Shaolin Temple Kung Fu Manual Thomas Smith, 1996-09-03 Shaolin Temple Kung Fu Overview Shaolin Kung Fu was created by combining Buddhist Yogic and Taoist influences originally established within the Shaolin Tradition at the Shaolin Temple in Honan by Bodhidharma in 500 A D Original Shaolin Kung Fu evolved and was perpetuated until now in secrecy by the priest and monks at the several main

Shaolin Temples that had been established through the centuries The only times the Shaolin martial arts were taught outside the temple was when the rulers of China became ruthless in their treatment of the Chinese people These teachings were pretty much limited to what the people needed to successfully revolt A large amount of the original Shaolin teachings influences and origins were never presented to anyone but the monks These missing Shaolin influences include some self defense methods and strategies much of the physical health training methods and almost none of the spiritual Yogic and Buddhist influences These missing influences have been made available to us from the existing original Shaolin who are in exile in Taiwan from the violent communist takeover of the Chinese mainland in 1949 Also from Shaolin who were operating in Tibet prior to the violent invasion and takeover by the communist Chinese of Tibet in 1950 Since World War II the communist Chinese have effectively eliminated the ancient Taoist Buddhist and Shaolin knowledge and spiritual belief systems on the mainland due to their commitment to obtaining a modern industrial atheist society This communist influence has been responsible for considerable additional loss of the Shaolin influence on Chinese kung fu Chinese kung fu is now called Wu Shu and has become acrobatic as it lost its efficient martial influences Another unacceptable exception was made at the Shaolin Temple at Honan where due to the income from tourism they have allowed some modern Buddhism to be presented for the tourists as Shaolin This book breaks the norm of modern kung fu manuals in that it presents and explains these missing Shaolin influences history of the Shaolin Temple and the evolution of its world renowned martial arts In this meticulously researched and eminently readable study Meir Shahar considers the economic political and religious factors that led Shaolin monks to disregard the Buddhist prohibition against violence and instead create fighting techniques that by the twenty first century have spread throughout the world He examines the monks relations with successive Chinese regimes beginning with the assistance they lent to the seventh century Emperor Li Shimin and culminating more than a millennium later with their complex relations with Qing rulers who suspected them of rebellion He reveals the intimate connection between monastic violence and the veneration of the violent divinities of Buddhism and analyzes the Shaolin association of martial discipline and the search for spiritual enlightenment Shahar s exploration of the evolution of Shaolin fighting techniques serves as a prism through which to consider martial art history in general He correlates the emergence of the famous bare handed techniques of Taiji Quan Xingyi Quan and Shaolin Quan in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries to the social political and religious trends of that age He then goes on to argue that these techniques were created not only for fighting but also for religious and therapeutic purposes Thus his work fills an important gap in the understanding of Chinese religion and medicine as well as the martial arts The Shaolin Monastery is the most exhaustive study to date on the topic and the most systematic introduction to the history and the religious context of the Chinese martial arts tradition It will engage those interested in Chinese religion and history and martial arts illuminating for specialists martial artists and general readers alike the history and nature of a martial tradition that continues to grow in popularity in its native land and abroad
