The Kindergarten of the Movies Anthony Slide, 1980      The New Historical Dictionary of the American Film Industry Anthony Slide, 2014-02-25 The New Historical Dictionary of the American Film Industry is a completely revised and updated edition of Anthony Slide's The American Film Industry originally published in 1986 and recipient of the American Library Association's Outstanding Reference Book award for that year. More than 200 new entries have been added and all original entries have been updated; each entry is followed by a short bibliography. As its predecessor, the new dictionary is unique in that it is not a who's who of the industry but rather a what's what: a dictionary of producing and releasing companies, technical innovations, industry terms, studios, genres, color systems, institutions, and organizations, etc. More than 800 entries include everything from Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences to Zoom Lens, from Astoria Studios to Zoetrope. Outstanding Reference Source, American Library Association      The American Theatrical Film John C. Tibbetts, 1985 This book provides needed information on the collaborations between filmmakers and theater personnel before 1930 and completes our understanding of how two art forms influenced each other. It begins with the vaudeville and faerie dramas captured in brief films by the Edison and Biograph companies, follows the development of feature length, Sarah Bernhardt and James O'Neill films, after 1912 examines the formation of theater-film combination companies in 1914-15 and details later collaborations during the talking picture revolution of 1927. Includes detailed analyses of important theatrical films like The Count of Monte Cristo, The Virginian, Coquette, and Paramount on Parade.      Film Study Frank Manchel, 1990 The four volumes of Film Study include a fresh approach to each of the basic categories in the original edition. Volume one examines the film as film; volume two focuses on the thematic approach to film; volume three draws on the history of film; and volume four contains extensive appendices listing film distributors, sources, and historical information, as well as an index of authors, titles, and film personalities.      The Griffith Project, Volume 9 Paolo Cherchi Usai, 2019-07-25 No other silent film director has been so extensively studied as D.W. Griffith. However, only a small group of his more than 500 films has been the subject of a systematic analysis, and the vast majority of his other works still await proper examination. For the first time in film studies, the complete creative output of Griffith from Professional Jealousy (1907) to The Struggle (1931) will be explored in this multi-volume collection of contributions from an international team of leading scholars in the field.      Colleen Moore Jeff Cudori, 2012-04-19 Colleen Moore (1899-1988) was one of the most popular and beloved stars of the American silent screen. Remembered primarily as a comedienne in such films as Ella Cinders (1926) and Orchids and Ermine (1927), Moore's career was also filled with dramatic roles that often reflected societal trends. A trailblazing performer, her legacy was somewhat overshadowed by the female stars that followed her, notably Louise Brooks and Clara Bow. An in-depth examination of Moore's early life and film career, the book reveals the ways in which her family and the times in which she lived influenced the roles she chose. Included are forewords written by film historian Joseph Yranski, a friend of the actress, and by Moore's

stepdaughter Judith Hargrave Coleman      Allan Dwan and the Rise and Decline of the Hollywood Studios Frederic Lombardi, 2013-03-05 It could be said that the career of Canadian born film director Allan Dwan 1885 1981 began at the dawn of the American motion picture industry Originally a scriptwriter Dwan became a director purely by accident Even so his creativity and problem solving skills propelled him to the top of his profession He achieved success with numerous silent film performers most spectacularly with Douglas Fairbanks Sr and Gloria Swanson and later with such legendary stars as Shirley Temple and John Wayne Though his star waned in the sound era Dwan managed to survive through pluck and ingenuity Considering himself better off without the fame he enjoyed during the silent era he went on to do some of his best work for second echelon studios notably Republic Pictures Sands of Iwo Jima and such independent producers as Edward Small Along the way Dwan also found personal happiness in an unconventional manner Rich in detail with two columns of text in each of its nearly 400 pages and with more than 150 photographs this book presents a thorough examination of Allan Dwan and separates myth from truth in his life and films      Early American Cinema Anthony Slide, 1994 Provides a concise history of the American motion picture industry before 1920      The Encyclopedia of Vaudeville Anthony Slide, 2012-03-12 The Encyclopedia of Vaudeville provides a unique record of what was once America's preeminent form of popular entertainment from the late 1800s through the early 1930s It includes entries not only on the entertainers themselves but also on those who worked behind the scenes the theatres genres and historical terms Entries on individual vaudevillians include biographical information samplings of routines and often commentary by the performers Many former vaudevillians were interviewed for the book including Milton Berle Block and Sully Kitty Doner Fifi D Orsay Nick Lucas Ken Murray Fayard Nicholas Olga Petrova Rose Marie Arthur Tracy and Rudy Vallee Where appropriate entries also include bibliographies The volume concludes with a guide to vaudeville resources and a general bibliography Aside from its reference value with its more than five hundred entries The Encyclopedia of Vaudeville discusses the careers of the famous and the forgotten Many of the vaudevillians here including Jack Benny George Burns and Gracie Allen Jimmy Durante W C Fields Bert Lahr and Mae West are familiar names today thanks to their continuing careers on screen At the same time and given equal coverage are forgotten acts legendary female impersonators Bert Savoy and Jay Brennan the vulgar Eva Tanguay with her billing as The I Don't Care Girl male impersonator Kitty Doner and a host of freak acts      The Griffith Project, Volume 8 Paolo Cherchi Usai, 2019-07-25 No other silent film director has been as extensively studied as D W Griffith However only a small group of his more than five hundred films has been the subject of a systematic analysis and the vast majority of his other works still await proper examination For the first time in film studies the complete creative output of Griffith from Professional Jealousy 1907 to The Struggle 1931 will be explored in this multivolume collection of contributions from an international team of leading scholars in the field Created as a companion to the ongoing retrospective held by the Pordenone Silent Film Festival the Griffith Project is an indispensable guide to the work of a crucial figure in the arts of the nineteenth century The latest volume assesses Griffith's work in 1914-15. It includes an extensive multi-authored evaluation of The Birth of a Nation.

Idols of Modernity Patrice Petro, 2010. Focusing on stardom during the 1920s, this title reveals strong connections and dissonances in matters of storytelling performance that can be traced both backwards and forwards from the silent era to the emergence of sound.

The Fun Factory Rob King, 2008-12-10. From its founding in 1912, the short-lived Keystone Film Company, home of the frantic bumbling Kops and Mack Sennett's Bathing Beauties, made an indelible mark on American popular culture with its high-energy comic shorts. Even as Keystone brought lowbrow comic traditions to the screen, the studio played a key role in reformulating those traditions for a new cross-class audience. In The Fun Factory, Rob King explores the dimensions of that process, arguing for a new understanding of working-class cultural practices within early cinematic mass culture. He shows how Keystone fashioned a style of film comedy from the roughhouse humor of cheap theater, pioneering modes of representation that satirized film industry attempts at uplift. Interdisciplinary in its approach, The Fun Factory offers a unique studio history that views the changing politics of early film culture through the sociology of laughter.

Genre and Hollywood Stephen Neale, 2000. Genre and Hollywood provides a comprehensive introduction to the study of genre. In this important new book, Steve Neale discusses all the major concepts, theories, and accounts of Hollywood and genre, as well as the key genres which theorists have written about, from horror to the Western. He also puts forward new arguments about the importance of genre in understanding Hollywood cinema. Neale takes issue with much genre criticism and genre theory, which has provided only a partial and misleading account of Hollywood's output. He calls for broader and more flexible conceptions of genre and genres, for more attention to be paid to the discourses and practices of Hollywood itself, for the nature and range of Hollywood's films to be looked at in more detail, and for any assessment of the social and cultural significance of Hollywood's genres to take account of industrial factors. In detailed revisionist accounts of two major genres, film noir and melodrama, Neale argues that genre remains an important and productive means of thinking about both New and old Hollywood, its history, its audiences, and its films.

An Evening's Entertainment Richard Koszarski, 1994-05-04. On the age of silent movies.

Great Radio Personalities in Historic Photographs Anthony Slide, 1982. All the favorites from the golden days of radio appear in black and white portraits. Extended biographical captions make this irresistible for fans of entertainment history.

Bibliographic Guide to Theatre Arts New York Public Library. Research Libraries, 1983.

Nitrate Won't Wait Anthony Slide, 2013-05-03. This study looks at the preservation process: newsreel, television, and color preservation, the often controversial issue of colorization, and commercial film archives. It provides detailed histories of the major players in the preservation battle, including the International Museum of Photography at George Eastman House, the American Film Institute, the Museum of Modern Art, the UCLA Film and Television Archive, and the Library of Congress. This first historical overview of film preservation in the United States is also highly controversial in its exposure and criticism of the politicization of film preservation in recent years and the rising bureaucracy which has often lost sight of preservation and restoration as the ultimate purpose of film archives      Slapstick Comedy Tom Paulus, Rob King, 2010-06-09 From Chaplin's tramp to the Bathing Beauties slapstick comedy supplied many of the most enduring icons of American cinema in the silent era This collection of fourteen essays by film scholars challenges longstanding critical dogma and offers new conceptual frameworks for thinking about silent comedy's place in film history and American culture

Silent Film Performers Roy Liebman, 1996 Provides biographical and career data for each listed performer an overview of published books and articles about or written by the performer and a list of archival materials including photographs and stills letters and scrapbooks      Media Industries Jennifer Holt, Alisa Perren, 2011-09-19 Media Industries History Theory and Method is among the first texts to explore the evolving field of media industry studies and offer an innovative blueprint for future study and analysis capitalizes on the current social and cultural environment of unprecedented technical change convergence and globalization across a range of textual institutional and theoretical perspectives brings together newly commissioned essays by leading scholars in film media communications and cultural studies includes case studies of film television and digital media to vividly illustrate the dynamic transformations taking place across national regional and international contexts
