The Social Construction of Chronic Anorexia Nervosa Susan Margaret Jack, 1999

The Construction of Eating Disorders Alison Fixsen, 2024-12-16 This ground breaking book draws on original research to critically examine the construction of eating disorders and disordered eating in an analysis that encompasses psychiatry cultural representations and the politics of eating disorders Challenging the idea that disordered eating is an individual marginal issue the book explores how disordered eating and the classification of eating disorders EDs reflect deep societal disruptions regulatory practices and sometimes violent attempts to manage non conformity It demonstrates the impact of biomedical psychiatric legal pharmaceutical technical and consumer groups as well as that of the fast food fashion media and social media industries Novel areas explored include eating disorders and the justice system eating disorders and food landscapes lifestyle eating disorders and the role of capitalism and colonialism in the emerging biopolitics of food and bodies Centrally it reveals how these forces shape the ways that eating disorders are perceived spoken of written about and managed within institutions and wider society The book will appeal to scholars and students of mental health psychology sociology gender studies criminology food justice and anyone interested in the future of our health

The Anorexic Self Paula Saukko, 2008-05-08 Critically examines diagnostic and popular discourses on eating disorders

Eating Disorders in Contemporary French Women's Writing Lucille Cairns, 2023-05-15 Eating Disorders in Contemporary French Women's Writing examines the most common types of Eating Disorders EDs anorexia nervosa bulimia nervosa bulimarexia and binge eating disorder as represented in contemporary French women's literature The primary corpus comprises 40 autobiographical and very occasionally autofictional texts complemented by ample reference and sometimes challenge to clinical medically researched based or theoretical publications on EDs

Eating Disorders and Child Sexual Abuse Lisa Hodge, 2021-03-10 This book takes up the challenge of examining women's understandings of eating disorders and child sexual abuse away from a framework focused on pathology The central argument is that women's distress is an enactment of their engagement with certain discourses and practices rather than a reaction triggered by child sexual abuse Guided by a contemporary feminist framework and Mikhail Bakhtin's sociological linguistics to substantiate the argument women's own poetry and drawings are used as evidence to develop support and supplement research findings The book establishes that an eating disorder is an understandable response to sexual trauma and shifts the focus away from a damaged personality Even more importantly it demonstrates that women with eating disorders are using their bodies as a form of resistance to express silenced traumas that remain in the silenced female body This is an active way of making sense of experiences of child sexual abuse Embodied Resistance Chris Bobel,Samantha Kwan,2011-09-15 Ethnographies about transgressing social expectations of the body

Beyond Pleasure Evert Peeters,Leen Van Molle,Kaat Wils,2011-04-01 Asceticism so it is argued in this volume is a modern category The ubiquitous cult of the body of fitness and diet equally evokes the ongoing success of ascetic practices and beliefs Nostalgic memories of hardship and discipline in the army youth movements or boarding schools remain as present as the fashionable irritation with the presumed modern day laziness In the very texture of contemporary culture age old asceticism proves to be remarkably alive Old ascetic forms were remoulded to serve modern desires for personal authenticity an authenticity that disconnected asceticism in the course of the nineteenth century from two traditions that had underpinned it since classical antiquity the public republican austerity of antiquity and the private religious asceticism of Christianity Exploring various aspects such as the history of the body of aesthetics science and social thought in several European countries Great Britain France Germany Austria and Belgium the authors show that modern asceticism remains a deeply ambivalent category Apart from self realisation classical and religious examples continue to haunt the ascetic mind The Oxford Handbook of the Self Shaun Gallagher,2011-02-10 The Oxford Handbook of the Self explores a fascinating diversity of questions about our understanding of self from a variety of interdisciplinary perspectives including philosophy ethics psychology neuroscience psychopathology narrative and postmodern theories

Contexts of Deviance J. William Spencer,2014-09-12 While most readers focus more on deviance than sociology Contexts of Deviance Statuses Institutions and Interactions brings sociology front and center by examining deviance and social control in their social contexts This fresh and innovative anthology shows students how deviance and control can be studied at different levels of analysis and from a range of theoretical approaches using different methodologies The collection is divided into six parts theory social control statuses and identities institutions subcultures and social movements The readings range from classic to contemporary pieces from macro level studies to studies of face to face encounters Contexts of Deviance also represents a wide range of theoretical traditions from functionalist and critical to post modern and interactionist Introductions in each section help students to understand what it means to study deviance and control in a social context to appreciate research questions at different levels of analysis and to recognize how a positivist orientation is different from a subjectivist orientation An instructor s manual and test bank prepared by Thomas N Ratliff Arkansas State University Jessica Middleton University of California at Irvine and Ashley Swan Arkansas State University are available for qualified instructors Joint Action Tim Corcoran,John Cromby,2016-06-10 Joint Action Essays in honour of John Shotter brings together a cross disciplinary group of fifteen respected international scholars to explain the relevance of John Shotter

s work to emerging concerns in twenty first century social science Shotter s work extends over forty years and continues to challenge conventional scientific thinking across a range of topics The disciplines and practices that Shotter s work has informed are well established throughout the English speaking world This is the first publication to examine the importance of his influence in contemporary social sciences and it includes authoritative discussions on topics such as social constructionism democratic practice organisational change the affective turn and human relations The geographical diversity and disciplinary breadth of scholarly contributions imbues the book with international scope and reach Joint Action presents a contemporary reflection on Shotter s work that demonstrates its influence across a range of substantive topics and practical endeavours and within disciplines including management studies and philosophy as well as psychology As such it will appeal to researchers and postgraduate students of social sciences and related disciplines as well as to those who have heard of Shotter s work and want to know more about its utility and value in relation to their own research or practice No Labels Derek Botha,2012 In No Labels Men in Relationships with Anorexia Derek Botha argues that traditional understandings of and approaches to diagnosis and treatment for anorexia nervosa are unacceptable inappropriate and laden with labelling ways and thus exacerbate these men s struggles leaving them dishonoured disabled powerless and even more distressed He presents alternative ways of understanding the nature of their social positionings as well as a more appropriate therapy for them namely narrative therapy Back cover
