The Death Penalty in America Hugo Adam Bedau, 1967 The Death Penalty in America Hugo Adam Bedau, 1998-05-28

In The Death Penalty in America Current Controversies Hugo Adam Bedau one of our preeminent scholars on the subject provides a comprehensive sourcebook on the death penalty making the process of informed consideration not only possible but fascinating as well. No mere revision of the third edition of The Death Penalty in America which the New York Times praised as the most complete well edited and comprehensive collection of readings on the pros and cons of the death penalty this volume brings together an entirely new selection of 40 essays and includes updated statistical and research data recent Supreme Court decisions and the best current contributions to the debate over capital punishment. From the status of the death penalty worldwide to current attitudes of Americans toward convicted killers from legal arguments challenging the constitutionality of the death penalty to moral arguments enlisting the New Testament in support of it from controversies over the role of race and class in the judicial system to proposals to televise executions Bedau gathers readings that explore all the most compelling aspects of this most compelling issue.

The International Library of Essays on Capital Punishment, Volume 3 Peter Hodgkinson, 2016-12-05 This volume provides analyses of a range of subjects and issues in the death penalty debate from medicine to the media. The essays address in particular the personal complexities of those involved a fundamental part of the subject usually overridden by the theoretical and legal aspects of the debate. The unique personal vantage offered by this volume makes it essential reading for anyone interested in going beyond the removed theoretical understanding of the death penalty to better comprehending its fundamental humanity. Additionally the international range of the analysis enabling disaggregation of country specific motivations ensures the complexities of the death penalty are also considered from a global perspective.

The morality of capital punishment has been debated for a long time This however has 1 not resulted in the settlement of the question either way Philosophers are still divided In this work I am not addressing the morality of capital punishment per se My question is different but related It is this Whether or not capital punishment is morally right is it moral or immoral for medical doctors to be involved in the practice To deal with this question I start off in Chapter One delineating the sort of involvement the medical associations consider to be morally problematic for medical doctors in capital punishment They make a distinction between what they call 2 medicalisation of and involvement in capital punishment and argue that there is a moral distinction between the two Whilst it is morally acceptable for doctors to be involved in capital punishment according to the medical associations it is immoral to medicalise the practice I clarify this position and show what moral issues arise I then suggest that there should not be a distinction between the two The medical associations argue that the medicalisation of capital punishment especially the use by medical doctors of lethal injection to execute condemned prisoners is immoral and therefore should be prohibited because it involves doctors in doing what is against the aims of medicine Imposition of
