The Death Of An Adult Child A For And About Bereaved Parents:

The Death of an Adult Child Jeanne Webster Blank, 2016-11-03 This book was written to be a comfort and guide for bereaved parents whose adult child has died to show by sharing our experiences that we are not alone in our responses to our child's death that we are not weak defective in character or otherwise inadequate because of the way we grieve to spell out ways in which some of us have increased our understanding of our condition found solace dispelled guilt and anger overcome depression come to terms with survivors and memorialized our deceased children Questionnaires were sent to more than sixty bereaved parents of adult children who died and many anonymous examples from these questionnaires are Grief and the Loss of an Adult Child Otto S. Margolis, 1988-02-04 This book examines and used throughout the book describes aspects of acute grief that are peculiar to those who have lost an adult son or daughter The essays in this volume express the view of scholars clinicians social workers and individuals who have personally experienced the loss of an adult child Each contributor describes his or her experiences within the scope of thanatology itself a discipline whose focus is on the practice of supportive physical and emotional care for those whose lives are threatened with an equal concern exhibited for the well being of their family members A philosopy of caregiving is proposed that reinforces alternative ways of enhancing the quality of life introduces methods of intervention on behalf of the emotional status of all involved and fosters a more mature understanding of the dying process and the problems of seperation loss bereavement and grief Adult Child's Grieving Heart Alan D. Wolfelt, 2002-09-01 Offering heartfelt and simple advice this book provides realistic suggestions and relief for an adult child whose parent has died Practical advice is presented in a one topic per page format that does not overwhelm with psychological language but provides small immediate ways to understand and reconcile grief Some of the action oriented tips include writing down memories completing a task or goal left unfinished by your deceased parent or honoring the parent's birthday In addition the common challenges that face grieving adult children such as helping the surviving parent resolving sibling conflicts and legal and financial issues are addressed clearly and concisely

Handbook of Death and Dying Clifton D. Bryant,2003-10 Dying is a social as well as physiological phenomenon Each society characterizes and consequently treats death and dying in its own individual ways ways that differ markedly These particular patterns of death and dying engender modal cultural responses and such institutionalized behavior has familiar economical educational religious and political implications The Handbook of Death and Dying takes stock of the vast literature in the field of thanatology arranging and synthesizing what has been an unwieldy body of knowledge into a concise yet comprehensive reference work This two volume handbook will provide direction and momentum to the study of death related behavior for many years to come Key Features More than 100 contributors representing authoritative expertise in a diverse array of disciplines Anthropology Family Studies History Law Medicine Mortuary Science Philosophy Psychology Social work Sociology Theology A distinguished editorial board of leading scholars and researchers in the field More than 100 definitive essays covering almost every dimension of death related behavior Comprehensive and inclusive exploring concepts and social patterns within the larger topical concern Journal article length essays that address topics with appropriate detail Multidisciplinary and cross cultural coverage Working with Bereaved Parents Louis A. Gamino, 2025-03-28 Working with Bereaved Parents is a thoughtful guide for frontline practitioners in mental health and medicine who face the daunting task of helping parents after the death of a child Within a culturally inclusive and respectful framework chapters consider several psychosocial factors that complicate parental bereavement as well as helpful factors that facilitate adaptation The author shows how contemporary theory and findings from evidence based research can be artfully applied to clinical practice with bereaved parents The book also shares a range of strategies for promoting parents resilience and personal growth in the wake of devastating loss Grief Counseling and Grief Therapy, 3rd Edition J. William Worden, 2008 Children and Death Costa Papadatos, Danai Papadatou, 2013-02-01 Selected papers from the 1st International Conference on Children and Death held in October November 1989 in Athens It was attended by over 500 participants from all over the world The Bereavement of Martyred Palestinian Children Maram Masarwi, 2019-11-11 This book examines the phenomenon of individual and collective bereavement in Palestinian society It seeks to explore the boundaries of the discourse of bereavement and commemoration in that society through the interactive relations between religion nationality and gender and the ways these influence the shaping of the mourning process for Palestinian parents who have lost their children in the second al Agsa Intifada Over the course of the book s five chapters Maram Masarwi scrutinizes how these components have shaped the differences in behavior between bereaved fathers and bereaved mothers what characterizes these differences how they are expressed and how they have managed to shape the characteristics of the experience of Palestinian bereavement Post Traumatic Stress Theory John Harvey, Brian Pauwels, 2013-08-21 Few phenomena are as widely experienced across different individuals cultures and contexts as that of traumatic stress Whether as victims perpetrators supporters or simply observers most people can identify to some extent with the psychological and physical consequences produced by traumatic events This text examines the nature of traumatic stress the contexts in which it occurs and the needs and coping strategies of its survivors Topics include the survivors of rape soldiers of war and the nature of coping with loss or trauma in old age Furthermore the roles of culture social support and more formal organizations in the ongoing process of overcoming trauma are explored as the text details the nature of traumatic experiences the needs of survivors and the challenges faced by those who wish to support and help those survivors Aging in Israel Sara Carmel, In the twentieth century all developed nations began to undergo unprecedented demographic changes as their birth rates declined and life expectancies increased significantly an average of thirty years in less than a century These developments have caused major transformations in the composition of populations in these countries especially in terms of the proportions of the various age groups While the age groups of children and adolescents have decreased those of elderly persons aged 65 and over have increased Consistent with the situation in other developed nations the absolute number and percentage of elderly persons in the Israeli population is increasing while the percentage of younger persons is decreasing Israel however differs from other developed countries in the pace of this demographic change the composition of its population and the ways it can address needs related to aging The demographic figures in Israel indicate that not only is the proportion of elderly persons in the total population growing but that the old population itself is rapidly aging as well This volume exemplifies how social science research can promote knowledge about and understanding of needs and opportunities for adaptation and assist in evaluating the outcomes of policies and services on the personal community and national levels as well as suggest required changes The variety of topics covered in this volume on age related research policies and practice reflects a wide range of research by Israeli scholars on social aspects of aging Their research offers a glimpse into the knowledge base that has been built over the years on the aging process in Israel the population of elderly people and the national policies and network of services for the aged Other developed countries with aging populations have much to learn from the Israeli experience Sara Carmel is professor of medical sociology and gerontology at Ben Gurion University Israel head of the Center for Multidisciplinary Research in Aging President of the Israel Gerontological Society President of ILC Israel and founding head of the Israel National Fund for Research in Aging at the Ministry of Senior Affairs She is the author of more than 150 scientific publications including two edited volumes on global aging and has served on numerous national and international committees for academic and policy affairs Living Through Loss Nancy R. Hooyman, Betty J. Kramer, 2008 Hooyman and Kramer's starting point is that loss comes in many forms and can include not only suffering the death of a person one loves but also giving birth to a child with disabilities living with chronic illness or being abused assaulted or otherwise traumatized They approach loss from the perspective of the resilience model which acknowledges the capacity of people to integrate loss into their lives and write sensitively about the role of age race culture sexual orientation Ethical and Social Aspects in Pediatric gender and spirituality in a person s response to loss from publisher information and Congenital Heart Surgery Antonio Corno, 2025-07-14 This book focuses on the ethical and social aspects related to pediatric and congenital heart surgery The surgical procedures required for the repair of a congenital heart malformations are frequently seen as only a technical problem limited to cut and stitch On the contrary there are endless aspects to take into consideration from the communications with the child patient unless he she is a neonate or small infant and his her family trust building with the family the ethical issues related to the choice of type and timing among the available surgical options in relationship to the needs of the patient and his her family and their cultural and socioeconomic environment the impact of the differences in culture education religion socio economic situation the balance between risks and potential benefits in complex operations without any margin for error the information to the patient and his her family of the potential early and late complications including death the involvement of teamwork required for each procedure with members of a large team not directly under control by the surgeon with potential mistakes and or omissions by any member of the team the way of sharing bad results and the support to the family in the case of poor outcomes While a few books deal partly with some of these aspects this is the first work entirely dedicated to address them all This important and unique work draws on the author's many years of experience in many different hospitals in different countries and continents Key audiences include the very large number of families of children who underwent or need to undergo surgery for a congenital heart defect all the caregivers and practitioners involved with the management of these patients and all researchers and students dealing with Our Walk with Elephants Peggy Boone, Bonnie Headington PH D, Peggy Boone Ph D, Ph D the topic of heart malformations Boone, 2003-10-06 This book relates the personal stories of 18 mothers who have lost adult children to accident suicide murder and major illness The stories trace the similarities and the levels of grief and bereavement over a time frame of from four months to thirty five years The mothers range from 30 to 85 years of age The lost children were from 16 through 45 years of age From the responses to a common list of questions asked of over 75 survivor mothers stories were selected and transcribed The questions focused on changes in the grief and bereavement process over time The stories serve as a framework for a review of prevailing theories of grief and bereavement The book was initiated for a variety of reasons to offer a sense of camaraderie and hope to other bereaved parents to re frame the losses as continuing relationships to provide tools of understanding to professionals and friends who work with bereaved parents and to memorialize the lost children

The Spiritual Lives of Bereaved Parents Dennis Klass, 2013-11-12 This book describes how parents lose find or relocate spiritual anchors after the death of their child It describes how ordinary people reconstruct their lives after their foundations have shifted and how they make sense of their world after one of their centers of meaning has been removed Klass grounds his descriptions of spirituality in his scholarly study of comparative religions and in his two decades studying the lives of bereaved parents He argues that continuing bonds with their dead children can give parents a new transcendent reality Deceased children like saints or bodhisattvas can offer a bridge between the profane and sacred worlds support parents as they find meaning in a world made forever poorer and bind together a community adequate to parents grief The book reports Klass's clinical practice and his work as advisor to a bereaved parents self help support group Perinatal and Pediatric Bereavement in Nursing and Other Health Professions Beth Perry Black, Patricia Moyle Wright, Rana Limbo, 2015-09-10 This is a definitive state of the art resource for professionals who provide bereavement care to families when a baby or older child dies Culling the most important new evidence from scholars and practitioners worldwide it links theoretical knowledge and clinical practice recommendations to fill a gap in the current literature The text is distinguished by its provision of different and even competing perspectives that address the complexities of the tragic human experience of perinatal and pediatric death Expert contributors from the fields of nursing and other health professions disseminate new theoretical approaches and reexamine current concepts in light of new research They discuss the theoretical underpinnings of perinatal and pediatric bereavement examine current thought on the dimensions of loss deliver evidence based clinical interventions and offer the perspective of grieving families in regard to their experiences and needs
