The Truth About Denial Adrian Bardon, 2019-09-03 People believe what they want to believe It is a striking yet all too familiar fact about human beings that our belief forming processes can be so distorted by fears desires and prejudices that an otherwise sensible person may sincerely uphold a false claim about the world despite overwhelming evidence to the contrary When we describe someone as being in denial we mean that he or she is personally threatened by some set of facts and consequently fails to assess the situation properly according to the evidence instead arguing and interpreting evidence in light of a pre established conclusion In a world polarized over politics culture race and religion it is evident that ideological commitments can influence one's perception of reality in socially destructive ways especially when one perceives a threat to these commitments When group interests creeds or dogmas are threatened by unwelcome factual information biased thinking can become ideological denialism This is a problem that affects everybody Whereas denial can interfere with individual well being ideological denialism can stand in the way of urgent advancements in public policy This book offers an accessible historically and scientifically informed overview of our understanding of denial and denialism Adrian Bardon introduces the reader to the latest developments in the interdisciplinary study of denial and then investigates the role of human psychology and ideology in respectively science denial economic policy and religious belief

Denial Jon Raymond, 2023-07-11 The year is 2052 Global warming has had a predictably devastating effect Venice submerged cyclones in Oklahoma megafires in South America Yet it could be much worse Two decades earlier the global protest movement known as the Upheavals helped break the planet's fossil fuel dependency and the subsequent Nuremberg like Toronto Trials convicted the most powerful oil executives and lobbyists for crimes against the environment Not all of them A few executives escaped arrest and went into hiding including pipeline mastermind Robert Cave Now a Pacific Northwest journalist named Jack Henry who works for a struggling media company has received a tip that Cave is living in Mexico Hoping the story will save his job he travels south and using a fake identity makes contact with the fugitive The two men strike up an unexpected friendship leaving Jack torn about exposing Cave an uncertainty further compounded by the diagnosis of a life threatening illness and a new romance with an old acquaintance Who will really benefit from the unmasking What is the nature of justice and punishment How does one contend with mortality when the planet itself is dying
