Ageless Nation Michael G. Zey, 2014-06-12 In this intriguing volume futurist and author Michael G Zey imagines a time in which technology has stretched human life spans to four hundred years or more Genetic engineering cloning and stem cell technology will eradicate diseases and allow for nanoscopic repair and maintenance of the body Smart drugs and caloric restriction programs will largely stop aging and ensure healthy bodies and sharp minds indefinitely Grounding his speculation in contemporary scientific research Zey's optimistic vision sees retirement replaced by hiatuses between careers and leisure time spent in multi generational homes Key players in the debate include supporters like Cambridge University scientist Aubrey de Grey who envisions five thousand year life spans and the radical futurist author Ray Kurzweil who foresees the merging of humans and computers Organizations such as the Coalition to Extend Life lobby the government for immortality research funding and find opposition in the President's Council on Bioethics and deep ecologists advocating zero population growth Criticizing current environmental trends as anti progress and anti human Zey's own solutions include controversial measures like human control of weather colonization of outer space and genetically modifying food He concludes that the eventuality of a modern Fountain of Youth is closer than we think Zey's predictions about the future are thoughtful and fascinating

Mundy, 2018-03-22 Winner Book Prize in Latin American Studies Colonial Section of Latin American Studies Association LASA 2016 ALAA Book Award Association for Latin American Art Arvey Foundation 2016 The capital of the Aztec empire Tenochtitlan was in its era one of the largest cities in the world Built on an island in the middle of a shallow lake its population numbered perhaps 150 000 with another 350 000 people in the urban network clustered around the lake shores In 1521 at the height of Tenochtitlan's power which extended over much of Central Mexico Hernando Cortés and his followers conquered the city Cortés boasted to King Charles V of Spain that Tenochtitlan was destroyed and razed to the ground But was it Drawing on period representations of the city in sculptures texts and maps The Death of Aztec Tenochtitlan the Life of Mexico City builds a convincing case that this global capital remained through the sixteenth century very much an Amerindian city Barbara E Mundy foregrounds the role the city's indigenous peoples the Nahuatl played in shaping Mexico City through the construction of permanent architecture and engagement in ceremonial actions She demonstrates that the Aztec ruling elites who retained power even after the conquest were instrumental in building and then rebuilding the city Mundy shows how the Nahuatl entered into mutually advantageous alliances with the Franciscans to maintain the city's sacred nodes She also focuses on the practical and symbolic role of the city's extraordinary waterworks the product of a massive ecological manipulation begun in the fifteenth century to reveal how the Nahuatl struggled to maintain control of water resources in early Mexico City

Death, Ritual, and Belief Douglas Davies, 2002-04-30 Describing a great variety of funeral ritual from major world religions and from local traditions this book shows how cultures not only cope with corpses but also create an added value for living through the encouragement of afterlife beliefs The explosion of interest in death in recent years reflects the key theme of this book the rhetoric of death the way cultures use the most potent weapon of words to bring new power to life This new edition is one third longer than the original with new material on the death of Jesus the most theorized death ever which offers a useful case study for students There is also empirical material from contemporary recent events such as the death of Diana and an expanded section on theories of grief which will make the book more attractive to death counsellors Life and Death in the Andes Kim MacQuarrie,2016-12-13 Kim MacQuarrie tells stories of South America s history from Butch Cassidy to Che Guevara to cocaine king Pablo Escobar to the last survivor of an Indian tribe all set in the Andes Mountains The Life Course in Old English Poetry Harriet Soper,2023-12-07 The first book length study of the whole lifespan in Old English verse exploring how poets depicted varied paths through life This title is part of the Flip it Open Programme and may also be available Open Access Check our website Cambridge Core for details Berlin: Life and Death in the City at the Center of the World Sinclair McKay,2022-08-23 Sinclair McKay s portrait of Berlin from 1919 forward explores the city s broad human history from the end of the Great War to the Blockade rise of the Wall and beyond Sinclair McKay s Berlin begins by taking readers back to 1919 when the city emerged from the shadows of the Great War to become an extraordinary by word for modernity in art cinema architecture industry science and politics He traces the city s history through the rise of Hitler and the Battle for Berlin which ended in the final conquest of the city in 1945 It was a key moment in modern world history but beyond the global repercussions lay thousands of individual stories of agony From the countless women who endured nightmare ordeals at the hands of the Soviet soldiers to the teenage boys fitted with steel helmets too big for their heads and guns too big for their hands McKay thrusts readers into the human cataclysm that tore down the modernity of the streets and reduced what was once the most sophisticated city on earth to ruins Amid the destruction a collective instinct was also at work a determination to restore not just the rhythms of urban life but also its fierce creativity In Berlin today there is a growing and urgent recognition that the testimonies of the ordinary citizens from 1919 forward should be given more prominence That the housewives office clerks factory workers and exuberant teenagers who witnessed these years of terrifying and for some initially exhilarating transformation should be heard Today the exciting youthful Berlin we see is patterned with echoes that lean back into that terrible vortex In this new history of Berlin Sinclair McKay erases the lines between the generations of Berliners making their voices heard again to create a compelling living portrait of life in this city that lay at the center of the world Indigenous Life After the Conquest Caterina Pizzigoni,Camilla Townsend,2021-03-04 This book presents a unique set of written records belonging to the De la Cruz family caciques of Tepemaxalco in the Toluca Valley Composed in Nahuatl and Spanish and available here both in the original languages and in English translation this collection of documents opens a window onto the life of a family from colonial Mexico s indigenous elite and sheds light on the broader indigenous world within the Spanish colonial system The main text is a record created in 1647 by long serving governor don Pedro de la Cruz and continued by his heirs through the nineteenth century along with two wills and several other notable documents These sources document a community history illuminating broader issues centering on politics religion and economics as well as providing unusual insight into the concerns and values of indigenous leaders These texts detail the projects financed by the De la Cruz family how they talked about them and which belongings they deemed important enough to pass along after their death Designed for classroom use this clear and concise primary source includes a wealth of details about indigenous everyday life and preserves and makes accessible a rich and precious heritage The engaging introduction highlights issues of class relations and the public and performative character of Nahua Christianity The authors provide the necessary tools to help students understand the colonial context in which these documents were produced Life and Death Jules Albert Franck Dastre, Albert Dastre, 1911 God's Mother, Eve's Advocate Tina Beattie, 2002-12-01 Tina Beattie has written a stunning book on the theology of woman Her stated objective is to discern the place of the female body in the Christian story of salvation and she has done so from the very heart of Christian stylisations of the female the figures of Mary and Eve Beattie has pursued her subject with the aid of French psychoanalytic feminism these writers are preoccupied as is Catholic theology with questions of language and symbolism But she deliberately puts herself at odds with neo orthodoxy and feminist liberal theology she believes that theologians like von Balthasar depart from the best Patristic tradition of Marian theology with disastrous effect Nor does she offer any solace to the Marina Warners of this world in a book which is strong in defence of classical Marian theology She defends with passion and theological insight not only the Virgin Birth the Immaculate Conception and the Assumption but also the perpetual virginity of Mary Virginal desire according to Beattie need not be seen negatively but as an affirmation of the integrity of women's desire before God in a way not dependent on the phallus nor reducible to genitality The Life and Death of an Ideal Albert Léon Guérard, 1928 The Life of Cesare Borgia Rafael Sabatini, 1914 Life and Death in the Ancient City of Teotihuacan Rebecca Storey, 1992-01-30 Cities arose independently in both the Old World and in the pre Columbian New World Lacking written records many of these New World cities can be studied only through archaeology including the earliest pre Columbian city Teotihuacan Mexico one of the largest cities of its time 150 B C to A D 750 Thus an important question is how similar New World cities are to their Old World counterparts Storey's research shows clearly that although Teotihuacan was a very different environment and culture from 17th century London these two great cities are comparable in terms of health problems and similar death rates

Confronting Death Luis Moris, 2024-09-12 The essays collected for this book demonstrate how Jungian analysts and scholars find Jung's concepts useful companions when confronting death The authors courageously share intimate experiences and memories about the end of life These are precious and helpful essays about the one thing that we will all certainly experience death The Life of Cesare Borgia of France Rafael Sabatini, 1912
