Himalayan Journals, Volume II Joseph Dalton Hooker, 2024-08-01 This is Volume II of the Himalayan Journals or the notes of a naturalist travelling in Bengal The Sikkim and Nepal Himalayas the Khasia Mountains Little Ice Ages Jean M. Grove, 2004 This concise and accessible new text offers original and insightful analysis of the policy paradigm informing international statebuilding interventions The book covers the theoretical frameworks and practices of international statebuilding the debates they have triggered and the way that international statebuilding has developed in the post Cold War era Spanning a broad remit of policy practices from post conflict peacebuilding to sustainable development and EU enlargement Chandler draws out how these policies have been cohered around the problematization of autonomy or self government Rather than promoting democracy on the basis of the universal capacity of people for self rule international statebuilding assumes that people lack capacity to make their own judgements safely and therefore that democracy requires external intervention and the building of civil society and state institutional capacity Chandler argues that this policy framework inverts traditional liberal democratic understandings of autonomy and freedom privileging governance over government and that the dominance of this policy perspective is a cause of concern for those who live in states involved in statebuilding as much as for those who are subject to these new regulatory frameworks Encouraging readers to reflect upon the changing understanding of both state society relations and of the international sphere itself this work will be of great interest to all scholars of international relations international security and development The Correspondence of Charles Darwin: Volume 5, 1851-1855 Charles Darwin, Frederick Burkhardt, 1985 For the first time full authoritative texts of Darwin's are made available edited according to modern textual editorial principles and practice Letter writing was of crucial importance to Darwin's work not only because his poor health isolated him from direct personal communication with his scientific colleagues but also because the nature of his investigations required communication with naturalists in many fields and in all quarters of the globe Thus the letters are a mine of information about the work in progress of a creative genius who produced an intellectual revolution Himalayan Kingdom Bhutan Awadhesh Coomar Sinha, 2001 Predominantly on contemporary politics of Bhutan The Himalayan Journal, 2004 The Tropics And the Traveling Gaze David Arnold, 2006 Offers a new interpretation of the history of colonial India and a critical contribution to the understanding of environmental history and the tropical world Arnold considers the ways in which India's material environment became increasingly subject to the colonial understanding of landscape and nature and to the scientific scrutiny of itinerant naturalists *Proceedings of the Ninth Seminar of the IATS, 2000.
