The Design of Rural Development Uma J. Lele, World Bank, 1975 The design of rural development Uma Jayant Lele, 1975 The Design of Rural Development Uma Lele, 1975 The Development of Aid Gerard Van Bilzen, 2015-01-12

Aid to developing countries started well before World War II but was undertaken as an ad hoc activity or was delivered by private organizations. This changed after the War. In his Inaugural Address in 1949 the American President Harry Truman announced a bold new programme for making the benefits of our scientific advances and industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of underdeveloped nations: the so-called Point IV Plan. At that time it was thought that this support would be needed only for a limited number of years comparable to the Marshall Plan assistance to Europe. But reality proved to be different: providing aid was a very long term affair. Since the Fifties the aid provided has changed at different occasions. In the beginning aid concentrated on constructing infrastructure such as roads, railways, dams and harbours in order to promote industrial development. In the Sixties aid to agriculture was added and in the Seventies aid to social sectors. Basic Needs was also provided. The Eighties brought worldwide debt problems. Major donors applied structural adjustment policies, some called this the lost decade or cada perdida. The Nineties saw the arrival of the first environmental considerations and asked for attention for the role of women and good governance. The form of aid changed from projects to programmes and budget support. Describing the different aid forms of the last 65 years and analysing why aid changed from time to time are the subjects of this book. Professionals and students in the area of international cooperation will benefit from studying this history as at this moment old concepts are reappearing or applied by new donors like China. Is the pendulum really swinging back as Louis Emmerij at one point suggested?

WIDER: The World Institute for Development Economics Research established in 1984 started work in Helsinki in 1985 with the financial support of the Government of Finland. The principal purpose of the Institute is to help identify and meet the need for policy oriented socio-economic research on pressing global and development problems and their interrelationships. WIDER's research projects are grouped into three main themes: hunger and poverty, money, finance and trade, and development and technological transformation. Volume III deals with the strategic options for the elimination of endemic hunger. The topics covered include the comparative extent of hunger and deprivation in different parts of the world, the influence of food production the interconnections between economic growth and public support the role of economic diversification in reducing vulnerability the potential impact of direct public provisioning on living standards and the politics of public action In addition to general analyses the book examines the international relevance of a number of specific country experiences in Asia Africa and Latin America including those of China India Sri Lanka Brazil Kenya Bangladesh and Nigeria The Political Economy of Hunger: Volume 3: Endemic Hunger Jean Drèze, Amartya Sen, 1990 Part of a major report on world hunger instigated by the World Institute for Development Economics Research this volume deals with possible solutions to the problem of regular outbreaks of famine in various parts of the world Foreign Assistance and Related Agencies Appropriations for 1979 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Foreign Operations and Related Agencies (1968?-1978), 1978 Foreign Assistance and Related Agencies Appropriations United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Foreign Operations and Related Agencies Appropriations, 1979 Foreign Assistance and Related Agencies Appropriations for 1979 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Foreign Operations and Related Agencies, 1978 How the World Hunger Problem Was not Solved Christian Gerlach, 2024-02-14 The world food crisis 1972 1975 gave rise to new development concepts To eradicate world hunger small peasants were supposed to use modern inputs like high yielding seeds fertilizer pesticides and irrigation This would turn subsistence producers into business owners transform rural areas invigorate national economies and the crisis stricken world economy and thus stabilize capitalism Together with an in depth account of the world food crisis this book analyses how this global scheme largely failed It shows its diverse initiators their reasoning and motives its political breakthrough the degrees to which it was implemented globally and nationally in the following decades and its socioeconomic effects in rural areas Despite internationally coordinated policies and coercive means the scheme failed on all levels situation analysis design policies incapable institutions including big business implementation and peasants responses Selective realization in certain regions and for certain crops and the appropriation of funds by local elites often aggravated inequality and hunger Case studies are about Bangladesh Indonesia Tanzania and Mali The book shows limits to global social engineering imperialism and state control It is aimed at students scholars activists and non specialists interested in development and the world food problem The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license International Agricultural Development Carl K. Eicher, John M. Staatz, 1998-11-20 Other topics include market failures food insecurity rural poverty environmental degradation income and asset inequality fiscally sustainable organizations the changing roles of the public and private sector in research input delivery systems marketing and low rates of agricultural growth in much of sub Saharan Africa Urban Planning and Policies Chiranji Singh Yadav, 1987 African Food Systems in Crisis Rebecca Huss-Ashmore, Solomon H Katz, 2019-07-19 Originally published in 1991 Commissioned by the Task Force on African Famine of the American Anthropological Association this the second part of a project examining the causes of food system failure in Africa and the effects of attempts to remedy the situation It evaluates the often retrogressive results of foreign aid to African nations and offers an anthropological perspective on how to reverse this trend The contributors emphasize integrating all development programs with the regional customs and traditions already in place that have thus far allowed its people to cope with food and water shortages In the past various strategies have failed due to misunderstandings and incorrect assumptions concerning gender roles food consumption habits social relations kinship networks land use and government function New understanding of the culture must be complemented with multifaceted programs incorporating education a concern for grass roots opinion and control attention to production and consumption patterns and various forms of broad spectrum integrated development The uniqueness research is recommended for all who are concerned about worldwide malnutrition and those who understand the need to recognize local traditions as resources that must be included in any successful development program Livestock Development In Kenya's Maasailand Phylo Evangelou,2019-03-04 Throughout Subsaharan Africa traditional pastoral societies are experiencing great change as ecological limitations intensify and national demands for livestock products expand In light of these pressures the transition of pastoralists from a principally subsistence way of life to greater involvement in market economies seems inevitable Focusin Food for All Uma J. Lele,Uma Lele,Manmohan Agarwal,Brian C. Baldwin,Sambuddha Goswami,2021 This book assesses the prospects for achieving the sustainable development goals and the role of international organizations in achieving them in light of recent economic medical and environmental developments What Works? D. Scott Slocombe,1993 The Development Process Akin Mabogunje,2015-12-14 Written from the perspective of developing countries this book discusses the development process from a spatial perspective focussing particularly on the evoluion of the intra national space economy With emphasis on African nations this book offers a distinctive interpretation of the current situation and policy prescriptions differing significantly from previous literature in the area Foreign Aid in Africa Jerker Carlsson,Gloria Somolekae,Nicolas Van de Walle,1997 This volume reports on the findings of an international research project on aid effectiveness in Africa Issues In Third World Development Kenneth C Nobe,2019-09-10 Eminent economists and development experts focus on a number of concerns that are currently the major preoccupation of development economists policymakers and practitioners The issues addressed in this collection center on strategies to eradicate poverty reduce inequality and deal effectively with problems of management and the utilization of land and water resources The contributors analyze the issues in the context of past experience the present international setting and possible alternative strategies for the future and consider as well theoretical and methodological concerns
