

The Bullfinch

The Bullfinch is one of our most beautiful birds, but it is not very common and, being most shy, is only seldom seen.

Bullfinches will sometimes live in large gardens, but they like the edges of woods and thick hedges and thorn bushes. They are fond of fruit buds and blossom, and often Bullfinches will come into gardens when the fruit blossom is out in the spring, sit up in the trees and pull it off, so gardeners do not like to see these birds about the place.

The nest is made of twigs, lined with hair, and is just a shallow cup, not easy to see.
