The Nigeria Police In Transition:

Human Rights and the Police in Transitional Countries Lone Lindholt, Paulo de Mesquita Neto, Danny Titus, Etannibi E. Alemika, 2021-08-04 The volume intended to function as an academic debate book began as a workshop on Human Rights and the Police in Transitional Countries held in Hillerød Denmark The workshop which was funded by the Danish Ministry of Foreign Affairs brought together practitioners and academics from Europe Asia Africa and Latin America to discuss common experience from the context of transition which characterises all of them These discussions take place along four themes i e the transitional context governance and rule of law police and civil society education and training and the police organisation and reform international intervention and aid In addition to a number of key papers on general and theoretical aspects each section contains a number of illustrative examples of how these issues express themselves in a large number of countries Finally the book sums up a catalogue of findings and recommendations in relation to the promotion of human rights in transitional countries and the role of the police in this work

Policing Developing Democracies

Mercedes S. Hinton, Tim Newburn, 2008-09-25 There are enormous challenges in establishing policing systems in young democracies Such societies typically have a host of unresolved pressing social economic and political questions that impinge on policing and the prospects for reform There are a series of hugely important questions arising in this context to do with the emergence of the new security agenda the problems of transnational crime and international terrorism the rule of law and the role of the police security services and the military This is a field that is not only of growing academic interest but is now the focus of a very significant police reform industry Development agencies and entrepreneurs are involved around the globe in attempts to establish democratic police reforms in countries with little or no history of such activity Consequently there is a growing literature in this field but as yet no single volume that brings together the central developments This book gathers together scholars from political science international relations and criminology to focus on the issues raised by policing within developing democracies examining countries in Eastern Europe Asia South America and Africa

Territory and Power in Constitutional Transitions George Anderson, Sujit Choudhry, 2019-03-07 This collection of essays surveys the full range of challenges that territorial conflicts pose for constitution making processes and constitutional design It provides seventeen in depth case studies of countries going through periods of intense constitutional engagement in a variety of contexts small distinct territories bi communal countries highly diverse countries with many politically salient regions and countries where territorial politics is important but secondary to other bases for political mobilization Specific examples are drawn from Iraq Kenya Cyprus Nigeria South Africa Sri Lanka the UK Scotland Ukraine Bolivia India Spain Yemen Nepal Ethiopia Indonesia Aceh the Philippines Mindanao and Bosnia Herzegovina While the volume draws significant normative conclusions it is based on a realist view of the complexity of territorial and other political cleavages the country's political geometry and the power configurations that lead into periods of constitutional engagement Thematic chapters on constitution making processes and constitutional design draw original conclusions from the comparative analysis of the case studies and relate these to the existing literature both in political science and comparative constitutional law This volume is essential reading for scholars of federalism consociational power sharing arrangements asymmetrical devolution and devolution more generally The combination of in depth case studies and broad thematic analysis allows for analytical and normative conclusions that will be of major relevance to practitioners and advisors engaged in constitutional design

Classify, Exclude, Police Laurent Fourchard, 2021-04-14 b CLASSIFY EXCLUDE POLICE Laurent Fourchard s deep first hand knowledge of the history and contemporary politics of Nigeria and South Africa forms the basis of an insightful and compelling analysis of how states produce invidious distinctions among their people and at the same time how political linkages are forged between state and society elites and subalterns bureaucratic structures and personal relations Frederick Cooper Professor of History New York University USA Violence control police and political order are essential dimensions of metropolis In this exceptional book Laurent Fourchard compares decentralised exercises of authority in providing vivid analysis of exclusion of youth and migrants policing and riots politics of Big men and fine grained blurring between bureaucracy and society A masterpiece of urban politics Patrick Le Gal s Dean of Urban School Sciences Po Paris France This book is a major contribution to rethinking urban politics from the experiences of African cities Based on detailed historical analysis of South Africa and Nigeria Fourchard recalibrates the actors stakes and terms of urban politics around African centred concerns Jennifer Robinson Professor of Geography University College London UK The cities of South Africa and Nigeria are reputed to be dangerous teeming with slums and dominated by the informal economy but we know little about how people are divided up categorised and policed Colonial governments assigned rights and punishments banned categories considered problematic delinquents migrants single women street vendors and give non state organisations the power to police low income neighbourhoods Within this enduring legacy a tangle of petty arrangements has developed to circumvent exclusion to public places and government offices In this unpredictable urban reality which has eluded all planning individuals and social groups have changed areas of public action through exclusion violence and negotiation In combining historical and ethnographic methods Classify Exclude Police explores the effects and limits of public action and questions the possibility of comparison between cities often perceived as incommensurable Focusing on state formation urbanization and daily lives Laurent Fourchard addresses debates and controversies in comparative urban studies history political science and urban anthropology The book provides a systematic comparative approach to the practices processes arrangements used to create boundaries direct violence and produce social racial gender and generational differences Justice and Economic Violence in Transition Dustin N. Sharp, 2013-09-14 This book examines the role of economic violence violations of economic and social rights corruption and plunder of natural resources within the transitional justice agenda Because economic violence often leads to conflict is perpetrated during conflict and continues afterwards as a legacy of conflict a greater focus on economic and social rights issues in the transitional justice context is critical One might add that insofar as transitional justice is increasingly seen as an instrument of peacebuilding rather than a simple political transition focus on economic violence as the crucial root cause is key to preventing relapse into conflict Recent increasing attention to economic issues by academics and truth commissions suggest this may be slowly changing and that economic and social rights may represent the next frontier of transitional justice concerns There remain difficult questions that have yet to be worked out at the level of theory policy and practice Further scholarship in this regard is both timely and necessary This volume therefore presents an opportunity to fill an important gap The project will bring together new papers by recognized and emerging scholars and policy experts in the field

The Illusion of the Post-Colonial State W. Alade Fawole, 2018-06-01 This book challenges the long held conventional wisdom that Africa is a post colonial society of sovereign nation states despite the outward attributes of statehood demarcated territories permanent populations governments national currencies police and armed forces While it is true that African nation states have been gifted flag independence by their respective colonial masters few have reached fully developed status as a secure nation state Most African nation states have since independence been grappling with the crisis of state building nation building governance and myriad security challenges which have been chronically exacerbated by the dynamics of the post Cold War era To focus merely on the agency of the African political elite and their inability to sustain functional modern nation states misses the point The central argument of the book is that an understanding of Africa's contemporary governance and security challenges requires us to historicize the discourse surrounding nation building and state building throughout Africa

World Encyclopedia of Police Forces and Correctional Systems George Thomas Kurian,2006 This fully updated version of the original 1989 edition of the World Encyclopedia of Police Forces and Correctional Systems describes the national law enforcement and correctional systems of more than 195 countries across the globe Police-Citizen Relations in Nigeria Oluwagbenga Michael Akinlabi,2022-04-21 This book offers an historical and contemporary analysis of policing and police citizen relations in Nigeria to understand why people co operate or don t with the police It examines police legitimacy and the validity of procedural justice theory in a post colonial African context where corruption brutality and lack of accountability are not uncommon to find more refined and alternative answers to the question of why people co operate or don't with the police The history of policing in Nigeria is explored first and then procedural justice theory is tested through an extensive cross sectional survey of the public One of the core findings is that citizens co operation with the police is driven less by legitimacy but more by effectiveness considerations and dull compulsion a concept akin to legal cynicism This study represents one of the first attempts to test and understand dull compulsion and its relevance in this context Overall it develops the field by illustrating that there are significant variations between contexts when addressing the influence of perceived procedural justice policing on perceptions of police legitimacy and it explains the implications for policy makers

Legal mechanisms in particular the instruments as well as concepts of human rights play an increasingly central role in the discourses and practices of both development and transitional justice. These developments can be seen as part of a tendency towards convergence within the wider set of discourses and practices in global governance. While this process of convergence of formerly distinct normative and conceptual fields of theory and practice has been both celebrated and critiqued at the level of theory, the present collection provides through a series of studies drawn from a variety of contexts in which human rights advocacy and transitional justice initiatives are colliding with development projects, programmes and objectives, a more nuanced and critical account of contemporary developments. The book includes essays by many of the leading experts writing at the intersection of development rights and transitional justice studies. Notwithstanding the theoretical and practical challenges presented by the complex interaction of these fields, the premise of the book is that it is only through engagement and dialogue among hitherto distinct fields of scholarship and practice that a better understanding of the institutional and normative issues arising in contemporary law and development and transitional justice contexts will be possible. The book is designed for research and teaching at both undergraduate and graduate levels.

ENDORSEMENTS

An extraordinary collection of essays that illuminate the nature of law in today's fragmented and uneven globalized world by situating the stakes of law in the intersection between the fields of human rights, development and transitional justice. Unusual for its breadth and the quality of scholarly contributions from many who are top scholars in their fields, this volume is one of the first that attempts to weave the three specialized fields and succeeds brilliantly. For anyone working in the fields of development studies, human rights or transitional justice, this volume is a wake up call to abandon their preconceived ideas and frames and aim for a conceptual and programmatic restart.

Professor Balakrishnan Rajagopal, Ford International Associate Professor of Law and Development, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

This superb collection of essays explores the challenges, possibilities and limits faced by scholars and practitioners seeking to imagine forms of law that can respond to social transformation. Drawing together cutting edge work across the three dynamic fields of law and development, transitional justice and international human rights law, this volume powerfully demonstrates that in light of the changes demanded of legal research, education and practice in a globalizing world, all law is law in transition.

Anne Orford, Michael D Kirby Chair of International Law and Australian Research Council Future Fellow, University of Melbourne.

A terrific volume. Leading scholars of human rights, development, policy and transitional justice look back and into the future. What has worked. Where have these projects gone astray or conflicted with one another. Law will only contribute forcefully to justice, development and peaceful sustainable change if the lessons learned here give rise to a new practical wisdom. We all hope law can do better; the essays collected here begin to show us how.

David Kennedy, Manley O Hudson Professor of Law, Director, Institute for Global Law and Policy, Harvard Law School.

Embracing the Melody of Term: An Mental Symphony within The Nigeria Police In Transition

In a world used by displays and the ceaseless chatter of quick interaction, the melodic splendor and mental symphony developed by the prepared term often disappear into the background, eclipsed by the persistent noise and disruptions that permeate our lives. However, nestled within the pages of The Nigeria Police In Transition a charming fictional value filled with raw feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by a wonderful composer of language, that fascinating masterpiece conducts viewers on an emotional journey, well unraveling the concealed tunes and profound influence resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths with this emotional evaluation, we can discover the book is key harmonies, analyze their enthralling publishing model, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
