The Danube Covenant:

The Danube Covenant John Michael Elliot, 1977 The Development of Human Rights Law by the Judges of the International Court of Justice Shiv R.S. Bedi, 2007-01-18 The jurisprudence of the International Court of Justice generally demonstrates that no rule of international law can be interpreted and applied without regard to its innate values and the basic principles of human rights Through its case law the ICJ has made immense contributions to the development of human rights law and in so doing continues to provide solutions to mounting international problems such as terrorism and unilateral use of force Part I of the book argues that the legislative spirit of contemporary international law lies in the doctrine of human rights and that the spirit of human rights doctrine lies in the principle of human dignity Furthermore it argues that the processes of international legislation and international adjudication are inseparable and that there is no norm of international law which does not intertwine the fundamental principle of human dignity with human rights doctrine Hence human rights law is more a school of law than merely a normative branch of international law and the ICJ's willingness to engage in the development of human rights law depends upon which judicial ideology its judges subscribe to In order to evaluate how this human rights spirit is manifested or occasionally not manifested through the vast jurisprudence of the ICJ Parts II and III critically examine the Court's principal contentious and advisory cases in which it has treated human rights questions The legal reasoning of the Court and the opinions appended to its decisions by its individual judges are analysed in light of the principle of human dignity and the doctrine of human rights Swords and Covenants Adrian Preston, Peter Dennis, 2021-03-30 Originally published in 1976 this book honours the centenary of The Royal Military College of Canada 1876 1976 It comprises nine essays written by military historians who have been or still are in some way as staff and students connected with RMC since 1948 The essays range in time from the American invasion of Canada in 1775 to Hungary on the eve of the Second World War and in place from Upper Canada to the North West Frontier of India The theme running through the book is the problem of civil military relations and how this has been faced in Canada in the nineteenth century in the defence of India in the nineteenth century and in the First World War and post war period in Great Britain and Hungary

Barton, 1862 Maritime Boundary Settlement Treaty and East Coast Fishery Resources Agreement United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Foreign Relations, 1980 The Advocate of Peace, 1918 A handbook on the new law of the sea. 2 (1991) René Jean Dupuy, Daniel Vignes, 1991-10-16 The fact that the Montego Bay Convention has been only ratified by 37 States at present and that it will be some time before the 60 ratifications required by Article 308 are achieved has not prevented states from acting in accordance with the rules drawn up by the Conference. Close on one hundred states have established either exclusive economic zones broadly modelled on Part V or 200 nautical mile fishery zones and drawn on the principles laid down for exploiting living resources. Although these laws have been formulated unilaterally by states international custom since the judgement by the International Court of Justice in the Fisheries Case of 18 December 1951 is derived from concordant national rules. This shift began even before the Conference ended and has been consolidated since then. Moreover the regime governing the sea bed beyond the limits of national jurisdiction defined by Part XI which was the stumbling block of the Conference is subject to transitional arrangements on the basis of two resolutions adopted in the Conference's Final Act, one providing for the establishment of a Preparatory Commission and the other on the preliminary activities of pioneer investors. This two volume work, an earlier edition of which appeared in French, has been written by a team of experts of international renown. It presents an analysis of the Convention with an additional Chapter on the legal regime governing underwater archaeological and historical objects.
