escape a circus hide out in a spooky castle and outsmart the thieves before it's too late The Graph Music of Morton Feldman David Cline, 2016-05-26 Morton Feldman is widely regarded as one of America's greatest composers. His music is famously idiosyncratic but in many cases the way he presented it is also unusual because in the 1950s and 1960s he often composed in non-standard musical notations including a groundbreaking variety on graph paper that facilitated deliberately imprecise specifications of pitch and at times other musical parameters. Feldman used this notation intermittently over seventeen years producing numerous graph works that invite analysis as an evolving series. Taking this approach David Cline marshals a wide range of source materials many previously unpublished in clarifying the ideology organisation and generative history of these graphs and their formative role in the chronicle of post-war music. This assists in pinpointing connections with Feldman's compositions in other formats works by other composers notably John Cage and contemporary currents in painting. Performance practice is examined through analysis of Feldman's non-notated preferences and David Tudor's celebrated interpretations Littell's Living Age, 1870 Omaha Sociology James Owen Dorsey, 1885

Colonial Continuities and Decoloniality in the French-Speaking World Sarah Arens, Nicola Frith, Jonathan Lewis, Rebekah Vince, 2024-02-06 This volume pays tribute to the work of Professor Kate Marsh 1974-2019 an outstanding scholar whose research covered an extraordinarily wide range of interests and approaches encompassing the history of empire literature politics and cultural production across the Francophone world from the eighteenth to the twenty-first century. Each of the chapters within engages with a different aspect of Marsh's interest in French colonialism and the entanglements of its complex afterlives whether it be her interest in the longevity of imperial rivalries loss and colonial nostalgia exoticism and the female body decolonization and the ends of empire the French colonial imagination the policing of racialized bodies or anti-colonial activism and resistance. As well as reflecting the geographical and intellectual breadth of Marsh's research the volume demonstrates how her work continues to resonate with emerging scholarship around decoloniality transcolonial mobilities and anti-colonial resistance in the Francophone world. From French India to Algeria and from the Caribbean to contemporary France this collection demonstrates the persistent relevance of Marsh's scholarship to the histories and legacies of empire while opening up conversations about its implications for decolonial approaches to imperial histories and the future of Francophone Postcolonial Studies Littell's Living Age Eliakim Littell, Robert S.
