The Hong Kong School Curriculum Development Issues And Policies:

Hong Kong School Curriculum Paul Morris, 1996-08-01 This book is intended for students who are studying courses on the school curriculum and also for teachers and principals who are keen to improve the quality of schooling they provide their pupils The book introduces the reader to the components of the school curriculum and concepts used to analyse it This second edition has been substantially revised to reflect changes in educational policy Education and Society in Hong Kong and Macao M. Bray, Ramsey Koo, 2006-06-28 Hong Kong and Macao have much in common The dominant populations in both territories are Cantonese speaking Chinese both are small in area both are urban societies both have been colonies of European powers and both have undergone political transition to reunification with China Yet in education for reasons that are analysed in this book they are very different The patterns of similarities and differences in the two territories make a fascinating basis for comparative study The overarching theme of the book on continuity and change is particularly pertinent following the transition of the two societies of the postcolonial era This thoroughly revised and expanded second edition builds on the widely acclaimed first edition The work has been recognised as a significant contribution to the broad field of comparative education as well as to study of the specific societies which are its main focus The Primary Curriculum Linda Hargreaves, Janet Moyles, 2002-09-11 This book is concerned with the relationships and tensions in education between children's needs and society's demands questions which primary teachers everywhere face on a daily basis such as how does society's view of children and childhood affect teaching and learning how do the dictates of the education system including a national curriculum shape teaching practice how do the conventions of classroom practice fit with teachers' own beliefs and values The first part of the book offers a basic framework for thinking about primary curricula from the perspectives raised by these questions whilst the second part presents a range of international views on the primary curriculum from Australia New Zealand South East Asia Europe and the USA Hong Kong's Chinese History Curriculum from 1945 Flora L.F. Kan, 2007-01-01 Hong Kong's Chinese History Curriculum from 1945 Politics and Identity investigates the ways in which Chinese history has evolved as a subject in Hong Kong secondary schools since 1945 and the various social political and economic factors that have shaped the curriculum through an examination of a wide range of primary and secondary source materials and interviews This book examines how the aims content teaching learning and assessment of the Chinese history curriculum have evolved since 1945 It describes how Chinese history became an independent subject in secondary schools in Hong Kong despite the political sensitivity of the subject how it consolidated its status during the colonial period and how it has faced threats to its independence since the return of Hong Kong to China in 1997 An important element of the book is its in depth analysis of the major socio political and socio economic forces that have been involved in the development of Chinese history This book will be of interest to all who are interested in history education and curriculum development and readers who are concerned with history education Schools as Curriculum Agencies, 2010-01-01 Over the last decades school based curriculum development SBCD has been widely applied in many countries to bring about innovations in schools and classrooms The notion of SBCD and its practice albeit the diversity in terms of policies and cultures in different countries stems from the need for a more participatory educational system responsive to local concerns This book provides readers with an update of the concepts related to SBCD and vivid cases about how SBCD has been conceived and implemented in six Asian countries including China Hong Kong Japan Korea Singapore and Taiwan and seven European countries including Austria England Finland Germany Ireland Sweden and The Netherlands The differences and commonalities in rationales and practices within and between the Asian and European continents make stimulating new comparisons possible elaborating and deepening the knowledge base about SBCD This is a timely collection for school leaders and teachers policy makers support groups educational researchers and students especially in the domain of curriculum studies
