The Development of Literate Mentalities in East Central Europe Anna Adamska, Marco Mostert, 2004 Compared with most of Continental Europe North of the Alps the introduction of writing in East Central Europe Bohemia Poland and Hungary took place with a considerable delay Much is known about East Central European uses of writing although only a fragment of this knowledge is known outside the region Gathered by historians palaeographers and codicologists diplomatists art historians literary historians and others this knowledge has hardly ever been studied in the light of recent discussions on medieval literacy and communication Work done in the Czech Polish and Hungarian traditions of scholarship has never been subjected to a comparative analysis Furthermore the question of the relation between writing and other forms of communication in the region remains largely unexplored The volume serves a double purpose For the first time a collection of contributions on medieval literacy in East Central Europe is put before the forum of international scholarship It is also hoped to further discussions of modes of communication literate behaviour and mentalities among scholars working in the region

Central Europe the rest of the continent and beyond Including 15 original chapters from an interdisciplinary team of contributors this collection begins by posing the question What is East Central Europe with three specialists offering different interpretations and presenting new conclusions The book is then grouped into five parts which examine political practice religion urban experience and art and literature The contributors question and explain the reasons for similarities and differences in governance and strategies for handling allies enemies or subjects in particular ways They point out themes and structures from town planning to religious orders that did not function according to political boundaries and for which the inclusion of East Central European territories was systemic The volume offers a new interpretation of medieval East Central Europe beyond its traditional limits in space and time and beyond the established conceptual schemes It will be essential reading for students and scholars of medieval East Central Europe Central Europe in the High Middle Ages Nora Berend, Przemysław Urbańczyk, Przemysław Wiszewski, 2013-12-19 A groundbreaking comparative history of the formation of Bohemia Hungary and Poland from their origins in the eleventh century Parliamentarism in Northern and East-Central Europe in the Long Eighteenth Century István M. Richardson,2015-10-06 Richardson explores how a powerful culture of writing was created in late medieval London even though initially few inhabitants could actually write themselves Whilst previous studies have tended to focus on middle class literary reading patterns this study examines writing skills separately both from reading skills and from literature “A Pearl of Powerful Learning”: The University of Cracow in the Fifteenth Century Paul Knoll,2016-08-09 Winner of The Polish Institute of Arts and Sciences of America s 2018 Oskar Halecki Award and Winner of the Early Slavic Studies Association 2016 Book Prize The first fully developed history of the University of Cracow in this period in over a century A Pearl of Powerful Learning The University of Cracow in the Fifteenth Century places the school in the context of late medieval universities traces the process of its foundation analyzes its institutional growth its setting in the Polish royal capital its role in national life and provides a social and geographical profile of students and faculty The book includes extended treatment of the content of intellectual life and accomplishments of the school with reference to the works of its most important scholars in the medieval arts curriculum medicine law and theology The emergence of early Renaissance humanist interests at the university is also discussed Winner of the Early Slavic Studies Association 2016 Book Prize for most outstanding recent scholarly monograph on pre modern Slavdom The work was described by the prize committee as A thoughtful highly informed and nuanced history of the University of Cracow an important institution in a pivotal period of Poland s history Knoll s treatment of such important issues as the role of the University in national life and the controversial and highly technical matter of the impact of Humanism are dealt with tactfully and thoughtfully The book will become the definitive work on this topic and will ensure that the material will rapidly be absorbed into general histories of education and of universities in the Renaissance Winner of The Polish Institute of Arts and Sciences of America s 2018 Oskar Halecki Award This award recognizes a book of particular value and significance dealing with the Polish experience and is named after the distinguished 20th century Polish medieval historian Oskar Halecki who was one of the founders of PIASA Professor Knoll will be recognized for this award during the 77th Annual Meeting of PIASA in Gdansk Poland in June 2019 The Life and Afterlife of St. Elizabeth of Hungary ,2010-12-20 This work is a study and translation of the testimony given by witnesses at the canonization hearings of St Elizabeth who died at age twenty four in 1231 The depositions offer vivid anecdotes about her life as well as the healing miracles that were associated with her shrine in Marburg Medieval and Early Modern for Central and Eastern Europe , Slave trading in the Early Middle Ages Janel M. Fontaine,2025-02-18 This book examines slave trading in northern and eastern central Europe from the seventh century through the eleventh century tracing its growth climax and decline Demand from the Islamic world in the ninth and tenth centuries prompted changes in warfare trade logistics and administrative responses to slavery in the slaving zones centred on the British Isles and the Czech lands This study establishes slave trading as a core driver of connectivity and presents a model for this practice in politically fragmented areas of Europe Cities, Texts and Social Networks, 400-1500 Caroline Goodson,Anne E. Lester,Carol

Symes, 2017-05-15 Cities Texts and Social Networks examines the experiences of urban life from late antiquity through the close of the fifteenth century in regions ranging from late Imperial Rome to Muslim Syria Iraq and al Andalus England the territories of medieval Francia Flanders the Low Countries Italy and Germany Together the volume's contributors move beyond attempts to define the city in purely legal economic or religious terms Instead they focus on modes of organisation representation and identity formation that shaped the ways urban spaces were called into being used and perceived Their interdisciplinary analyses place narrative and archival sources in communication with topography the built environment and evidence of sensory stimuli in order to capture sights sounds physical proximities and power structures Paying close attention to the delineation of public and private spaces and secular and sacred precincts each chapter explores the workings of power and urban discourse and their effects on the making of meaning The volume as a whole engages theoretical discussions of urban space its production consumption memory and meaning which too frequently misrepresent the evidence of the Middle Ages It argues that the construction and use of medieval urban spaces could foster the emergence of medieval public spheres that were fundamental components and by products of pre modern urban life The resulting collection contributes to longstanding debates among historians while tackling fundamental questions regarding medieval society and the ways it is understood today Many of these questions will resonate with scholars of postcolonial or non Western cultures whose sources and cities have been similarly marginalized in discussions of urban space and experience And because these essays reflect a considerable geographical temporal and methodological scope they model approaches to the study of urban history that will interest a wide range of readers
