Kutscher, 1976-01-01      The Essentials of Nursing: An Introduction Sheila Collins, Edith Parker, 1987-11-11 The change in title of this the first book in the Series emphasises that this is the foundation forming the link with all the texts in the Series including the new book Mental Handicap The content aims to help nursing students preparing for registration and qualified nurses updating their knowledge as recommended by the statutory bodies the UKCC and National Boards The second edition contains considerable new material including the publications from the UKCC regarding guidelines on the rules and competencies for registration and guidelines on the administration of medicines 1986 References and further reading lists have been brought up to date for example reference is made to the disease AIDS and the RCN guidelines for nurses The sequence of the text has been changed radically to re emphasise the uniqueness of the individual both as a patient and a nurse      Death and Dying John F. Szabo, 2009-11-02 While it can be traced to the 1700s the term thanatology has gained traction in recent decades to refer to the study of death Because of the breadth of the published material and the challenges of discovery in large bibliographic databases and catalogs finding and identifying monographic material on death dying grief and bereavement can be extremely challenging Although there have been several bibliographical resources published on thanatology those titles were incomplete limited in scope or leaned heavily toward one area of the field In Death and Dying An Annotated Bibliography of the Thanatological Literature John F Szabo provides more than 2 200 citations of monographs on the science and study of death and dying Among the areas this volume addresses are the psychological philosophical and attitudinal aspects coping and dealing with the burdens of caregiving and working in the helping professions instructional and educational topics for practitioners primarily health care providers cultural differences in bereavement rituals and grief mourning and loss In addition notable titles on or relating to death and dying in popular culture death themes in literature methods of death or specific ethical policy or public issues are also included when they contribute important information to subject areas on which the book focuses This book will be helpful to students researchers academics caregivers health care professionals psychologists social workers and anyone with an interest in death dying bereavement or the care of the terminally ill      Nursing Support for Families of Dying Patients Rosemary McIntyre, 2001-11-28 When a patient has an advanced disease considerable demands are placed on the whole family Whilst coping with their own profound emotions close relatives commonly have to support their loved ones through a range of treatments as the disease progresses through stages of remission and recurrence until finally a shift to a palliative mode of treatment must be faced In such situations family roles and relationships are likely to be disrupted and family members coping resources can be stretched to the limit It is clear from this that by the time the terminal stage of the patient's illness is reached the family may have travelled a long and difficult road and close relatives are likely to be emotionally vulnerable and in need of support This study explores the needs of relatives of terminally ill patients and the concerns of nurses who provide care in the hospital The research data is used to design implement and evaluate clinical standards for improved family support     Nursing Diagnosis Handbook - E-Book Betty J.
