The Night Porter:

The Cinema of Italy Giorgio Bertellini, 2004 Giorgio Bertellini examines the historical and aesthetic connections of some of Italy's most important films with both Italian and Western film culture

War, Violence, and the Modern Condition Bernd-Rüdiger Hüppauf, 1997 This volume will explore the specific role which war has played in the constitution of a modern mentality. It will be divided into three parts: one dealing with issues of conceptualizing war, violence and modernity/modernism; one devoted to issues of the First World War as an exemplary experience in the 20th century; and one concerned with issues of violence and its representation in the aftermath of the first modern war

Experience and Expression Elizabeth Roberts Baer, Myrna Goldenberg, 2003 Publisher's description: The many powerful accounts of the Holocaust have given rise to women's voices, and yet few researchers have analyzed these perspectives to learn what the horrifying events meant for women in particular and how they related to them. In Experience and Expression the authors take on this challenge, providing the first book-length gendered analysis of women and the Holocaust, a topic that is emerging as a new field of inquiry in its own right. The collection explores an array of fascinating topics: rescue and resistance; the treatment of Roma and Sinti women; the fate of female forced laborers; Holocaust politics; nurses at so-called euthanasia centers; women's experiences of food and hunger in the camps; the uses and abuses of Anne Frank; and the representations of the Holocaust in art, film, and literature in the postwar era

Concentrationary Imaginaries Griselda Pollock, Max Silverman, 2015-11-30 In 1945 French political prisoners returning from the concentration camps of Germany coined the phrase 'the concentrationary universe' to describe the camps as a terrible political experiment in the destruction of the human. This book shows how the unacknowledged legacy of a totalitarian mentality has seeped into the deepest recesses of everyday popular culture. It asks if the concentrationary now infests our cultural imaginary, normalizing what was once considered horrific and exceptional by transforming it into entertainment, violations of human life. Drawing on the political philosophy of Hannah Arendt and the analyses of violence by Agamben, Virilio, Lacoue-Labarthe, and Nancy, it also offers close readings of films by Cavani and Haneke that identify and critically expose such an imaginary and hence contest its lingering force

The Wolf at the Door Geoffrey Cocks, 2004 Discovers a Holocaust subtext in Kubrick's films, culminating in his 1980 adaptation of Stephen King's horror novel The Shining. Maintains that this is reflected in his depiction of harsh struggles with and over power and violence. Several of his films deal with war and state power. The Shining is seen as an artistic and philosophical response to the horrors of World War II. Among the influences on the filmmaker are Hilberg's The Destruction of the European Jews, Kubrick's Jewish past, and his early years that were affected by fascism and war. Kubrick's marriage into an artistic German family also contributed to his preoccupation with the history of Nazi Germany and the Holocaust, which were indirectly reflected in his oeuvre.

Holocaust Representations in History Daniel H. Magilow, Lisa Silverman, 2015-02-26 Holocaust Representations in History is an introduction to critical questions and debates surrounding the depiction, chronicling, and memorialization of the Holocaust through the historical analysis of some of the most provocative and significant works of Holocaust representation. In a series of chronologically presented case studies the book introduces the major themes and issues of Holocaust representation across a variety of media and genres including film drama literature photography visual art television graphic novels and memorials. The case studies presented not only include well known commercially successful and canonical works about the Holocaust such as the film Shoah and Elie Wiesel's memoir Night but also controversial examples that have drawn accusations of profaning the memory of the genocide. Each work's specific historical and cultural significance is then discussed to provide further insight into the impact of one of the most devastating events of the 20th century and the continued relevance of its memory. Complete with illustrations a bibliography and suggestions for further reading key terms and discussion questions this is an important book for any student keen to know more about the Holocaust and its impact.

The Gaze and the Labyrinth Gaetana Marrone, 2000-01-30 In this the first comprehensive book on Liliana Cavani Gaetana Marrone redraws the map of postwar Italian cinema to make room for this extraordinary filmmaker whose representations of transgressive eroticism spiritual questing and psychological extremes test the limits of the medium pushing it into uncharted areas of discovery. Cavani's film The Night Porter 1974 created a sensation in the United States and Europe. But in many ways her critically renowned endeavors which also include Francesco di Assisi Galileo I cannibali Beyond Good and Evil The Berlin Affair and several operas and documentaries remain enigmatic to audiences. Here Marrone presents Cavani's work as a cinema of ideas showing how it takes pleasure in the telling of a story and ultimately revolts against all binding ideological and commercial codes. The author explores the rich visual language in which Cavani expresses thought and the cultural icons that constitute her style and images. This approach affords powerful insights into the intricate interlacing of narrated events. We also come to understand the importance assigned to the gaze in the genesis of desire and the acquisition of knowledge. The films come to life in this book as the classical tragedies Cavani intended where rebels and madmen experience conflict between historical and spiritual reality the present and the past. Offering intertextual analyses within such fields as psychology history and cultural studies along with production information gleaned from Cavani's personal archives Marrone boldly advances our understanding of an intriguing important body of cinematic work.

The Delights of Turkey Edouard Roditi, 1977 Edouard Roditi's The Delights of Turkey is a confection that reminds us that short fiction need not be only a relentless probing of everyday anguish. Here is a score of witty and ingenious stories set for the most part in Asia Minor where the centuries long mingling of Turks and Armenians Greeks and Jews has evolved a vibrant culture rich in diversity. The tales are often bawdy or fanciful in the manner of the Thousand and One Nights while others are more poignantly humorous in style as we meet pasha princess and peasant become privy to the intrigues of the Ottoman harem or follow the merchant caravans on their journeys east. The collection itself is arranged thematically in four parts. A City Built on Seven Hills sketches a timeless Istanbul. The Chronicles of Bok K y tell of an Anatolian village and the legendary prowess of its
