AS WAR RAGES CAN LOVE SURVIVE. Hull 1943. 17 year old Muriel Dearlove has weathered the Blitz unscathed but with her sweetheart Bill away fighting and her friends conscripted into the WRENS and WAAF life has become tedious for Muriel. So when an old friend returns from the Land Army rosy cheeked and looking healthier than ever Muriel decides to sign up and become a Land Girl. Despite being desperate for the chance to broaden her horizons Muriel quickly realises that her new job involves more than just making hay in the sunshine and dancing with the troops stationed nearby especially under the watchful eyes of their hard nosed warden Mrs Hubbard. Then Muriel meets Ernst a German prisoner of war and is faced with a life changing decision in fraternizing with the enemy. Muriel is breaking the law but to never see Ernst again would break her heart. As tensions between the Land girls and the locals grow so does Muriel's forbidden love for Ernst and soon must decide whether love really can conquer all.

But as Christmas draws ever nearer the girls resolve is tested as scandals are revealed lovers risk being torn apart and patriotic loyalties are called into question.

Women in Neoliberal Postfeminist Television Drama Cat Mahoney, 2019-11-07 In this insightful book Cat Mahoney offers a fascinating analysis of contemporary TV dramas such as Home Fires, Land Girls and The Bletchley Circle. Developing the idea that history is told through the preoccupations of the present she argues compellingly that these are postfeminist dramas which work through troubling ideas about heteronormative romance, domesticity, beauty and whiteness while reinforcing the idea that feminism as a political movement is not necessary. A bold and original contribution to television studies, gender studies and popular history. Rosalind Gill, City University of London, UK. By examining contemporary television drama set during and immediately after the Second World War this book illustrates the ways in which postfeminism has shaped representations of women in contemporary culture Mahoney offers a new perspective to debates that have previously been concerned with questions of historical accuracy She argues that depictions of women from the past in modern television drama spawn from the neoliberal postfeminist media climate which originated in the 1990s These depictions respond to a cultural need to naturalise and de historicise a version of neoliberal postfeminist femininity that is compatible with the current media climate and far more reflective of the concerns of the present than any real or lived experience of women in the past The result of this process of naturalisation is the assertion that postfeminist values are natural and eternal rather than a product of the 1980s economic turn and the present political moment By identifying and interrogating postfeminist norms within four television drama series produced since the 2008 financial crash this book argues that postfeminism is a dominant structuring force in their depiction of female characters and of the past

Re-living Britain in the 1940s Robin Wichard,2023-01-24 The 1940s remains an iconic period in world history and retains a fascination for so many Re enacting the 40s is becoming increasingly popular but there is little available information explaining how to start in the hobby This book is the first to offer enthusiasts of the 40s a way to advance their interest whether it be military or civilian Each chapter deals with a different aspect of re enacting from civilian roles including children to military roles with many different potential impressions explored for each area Each chapter is lavishly illustrated with many previously unseen color photographs of contemporary re enactors and events There are further chapters introducing those people who portray wartime political and military leaders as well as those who bring back to life some of the most iconic musicians and performers of the period For those choosing to enter the hobby through ownership of a civilian or military vehicle that is also covered with many examples of some of the most well known vehicles Each chapter offers a brief contextual history with detailed notes on where to obtain uniform and equipment some of the best groups to join as well as links to related sites and recommendations for wider reading No book can cover every single possible role but this offers an excellent starting point for further research and involvement while stressing the need to always remain respectful of those we seek to commemorate

Land Girls: The Promise Roland Moore,2018-10-04 A brand new saga from the writer of the popular BBC series Land Girls featuring your favourite characters from the show In times of war are promises made to be broken

Women at Work in World Wars I and II Paul Chrystal,2024-04-04 This book is about women in World Wars I II women working in factories and on farms or toiling perilously in field stations just behind the front lines in inhospitable hospitals and convalescent homes It is therefore about the prodigious contribution women made to the war efforts from 1914 1918 and 1939 1945 standing in for the men who had left their places of work for the various theatres of war from Greece and Italy to Belgium from Mesopotamia to France Their tasks were many and various keeping the troops supplied with shells bullets and explosives keeping the nation from starving to death keeping hundreds of thousands of wounded troops alive so that they might fight another day The book is in short the uplifting but sometimes tragic story of the many women who stepped up to work in the factories hospitals field stations in transport and in civil defense on the farms and shipyards or signed up to the various military and civil services during the two world wars of the 20th century wars to end all wars The book is different because it deals with women s labour in both world wars and in all occupations it covers the discrimination and prejudice they faced from men at every level military and civilian even when they had demonstrated beyond doubt that they were quick learners industrious and proficient and usually as good as any man The book raises the embarrassing question why it has taken so long for the prodigious contribution women made in both wars to be recognized and why some women workers still remain air brushed from our military history after more than a century As it turned out little was beyond their capabilities and it is reasonable to suppose that without their huge efforts and accomplishments both wars might have turned out very differently for us

Parliamentary Debates New Zealand. Parliament,1888 Youth Movements, Citizenship and the English Countryside Sian Edwards,2017-11-28 This book explores the significance and meaning of the countryside within mid twentieth century youth movements It examines the ways in which the Boy Scouts Girl Guides Woodcraft Folk and Young Farmers Club organisations employed the countryside as a space within which good citizenship in leisure work the home and the community could be developed Mid century youth movements identified the problem of modern youth as a predominantly urban and working class issue They held that the countryside offered an effective antidote to these problems being a good citizen within this context necessitated a respectful and mutually beneficial relationship with the rural sphere Avenues to good citizenship could be found through an enthusiasm for outdoor recreation the stewardship of the countryside and work on the land However models of good citizenship were intrinsically gendered

Television for Women Rachel Moseley,Helen Wheatley,Helen Wood,2016-11-10 Television for Women brings together emerging and established scholars to reconsider the question of television for women In the context of the 2000s when the potential meanings of both terms have expanded and changed so significantly in what ways might the concept of programming addressed explicitly to a group identified by gender still matter The essays in this collection take the existing scholarship in this field in significant new directions They expand its reach in terms of territory looking beyond for example the paradigmatic Anglo American axis and also historical span Additionally whilst the influential methodological formation of production text and audience is still visible here the new research in Television for Women frequently reconfigures that relationship The topics included here are far reaching from television as material culture at the British exhibition in the first half of the twentieth century women s roles in television production past and present to popular 1960s television such as The Liver Birds and in the twenty first century highly successful programmes including Orange is the New Black Call the Midwife One Born Every Minute and Wanted Down Under This book presents ground breaking research on historical and contemporary relationships between women and television around the world and is an ideal resource for students of television media and gender studies
