The Dawn Breakers Les Matinaux:

Matinaux René Char, 1992 Ren Char 1907 88 is one of the most important modern French poets Admired by Heidegger for the profundity of his poetic philosophy he was also a hero of the French Resistance and in the 1960s a militant anti nuclear protester Associated with the Surrealist movement for several years and a close friend of many painters notably Braque Giacometti and Picasso he wrote poetry which miraculously often challengingly confronts the major 20th century moral political and artistic concerns with a simplicity of vision and expression that owes much to the poet philosophers of ancient Greece Les Matinaux 1947 49 is perhaps his greatest collection Published after the War it looks forward to a better and freer world whilst also bearing the marks of a deep seated hatred of all fascisms It includes some of the most beautiful love poems ever written in French Michael Worton's translations convey the essence of Char's poetry which says difficult things in a simple traditional way and his introduction suggests why Char is one of the vital voices of our age Selected Poems of René Char Rene Char, 2016-01-06 This is a fine bilingual edition of the works of one of the great French Surrealists The translations by several hands serve Char well full of insinuating rhythms and unusual verbal couplings they come close to the piercing beauty of the originals Pat Monaghan Booklist The Selected Poems of Ren Char is a comprehensive bilingual overview reflecting the poet's wide stylistic and philosophical range from aphorism to dramatic lyricism In making their selections the editors have chosen the voices of seventeen poets and translators Paul Auster Samuel Beckett Cid Corman Eugene Jolas W S Merwin William Carlos Williams and James Wright to name a few in homage to a writer long held in highest esteem by the literary avant garde This Smoke that Carried Us René Char, 2004 A bilingual collection of work by one of the greatest French poets of the twentieth century Textuality and Sexuality Judith Still, Michael Worton, 1993 Reiner Schürmann and the Poetics of Politics Christopher Long, 2018 Reiner Schurmann's thinking is as he himself would say riveted to a monstrous site It remains focused on and situated between natality and mortality the ultimate traits that condition human life This book traces the contours of Schurmann's thinking in his magnum opus BROKEN HEGEMONIES in order to uncover the possibility of a politics that resists the hegemonic tendency to posit principles that set the world and our relationships with one another into violent order Long's book follows in the footsteps of Oedipus who in abject recognition of his finitude stumbles upon the possibility of another politics with the help of his daughters at Colonus The path toward this other collaboratively created and thus poetic politics begins with an encounter with Aristotle a thinker whom Schurmann most frequently read as the founder of hegemonic metaphysics but whose thinking reveals itself as alive to beginnings in ways that open new possibility for human community This return to beginnings leads in turn to Plotinus who Schurmann reads as marking the destitution of the ancient hegemony of the Parmenidean principle of the One By bringing Schurmann's innovative and compelling reading of Rene Char's poem The Shark and the Gull into dialogue with Plotinus we come to encounter the power of symbols to transform reality and open us to new constellations of possible community In Plotinus

where we expected to encounter an end we experience a new way of thinking natality in terms of what comes to language in Char as the nuptial Having thus been awakened to the power of symbols we are prepared to experience how in Kant being itself comes to expression as plurivocal in a way that reveals just how pathologically delusional it is to attempt to deploy univocal principles in a plurivocal world This opens us to what Schurmann calls the singularization to come a formulation that gestures to a mode of comportment at home in the ravaged site between natality and mortality This then returns us to Oedipus at Colonus but not to him alone Rather it points to the relationship that emerges for a time between Antigone Ismene and Oedipus as they navigate a way between their exile from Thebes and Oedipus's final resting place near Athens Here having been awakened to the power of a poetic politics we attend to three symbolic moments of touching between Oedipus and his daughters through which we might discern something of the new possibilities a poetic politics opens for us if we settle into the ravaged site that conditions our existence together

has been translated into most European languages his poetry remains little known in the English speaking world despite its immediacy and sense of fun Tardieu is a writer of enormous range and his poetry addresses problems of experience and language central to modern literature bringing lively wit and humour to bear upon an anguished interrogation of the world His father was a successful painter and his mother an accomplished musician and his fascination with the art of the writer on the one hand and paintings and music on the other is another constant presence in his work Tardieu was born in 1903 and this selection spans 80 years of his writing In his early years the difficulties of writing lyric poetry in a schizophrenic age led him to a multiplication of poetic voices and so to working for the stage and he was writing what was subsequently dubbed Theatre of the Absurd before Beckett's and Ionesco's plays had ever been performed in public He died in 1995 This selection includes the sequence Space and the Flute 1958 which Tardieu wrote for drawings by his friend Pablo Picasso Their poems and drawings are reproduced together in this edition

Poésie Ininterrompue II Paul Éluard, 1996 Paul Éluard's poetry is concerned with sexual desire and the desire for social change A central participant in Dada and in the Surrealist movement Éluard joined the French Communist Party and worked actively in the Resistance in Nazi occupied Paris Caught between the horrors of Stalinism and post war right wing anti communism his writing sustains an insistent vision of poetry as a multifaceted weapon against injustice and oppression For Éluard poetry is a way of enlightening the reader with greater emotional awareness of the social problems of the modern world Unbroken Poetry II published posthumously in 1953 pays tribute to Dominique Éluard with whom Paul spent the last years of his life It traces the internal dialogues of a passionate relationship as well as of his continuing re evaluation of the poetic project itself It centres on political commitment and places it at the heart of the lovers' desire

Selected Poems Attilio Bertolucci, 1993 Italian English bilingual edition Attilio Bertolucci was one of Italy's greatest modern poets This book is the first English edition of his poetry His translator Charles Tomlinson was known internationally as one of the most distinguished modern English poets his poems were described by Hugh Kenner as among the best in the English language in this century Born in 1911 Attilio Bertolucci published his first book of poems at the age of 18 His second published in 1934 was recognised and favourably reviewed by Eugenio Montale There followed a period of silence broken in 1951 by The Indian Wigwam which won the Viareggio Prize He published two other books in the early 50s but no more poetry until Winter Journey in 1971 his most boldly experimental as well as his most mature book He also published two bestselling volumes of a novel in verse La camera da letto a kind of family history about his parents and childhood and his love for Ninetta the mother of Giuseppe and Bernardo Bertolucci his two film director sons A frequent cause of pleasure and also disquiet in Bertolucci's poetry is his sense of time the calm fire of the days The critic Paolo Lagazzi speaks of Bertolucci although slowly bleeding to death because wounded by time as also drawing from time all the gifts colours sweetnesss still possible while darkness and winter advance without truce

Poetry Criticism Cumulative Title Index 05, 2005-05 Du Mouvement Et de L'immobilité de Douve Yves Bonnefoy, 1992 Yves Bonnefoy 1923 2016 was a central figure in post war French culture with a lifelong fascination with the problems of translation Language for him was a visceral intensely material element in our existence and yet the abstract quality of words distorts the immediate material quality of our contact with the world This concern with what separates words from an essential truth hidden in objects involved him in wide ranging philosophical and theological investigations of the spiritual and the sacred But for all his intellectual drive and rigour Bonnefoy s poetry is essentially of the concrete and the tangible and addresses itself to our most familiar and intimate experiences of objects and of each other In his first book of poetry published in France in 1953 Bonnefoy reflects on the value and mechanism of language in a series of short variations on the life and death of a much loved woman Douve Douve though is the French word for a moat that uncrossable body which separates us from safety and from danger With this undercurrent at work we read the poems as if they are about the divide between us and death as much as they are about the divide between us and the untouchable reality of text This is dangerous writing fulfilling Derrida s fatal necessity by making us substitute the textual sign for reality In his introduction Timothy Mathews shows how Bonnefoy s poetics are enmeshed with his philosophical religious and critical thought The State of Poetry Gerald Dawe,1993
