Explaining the Reasons We Share Mark Schroeder, 2014-05-22 Normative ethical theories generally purport to be explanatory to tell us not just what is good or what conduct is right but why Drawing on both historical and contemporary approaches Mark Schroeder offers a distinctive picture of how such explanations must work and of the specific commitments that they incur According to Schroeder explanatory moral theories can be perfectly general only if they are reductive offering accounts of what it is for something to be good right or what someone ought to do So ambitious highly general normative ethical theorizing is continuous with metaethical inquiry Moreover he argues that such explanatory theories face a special challenge in accounting for reasons or obligations that are universally shared and develops an autonomy based strategy for meeting this challenge in the case of requirements of rationality Explaining the Reasons We Share pulls together over a decade of work by one of the leading figures in contemporary metaethics One new and ten previously published papers weave together treatments of reasons reduction supervenience instrumental rationality and legislation to paint a sharp contrast between two plausible but competing pictures of the nature and limits of moral explanation one from Cudworth and one indebted to Kant A substantive new introduction provides a map to reading these essays as a unified argument and qualifies their conclusions in light of Schroeder's current views Along with its sister volume Expressing Our Attitudes this volume advances the theme that metaethical inquiry is continuous with other areas of philosophy

Slices Of Life: Moments, Meals, Meanings and The World We Share Radhika Sarathkumar, This collection of poetic expressions entitled Slices of Life Moments Meals Meanings and The World We Share is a compendium of genuine heartfelt emotions sometimes funny sometimes weird sometimes emotionally touching sometimes philosophical and undoubtedly often a spontaneous overflow to borrow from Wordsworthian concept Radhika S the author who penned these poems has given a free play to her innermost self which is driven by the need to be grateful faithful and at times by the mysterious sensibilities that life offers Each poem is unique in its own way presenting a kaleidoscopic view of people and moments as perceived by the author herself No doubt the poems are autobiographical inspired by the memories and everybody's favourite business but for none more urgently than for the young. This is a book for the young at heart taking us in a series of enchanting tales through the torments and joys of a youth struggling to learn about love. Set in the dark days of the mid twentieth century when young people's lives were severely cramped by the mores of the era the stories ooze a sense of the period. When in 1935 ten year old Yorkshire schoolboy Derek Lawson meets a girl who sings love songs to him in a field he makes a surprising discovery about his own nature. In his teenage years he experiments further with erotic love and starts to discover its complexities. War service in the navy brings him a torrent of new experiences including surviving in a world without women. Adapting turning into a world traveller and a hardened sea goer he acquires a superficial toughness yet his yearnings remain unsatisfied. His search for sexual experience becomes a quest to find a permanent partner in the dance of life. After the war when he has found his woman he succumbs to parental pressure and breaks off the relationship. Now he learns another important lesson that love is not child's play it's the central business of life. Finally he wakes up to the secret of what sexual love is really all about.
