fun She has strict parents whose rules she obeys most of the time But like any other young girl her age she does get into trouble and is smart enough to recognize her peccadillos and even laugh at them Besides her pet pigeon Mirfat and her family Abi's world consists of her dear friends and her interesting school days Her life is turned upside down when the war breaks out and everything she loved and cherished are taken away in a flash except for one dear friend and her immediate family She is packed off to a refugee camp where Abi and her friend keep reminiscing about their stable life back home They long for normalcy safety and find it difficult to adjust to a hard life in the refugee camp They are apprehensive about a future that seems so bleak and uncertain They try to make the best of what they have Probably their parents' quiet resilience rubs off on the girls and they grudgingly learn to accept whatever comes their way But there comes a time when hope dawns in the form of a surprise journey through unforgiving terrain and unexpected circumstances Do they reach friendly shores Is Abi ready to embrace a new life and a new culture Is she yearning for one more thing that will put her mind at rest

Cartographic Cinema Tom Conley, Cartography and cinema are what might be called locational machinery Maps and movies tell their viewers where they are situated what they are doing and to a strong degree who they are In this groundbreaking work eminent scholar Tom Conley establishes the ideological power of maps in classic contemporary and avant garde cinema to shape the imaginary and mediated relations we hold with the world Cartographic Cinema examines the affinities of maps and movies through comparative theory and close analysis of films from the silent era to the French New Wave to Hollywood blockbusters In doing so Conley reveals that most of the movies we see contain maps of various kinds and almost invariably constitute a projective apparatus similar to cartography In addition he demonstrates that spatial signs in film foster a critical relation with the prevailing narrative and mimetic registers of cinema Conley convincingly argues that the very act of watching films and cinema itself is actually a form of cartography Unlike its function in an atlas a map in a movie often causes the spectator to entertain broader questions not only about cinema but also of the nature of space and being Desperate Journey D. Broadway Actors in Films, 1894-2015 Roy Liebman, 2017-02-20 Many Broadway stars appeared in Hollywood cinema from its earliest days Some were 19th century stage idols who reprised famous roles on film as early as 1894 One was born as early as 1829 Another was cast in the performance during which Abraham Lincoln was assassinated One took her stage name from her native state Some modern day stars also began their careers on Broadway before appearing in films This book details the careers of 300 performers who went from stage to screen in all genres of film A few made only a single movie others hundreds Each entry includes highlights of the performer's career a list of stage appearances and a filmography London Quarterly Review, 1879

Clearing the Plains James William Daschuk, 2013 In arresting but harrowing prose James Daschuk examines the roles that Old World diseases climate and most disturbingly Canadian politics the politics of ethnocide played in the deaths and subjugation of thousands of aboriginal people in the realization of Sir John A Macdonald's National Dream It was a dream that came at great expense the present disparity in health and economic well being between First Nations and non Native populations and the lingering racism and misunderstanding that permeates the national consciousness to this day Clearing the Plains is a tour de force that dismantles and destroys the view that Canada has a special claim to humanity in its treatment of indigenous peoples Daschuk shows how infectious disease and state supported starvation combined to create a creeping relentless catastrophe that persists to the present day The prose is gripping the analysis is incisive and the narrative is so chilling that it leaves its reader stunned and disturbed For days after reading it I was unable to shake a profound sense of sorrow This is fearless evidence driven history at its finest Elizabeth A Fenn author of Pox Americana Required reading for all Canadians Candace Savage author of A Geography of Blood Clearly written deeply researched and properly contextualized history Essential reading for everyone interested in the history of indigenous North America J R McNeill author of Mosquito Empires The London Quarterly Review ,1879
