Breeders' Association (Incorporated). ,1987 The Light Princess George MacDonald,1893 Blackening Europe Heike Raphael-Hernandez,2012-11-12 Traditional Scholars have often looked at African American studies through the lens of European theories resulting in the secondarization of the African American presence in Europe and its contributions to European culture Blackening Europe reverses this pattern by using African American culture as the starting point for a discussion of its influences over traditional European structures Evidence of Europe s blackening abound form French ministers of Hip hop and British incarnations of Shaft to slavery memorial in the Netherlands and German youth sporting dreadlocks Collecting essays by scholars from both sides of the Atlantic and fields as diverse as history literature politics social studies art film and music Blackening Europe explores the implications of these cultural hybrids and extends the growing dialogues about Europe s fascination with African America The Light Princess and Other Fairy Tales George MacDonald,2013-02-27 Good and evil fairies abound in this rich collection of compelling tales by one of the foremost fantasy writers of the nineteenth century So do magical lands sinister monsters giants ogres and other creatures from the realm of the imagination In The Light Princess a young royal bewitched at birth by her spiteful aunt is cursed with uncontrollable bouts of lightness Gravity it seems doesn t affect her A little boy in The Golden Key is told he can find a magical key at the end of the rainbow What the key will open though is part of its mystery And in The Giant s Heart the monster in question is truly heartless for he s hidden his heart and it s up to two determined children to find the awful thing and put an end to the colossal ogre These and five other beguiling tales all delightfully illustrated by famed pre Raphaelite painter Arthur Hughes are sure to charm readers of all ages those already familiar with MacDonald and those about to meet him for the first time

African Caribbean Pupils in Art Education Paul Dash,2010-01-01 This book deals with the issue of African Caribbean pupil invisibility in the art and design classroom As such it addresses African Caribbean pupil invisibility in almost any teaching and learning context The book argues that the slave trade which ruptured their continuities with an African past continues to impact on the learning of such pupils relative to others In seeking to explicate this matter the book places African Caribbean pupils in the wider context of African Caribbean and Western cultural identities Just where do they belong To address this matter it calls on the theorising of thinkers with an interest in identity construction learning and belonging particularly with reference to the Caribbean The book is organised in three sections the first presents the rationale for the enquiry the second outlines the outcome from a small research project with a focus on African Caribbean learners in the art and design classroom and the third reflects on key issues that emerged from the research in relation to the rationale The book ends by offering possibilities for developing African Caribbean teaching and learning in art and design African Caribbean Pupils in Art Education is very erudite and the centre of a world of reference and allusion Dash relates its arguments and insights to many different writers and contexts These will lead readers to many other writers and their arguments in related fields of study personalised research interviews with teachers and students adds realism and close to the bone insight to the points Dash makes These interviews are not academised and made tedious or uninteresting but real life and real classroom and curriculum issues come out clearly and undisguisedly in the subjects words Many of their points are full of meaning and lucidity and add more power to Dash s arguments Thus the book will be of real value to prospective teachers and teacher educators too as a tool of learning and a stimulus for discussion The book goes a long way beyond only being a text for Art Education students It s arguments have salience for all Educationalists and trainee teachers as well as for staffrooms in Britain and North America Canada and the U S for example It deals with vital questions both for African Caribbean students and their white and Asian classmates canvassing issues of intellectual and cultural confidence for African Caribbean students and historical and contemporary truth for others Chris Searle Director of the Ahmed Iqbal Ullah Race Relations Resource Centre at the University of Manchester

Reading Race Clare Bradford,2013-05-09 How do

children's books relate to the cultures that produce them and how do they influence those cultures In Reading Race Clare Bradford looks at representations of Australia's indigenous peoples in texts for children She shows how these varying representations have helped to colour the attitudes beliefs and assumptions of different generations of Australians To what extent have children's books enabled readers to understand Aboriginal culture relations between Aboriginal and non Aboriginal people and relationships between Aboriginality and national identity Bradford draws on examples from popular and literary children's books of all genres fiction non fiction picture books and school texts She reveals that many children's books display the tensions and uncertainties inherent in relations between Aboriginal and non Aboriginal people Bradford also uncovers the different ideologies of race that have informed Australian children's texts from the nineteenth century to currently popular writers demonstrating cultural shifts in the representation of Aboriginality over time The result is a groundbreaking and intelligent picture of how Australian children's books by both white and Aboriginal writers have negotiated the matter of race Reading Race will enhance the ways in which we come to read and understand the complex and delicate issues around Aboriginal white relations It will be an invaluable resource in the fields of post colonial studies Indigenous and Aboriginal studies literary and cultural studies and children's literature
