Ancient Historiography on War and Empire Timothy Howe, Sabine Müller, Richard Stoneman, 2016-11-30 In the ancient Greek speaking world writing about the past meant balancing the reporting of facts with shaping and guiding the political interests and behaviours of the present Ancient Historiography on War and Empire shows the ways in which the literary genre of writing history developed to guide empires through their wars Taking key events from the Achaemenid Persian Athenian Macedonian and Roman empires the 17 essays collected here analyse the way events and the accounts of those events interact Subjects include how Greek historians assign nearly divine honours to the Persian King the role of the tomb cult of Cyrus the Founder in historical narratives of conquest and empire from Herodotus to the Alexander historians warfare and financial innovation in the age of Philip II and his son Alexander the Great the murders of Philip II his last and seventh wife Kleopatra and her guardian Attalos Alexander the Great's combat use of eagle symbolism and divination Plutarch's juxtaposition of character in the Alexander Caesar pairing as a commentary on political legitimacy and military prowess and Roman Imperial historians using historical examples of good and bad rule to make meaningful challenges to current Roman authority In some cases the balance shifts more towards the literary and in others more towards the historical but what all of the essays have in common is both a critical attention to the genre and context of history writing in the ancient world and its focus on war and empire

Payne, 2015-09-01 Christian communities flourished during late antiquity in a Zoroastrian political system known as the Iranian Empire that integrated culturally and geographically disparate territories from Arabia to Afghanistan into its institutions and networks Whereas previous studies have regarded Christians as marginal insular and often persecuted participants in this empire Richard Payne demonstrates their integration into elite networks adoption of Iranian political practices and imaginaries and participation in imperial institutions The rise of Christianity in Iran depended on the Zoroastrian theory and practice of hierarchical differentiated inclusion according to which Christians Jews and others occupied legitimate places in Iranian political culture in positions subordinate to the imperial religion Christians for their part positioned themselves in a political culture not of their own making with recourse to their own ideological and institutional resources ranging from the writing of saints lives to the judicial arbitration of bishops In placing the social history of East Syrian Christians at the center of the Iranian imperial story A State of Mixture helps explain the endurance of a culturally diverse empire across four centuries The Iranian Expanse Matthew P. Canepa, 2020-11-01

The Iranian Expanse explores how kings in Persia and the ancient Iranian world utilized the built and natural environment to form and contest Iranian cultural memory royal identity and sacred cosmologies Investigating over a thousand years of history from the Achaemenid period to the arrival of Islam The Iranian Expanse argues that Iranian identities were built and shaped not by royal discourse alone but by strategic changes to Western Asia's cities sanctuaries palaces and landscapes The Iranian Expanse critically examines the construction of a new Iranian royal identity and empire which subsumed and subordinated all previous traditions including those of Mesopotamia Egypt and Anatolia It then delves into the startling innovations that emerged after Alexander under the Seleucids Arsacids Kushans Sasanians and the Perso Macedonian dynasties of Anatolia and the Caucasus a previously understudied and misunderstood period Matthew P Canepa elucidates the many ruptures and renovations that produced a new royal culture that deeply influenced not only early Islam but also the wider Persianate world of the Il Khans Safavids Timurids Ottomans and Mughals American Journal of Archaeology, 2010
