Versions of Julia Gill Lowe, 2005      Library Journal, 1998      The Edwardians Anne Gray, 2004 This catalogue accompanies the exhibition opening at the National Gallery of Australia in March 2004 that aims to reassess the art of the Edwardian period focusing in particular on the art of Australia Among Australia's most loved artists are those who went to Europe at the turn of the 19th century to study and live Many of them stayed abroad for two decades and like Australian film stars of today became absorbed onto the world stage This book places the work of these artists in the context of the British Irish and American artists with whom they exhibited and associated and demonstrates their parallel concerns in painterly approach and subject Opening with paintings by Whistler which were so influential on the artists of this period the exhibition focuses on figurative paintings by select British Irish American and Australian artists from 1900 to 1914 It also includes George Lambert's King Edward VII 1910 completed shortly before Edward's death and now held in the Commonwealth of Australia Collection In total the exhibition comprises approximately 140 paintings sculptures costumes and fan designs drawn from national and international collections      All the Lives We Ever Lived Katharine Smyth, 2019 An intimate work of memoir and literary criticism describes how the author found literary solace and insights in Virginia Woolf's To the Lighthouse while mourning the death of her beloved father      Virginia Woolf and the Lives, Works, and Afterlives of the Brontës Hilary Newman, 2024-06-15 In her feminist polemic A Room of One's Own Virginia Woolf famously wrote of the comparatively recent literary tradition of female writers we think back through our mothers if we are women Woolf's major literary mothers were those women novelists writing during the Victorian period and earlier Virginia Woolf and the Lives Works and Afterlives of the Brontës examines all of Woolf's writings on the Brontës across a wide range of genres juvenilia novels literary essays feminist polemics diaries and letters This proves particularly fruitful as Woolf herself was both a creative artist and a literary critic As a woman she was ambivalent towards the Victorian world in which she spent her youth emotionally she remained in thrall to it but intellectually she developed the modernist novel After Woolf ceased to write publicly about the Brontës she continued to engage with them through the Hogarth Press which she had founded in 1917 with her husband Leonard She then chose to publish books on the Brontës whose approaches to them she supported Newman approaches her subject in a Woolfian way that is she avoids dogmatism and aims to open up discussion of the lives works and afterlives of the Brontës as mediated by Woolf rather than closing it down to one particular interpretation      Howards End is on the Landing Susan Hill, 2010-08-06 Early one autumn afternoon in pursuit of an elusive book on her shelves Susan Hill encountered dozens of others that she had never read or forgotten she owned or wanted to read for a second time The discovery inspired her to embark on a year long voyage through her books forsaking new purchases in order to get to know her own collection again A book which is left on a shelf for a decade is a dead thing but it is also a chrysalis packed with the potential to burst into new life Wandering through her house that day Hill s eyes were opened to how much of that life was stored in her home neglected for years Howards End is on the Landing charts the journey of one of the nation s most accomplished authors as she revisits the conversations libraries and bookshelves of the past that have informed a lifetime of reading and writing
