Nyoman Darma Putra, 2011-01-01. A Literary mirror is the first English language work to comprehensively analyse Indonesian language literature from Bali from a literary and cultural viewpoint. It covers the period from 1920 to 2000. This is an extremely rich field for research into the ways Balinese view their culture and how they respond to external cultural forces. This work complements the large number of existing studies of Bali and its history, anthropology, traditional literature, and the performing arts. A Literary Mirror is an invaluable resource for those researching twentieth-century Balinese authors who wrote in Indonesian. Until now, such writers have received very little attention in the existing literature. An appendix gives short biographical details of many significant writers and lists their work. International Who's Who in Poetry 2004 Europa Publications, 2003. Indonesia, with its mix of ethnic cultures, cosmopolitan ethos, and strong national ideology, offers a useful lens for examining the intertwining of tradition and modernity in globalized Asia. In Inventing the Performing Arts, Matthew Isaac Cohen explores the profound change in diverse arts practices from the nineteenth century until 1949. He demonstrates that modern modes of transportation and communication not only brought the Dutch colony of Indonesia into the world economy but also stimulated the emergence of new art forms and modern attitudes to art, disembedded and remooored traditions, and hybridized foreign and local. In the nineteenth century, access to novel forms of entertainment such as the circus and newspapers, which offered a new language of representation and criticism, wrought fundamental changes in theatrical, musical, and choreographic practices. Musical drama disseminated print literature to largely illiterate audiences starting in the 1870s, and spoken drama in the 1920s became a vehicle for exploring social issues. Twentieth-century institutions, including night fairs, the recording industry, schools, itinerant theatre, churches, cabarets, round the world cruises, and amusement parks, generated new ways of making, consuming, and comprehending the performing arts. Concerned over the loss of tradition and Eastern values, elites codified folk arts, established cultural preservation associations, and experimented in modern stagings of ancient
