Mobility for Smart Cities and Regional Development - Challenges for Higher Education Michael E. Auer,Hanno Hortsch,Oliver Michler,Thomas Köhler,2022-01-27 This book presents recent research on interactive collaborative learning We are currently witnessing a significant transformation in the development of education and especially post secondary education To face these challenges higher education has to find innovative ways to quickly respond to these new needs On the one hand there is a pressure by the new situation in regard to the COVID pandemic On the other hand the methods and organizational forms of teaching and learning at higher educational institutions have changed rapidly in recent months Scientifically based statements as well as excellent experiences best practice are absolutely necessary These were the aims connected with the 24th International Conference on Interactive Collaborative Learning ICL2021 which was held online by Technische Universität Dresden Germany on 22-24 September 2021. Since its beginning in 1998, this conference is devoted to new approaches in learning with a focus on collaborative learning in Higher Education. Nowadays, the ICL conferences are a forum of the exchange of relevant trends and research results as well as the presentation of practical experiences in Learning and Engineering Pedagogy. In this way, we try to bridge the gap between pure scientific research and the everyday work of educators. This book contains papers in the fields of Teaching Best Practices, Research in Engineering Pedagogy, Engineering Pedagogy Education, Entrepreneurship in Engineering Education, Project Based Learning, Virtual and Augmented Learning, Immersive Learning in Healthcare and Medical Education. Interested readership includes policymakers, academics, educators, researchers in pedagogy and learning theory, schoolteachers, learning industry, further and continuing education lecturers, etc.

Examining Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) Theories and Practices Khalyapina, Liudmila, 2020-05-08. The growing interest in the problems of integrated foreign language teaching and professional disciplines is manifested in the formulation of new concepts and approaches which at the moment are controversial. The lack of a common conceptual framework of integrated education in the system of higher professional education in different countries manifests itself in the attempts of researchers to either completely eliminate the achievements of their colleagues in this area or without any scientific and practical justification mechanically transfer foreign experiences in their conditions. Examining Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) Theories and Practices is a cutting edge research publication that investigates the different approaches and models of progressive technology within Language Teaching Professionals in the 21st Century Kassem Wahba, Zeinab A. Taha, Liz England, 2014-06-03 This landmark volume offers an introduction to the field of teaching Arabic as a foreign or second language. Recent growth in student numbers and the demand for new and more diverse Arabic language programs of instruction have created a need that has outpaced the ability of teacher preparation programs to provide sufficient numbers of well qualified professional teachers at the level of skill required. Arabic language program administrators anticipate that the increases in enrollment will continue into the next decades. More resources and more varied materials are seriously needed in Arabic teacher education and training. The goal of this Handbook is to address that need. The most significant feature of this volume is its pioneer role in approaching the field of Arabic language teaching from many different perspectives. It offers readers the opportunity to consider the role, status and content of Arabic language teaching in the world today. The Handbook is intended as a resource to be used in building Arabic language and teacher education programs and in guiding future academic research. Thirty four chapters authored by leaders in the field are organized around nine themes: Background of Arabic Language Teaching; Contexts of Arabic Language Teaching; Communicative Competence in Arabic; The Learners; Assessment; Technology Applications; Curriculum Development; Design and Models; Arabic Language Program Administration and Management; and Planning for the Future of Arabic Language Learning and Teaching. The Handbook for Arabic Language Teaching Professionals in the 21st Century will benefit and be welcomed by Arabic language teacher educators and trainers, administrators, graduate students and scholars around the world. It is intended to create dialogue among scholars and professionals in the field and in related fields; dialogue that will contribute to creating new models for curriculum and course design, materials and assessment tools and ultimately better instructional effectiveness for all Arabic learners everywhere in both Arabic speaking and non Arabic speaking countries.
