Indian Popular Fiction Gitanjali Chawla, Sangeeta Mittal, 2021-10-14 This anthology explores and validates the nuances of Indian popular fiction which has hitherto been hounded by its ubiquitous commercial success. It uncovers popular in its socio-political and cultural contexts. Furthermore, it investigates the vitality embedded in theory and praxis of popular forms and their insurrections in mutants and new age oeuvres and looks to examine the symbiotic bonds between the reader and the author as the latter articulates and perpetuates the needs of the former whose demands need continual fulfilment. This constant metamorphosis of the popular fueled by neoliberalism and postmodernity along with the shifts in the publishing industry to more democratic reader-driven genres is taken up here along with the millennial's fetish for romance humanized mythical retellings and the evergreen whodunnits. As its natural soulmates, the anthology delves into the interstices of Indian Popular with desi local traditions, folk lore, community consciousness and nation building. Please note: This title is co-published with Aakar Books New Delhi. Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India, Pakistan, Nepal, Bhutan, Bangladesh and Sri Lanka.

Leitmotifs in Natural Morphology Wolfgang U. Dressler, Willi Mayerthaler, Oswald Panagl, Wolfgang Ullrich Wurzel, 1987-01-01 Natural Morphology is the term the four authors of this monograph agreed on to cover the leitmotifs of their common and individual approaches in questions of theoretical morphology. The introduction summarizes the basic concepts and strategies of Natural Morphology to be followed by Mayerthaler who deals with universal properties of inflectional morphology and Wurzel with typological ones which depend on language-specific properties of inflectional systems and Dressler with universal and typological properties of word formation. The final chapter by Panagl is an in-depth study of diachronic evidence for productivity in word formation and for the overlap of word formation with inflectional morphology.

Post-cinema José Moure, Dominique Chateau, 2025-10-01 Post cinema designates a new way of making films It is time to ask whether this novelty is complete or relative and to evaluate to what extent it represents a unitary or diversified current The book proposes to integrate the post cinema question within the post art question in order to study the new ways of making filmic images The issue will be considered at three levels the impression of post art on regular films the relocation Casetti of the same films that can be seen using devices of all kinds in conditions more or less removed from the dispositif of the theater the integration of cinema into contemporary art in all kinds of forms of creation and exhibition parallel to the integration of contemporary art in regular cinema

Cross-dressing in Turkish Cinema Burcu Dabak, 2021-05-06 As in western cinema cross dressing is a recurrent theme in Turkish film But what do these films whose characters typically cross dress in order to escape enemies or other threats tell us about the modern history of the Turkish Republic This book examines cross dressing in Turkish films in the context of formative events in modern Turkish political history arguing that this trope coincides with and is illustrative of trauma induced by Turkey's multiple coup d'états periods of authoritarianism enforced secularism and modernization Burcu Dabak Ozdemir analyses five case study films wherein she reveals that cross dressing characters are able to escape persecutors and surveillance key instruments of oppression during Turkey's coups She shows how cross dressing in the films examined become a destabilising force a form of implicit resistance against state power both political and in terms of binaries of gender and identity and a means to register moments of national trauma The book historicises the concept of cross dressing in modern Turkey by examining what the author argues is a formative trauma worked through in the films examined the westernization policies of the Kemalist regime whose most immediate symbolic presence was worn the enforced adoption of western dress by citizens Of interest to scholars of gender queer film and trauma studies the book will also appeal to students and scholars of contemporary Turkish culture and society

A Dictionary of Modern English Usage H. W. Fowler, 2010-10-14 What grammarians say should be has perhaps less influence on what shall be than even the more modest of them realize No book had more influence on twentieth century attitudes to the English language in Britain than Henry Fowler's Dictionary of Modern English Usage It rapidly became the standard work of reference for the correct use of English in terms of choice of words grammar and style Much loved for his firm opinions passion and dry humour Fowler has stood the test of time and is still considered the best arbiter of good practice In this new edition of the original Dictionary David Crystal goes beyond the popular mythology surrounding Fowler's reputation to retrace his method and arrive at a fresh evaluation of his place in the history of linguistic thought With a wealth of entertaining examples he looks at Fowler's stated principles and the tensions between his prescriptive and descriptive temperaments He shows that the Dictionary does a great more than make normative recommendations and express private opinion In addition he offers a modern perspective on some 300 entries in which he shows how English has changed since the 1920s

Dictionary of Modern English Usage Henry Watson Fowler, 1926 Foreign-language and English Dictionaries in the Physical Sciences and Engineering Tibor W. Marton, 1964 The bibliography lists over 2800 unilingual bilingual and polyglot dictionaries glossaries and encyclopedias in the physical sciences engineering and technology published during the past twelve years The majority of the titles cited have English as the source or target language or are dictionaries giving definitions in English The bibliographic entries are arranged in 49 subject classes within each subject the entries are listed alphabetically by language and within each language group by author Forty seven foreign languages are represented in the compilation Lists of abbreviations and reference sources and detailed author language and subject indexes complement the publication Author Second Language Phonology John Archibald, 1998-01-01 This volume explores a variety of aspects of second language speech with special focus on contributions to the field made by primarily generative linguists looking at the sounds and sound systems of second language learners Second Language Phonology starts off with an overview of second language acquisition research in order to place the study of L2 speech in context This introductory chapter is followed by an outline of traditional approaches to investigating interlanguage phonology The third chapter consists of a discussion of relevant aspects of a learning theory that must be included in a treatment of how people learn sound systems The next three chapters focus on particular aspects of the mental representation of phonological competence segments syllables and stress respectively The penultimate chapter deals with issues related to the mechanisms that govern the changing of interlanguage grammars over time The volume ends with a summary of the issues raised throughout the text Bad Film Histories

Katherine Groo, 2019-02-26 A daring deep investigation into ethnographic cinema that challenges standard ways of writing film history and breaks important new ground in understanding archives Bad Film Histories is a vital work that unsettles the authority of the archive Katherine Groo daringly takes readers to the margins of the film record addressing the undertheorization of film history and offering a rigorous corrective Taking ethnographic cinema as a crucial case study Groo challenges standard ways of thinking and writing about film history and questions widespread assumptions about what film artifacts are and what makes them meaningful Rather than filling holes Groo endeavors to understand the imprecisions and absences that define film history and its archives Bad Film Histories draws on numerous works of ethnographic cinema from Edward S Curtis's In the Land of the Head Hunters to a Citroën sponsored croisière across Africa to the extensive archives of the Maison Lumière and the Musée Albert Kahn to dozens of expedition films from the 1910s and 1920s The project is deeply grounded in poststructural approaches to history and throughout Groo draws on these frameworks to offer innovative and accessible readings that explain ethnographic cinema's destabilizing energies As Groo describes ethnographic works are mostly untitled unauthored seemingly infinite in number and largely unrestored even in their digital afterlives Her examination of ethnographic cinema provides necessary new thought for both film scholars and those who are thrilled by cinema's boundless possibilities. In so doing, she boldly reexamines what early ethnographic cinema is and how these films produce meaning, challenging the foundations of film history and prevailing approaches to the archive.
