Love as a Guide to Morals Andrew Fitz-Gibbon, 2012-01-01 Love as a Guide to Morals is an entry level introduction to the ethical importance of love Written in conversational format this book looks uniquely at the complexity of love in human relationships and how love can guide ethical decision making The book suggests that love in all its intricacy erotic erosic love friendship affection and agapic love is the great good of human life The book argues that love has a unifying power for morality and is more suited to ethical thinking and practice than any other idea Love as a Guide to Morals uses a modified Aristotelian argument after Alisdair MacIntyre and suggests loving relationships rather than happiness as the goal of human life

True Mind Tom Steward, 2011-06-03 In True Mind Tom Steward makes a daring attempt at describing practically and specifically how we may grow and change in Christ by the Spirit Written for todays disciple this book seeks to illuminate and inspire as well as instruct those who seek to be renewed and enlarged in their inner lives In the three parts of this book Steward addresses the following Our Inner Legacy Beginning with a proper foundation knowing God for who He is glory and majesty and encountering Him in intimacy Knowing who we are and what we have been given that we may carry out our destiny in the Lord Learning to listen and hearknow and see our God and all He has to offer us Walking in Gods energy and power and the unlimited bounds of His provision Our Inner Work Understanding the role of the Spirit as he searches and reveals to us all we need to know about God and ourselves Offering submission and surrender as a daily spiritual practice Ensuring that we respond well to all the issues of life the arrows that strike us all too often as God supplies His goodness and mercy Contending with the inner nature of sin as it is represented by fear and pride and offering humility and courage as a timely replacement Our Inner Life Experiencing the mystery of oneness with God and being found in Him as He is in us Knowing transformation and renewal so that God can drape his righteousness and holiness over us like a garment Learning to be still and at rest as we abide and flow in and with our God and learning the benefits of thanks and praise in all of our days

The Thirst of God Wendy Farley, 2015-09-04 There is a rich tradition of wonderful women and other contemplatives who are great resources for thinking differently about Christianity They emphasized divine love human compassion and the radical possibilities of contemplative practices They were not afraid to criticize the church and indeed thought of their challenge as crucial to their faith We do not have to lose faith with the beautiful wisdom of this story of intimate and compassionate love dwelling among us and within us if we do not want to from the acknowledgments and note to readers To those seeking a more open progressive approach to Christian faith the Christian past can sometimes seem like a desert an empty space devoid of encouragement or example Yet in the latter years of the Middle Ages a quiet flowering of a more accessible positive approach to Christian belief took place among a group of female mystics those who emphasized an immediate nonhierarchical experience of the divine In this enlightening volume Wendy Farley eloquently brings the work of three female mystics Marguerite Porete Mechthild of Magdeburg and Julian of Norwich into creative conversation with contemporary Christian life and thought From alternatives to the standard violent understandings of the atonement to new forms of contemplation and prayer these figures offer us relevant insights through a theology centered on God's love and compassion Farley demonstrates how these women can help to refresh and expand our awareness of the depth of divine love that encompasses all creation and dwells in the cavern of every human heart take a journey through the Song of Solomon Song of Songs which describes God's heart and His love. Written as a devotional, author Virginia Helweg uses the poetic metaphors from Solomon's song to teach how God created man and woman in His image and therefore have the capacity within to know Him intimately parallel to the same love in a marriage. Helweg explains that the Song is about romantic love but not as man perceives romance. It is an example of God's persistence to have a relationship with His creation and a love poem. Solomon framed it as a song because of a faith in a God of love singing, praising, and worshipping.

God in the Dark Susan R. Pitchford, 2011-04-01 Contemporary Christianity is afflicted with two problems. First, our spiritual life is often bland and lukewarm. Distracted and fragmented by our lives and malnourished on conventional piety, we feel out of touch with the God described in the Bible as a consuming fire. Second, we don't know how to make sense of suffering, especially the pain of spiritual darkness and aridity. The answer to both of these problems is passion. In God in the Dark, Susan Pitchford explores the two faces of passion: desire, the mutual attraction between the soul and God, and suffering, especially our confusion and grief when we find ourselves in dark places. We often misinterpret times of darkness, assuming we've failed and God has abandoned us. Pitchford suggests that darkness is not a place of abandonment but a place of intimacy and a special call to a deeper relationship with the God who desires us. Once we understand this, we will not have to fear the dark, and when the night closes in around us, we can experience it as an embrace.

Romancing the King Brian Lake, 2010-11-01 Romancing the King is a description of God's yearning for relationship and intimacy with you. Like Esther in the Bible, you are permitted to enter the King's presence because you have been invited. The King desires you. Intimacy with your Lord is a close personal relationship where you can openly share with each other private information. To gain access to the splendor of His Kingdom, you must establish a relationship with the King. Romancing the King shows you how to enter His presence. You will explore God's glory through friendship and fellowship. The nature and character of God. Practical steps about how to spend time with Him. Your purpose and destiny. The intimate details necessary to enter the deepest level of worship. You will be drawn into a divine romance with the King of the universe as you examine the disciplines of fasting, prayer, worship, and praise, and the ministry of the Holy Spirit, all working together to deepen the romance between you and your God. Each chapter concludes with several Points to Ponder, giving you the opportunity to experience fully all of God's peace and love as you Romance the King.
