama Marc C. Conner, Julie Grossman, R. Barton Palmer, 2022-09-16 In this book, each chapter explores significant Irish texts in their literary, cultural, and historical contexts. With an introduction that establishes the multiple critical contexts for Irish cinema, literature, and their adaptive textual worlds, the volume addresses some of the most popular and important late 20th Century and 21st Century works that have had an impact on the Irish and global cinema and literary landscape. A remarkable series of acclaimed and profitable domestic productions during the past three decades has accompanied while chronicling Ireland's struggle with self-identity, national consciousness, and cultural expression, such that the story of contemporary Irish cinema is in many ways the story of the young nation's growth, pains, and travails. Whereas Irish literature had long stood as the nation's foremost artistic achievement, it is not too much to say that film now rivals literature as Ireland's key form of cultural expression. The proliferation of successful screen versionings of Irish fiction and drama shows how intimately the contemporary Irish cinema is tied to the project of both understanding and complicating even denying a national identity that has undergone radical change during the past three decades This present volume is the first to present a collective accounting of that productive synergy which has seen so much of contemporary Irish literature transferred to the screen
