Greenstein,2017-09-26 In less than a decade the Internet went from being a series of loosely connected networks used by universities and the military to the powerful commercial engine it is today This book describes how many of the key innovations that made this possible came from entrepreneurs and iconoclasts who were outside the mainstream and how the commercialization of the Internet was by no means a foregone conclusion at its outset Shane Greenstein traces the evolution of the Internet from government ownership to privatization to the commercial Internet we know today This is a story of innovation from the edges Greenstein shows how mainstream service providers that had traditionally been leaders in the old market economy became threatened by innovations from industry outsiders who saw economic opportunities where others didn't and how these mainstream firms had no choice but to innovate themselves New models were tried some succeeded some failed Commercial markets turned innovations into valuable products and services as the Internet evolved in those markets New business processes had to be created from scratch as a network originally intended for research and military defense had to deal with network interconnectivity the needs of commercial users and a host of challenges with implementing innovative new services How the Internet Became Commercial demonstrates how without any central authority a unique and vibrant interplay between government and private industry transformed the Internet Competing for Knowledge Robert Huggins,Hiro Izushi,2007-08-09 With the buzzwords of knowledge based economy and knowledge driven economy policy makers as well as journalists and management consultants are pushing forward a vision of change that transforms the way advanced economies work Yet little is understood about how the knowledge based economy differs from the old traditional economy It is generall A Time for Every Purpose Todd D Rakoff,2009-06-30 Sunday is more like Monday than it used to be The Fourth of July is more like the third Although time is a feature of the natural world it is at the same time not natural but given its meaning by human action and in our contemporary world primarily through the law Rakoff argues that legal regulation of the law has become weaker with unfortunate results for both individuals and families
