The Routledge Companion to British Cinema History. I.Q. Hunter, Laraine Porter, Justin Smith, 2017-01-12. Over 39 chapters, The Routledge Companion to British Cinema History offers a comprehensive and revisionist overview of British cinema, as on the one hand a commercial entertainment industry and on the other a series of institutions centred on economics, funding, and relations to government. Whereas most histories of British cinema focus on directors, stars, genres, and themes, this Companion explores the forces enabling and constraining the film's production, distribution, exhibition, and reception contexts from the late nineteenth century to the present day. The contributors provide a wealth of empirical and archive-based scholarship that draws on insider perspectives of key film institutions and illuminates aspects of British film culture that have been neglected or marginalized, such as the watch committee system, the Eady Levy, the rise of the multiplex, and film festivals. It also places emphasis on areas where scholarship has either been especially productive and influential, such as in early and silent cinema, or promoted new approaches, such as audience and memory studies.

Music in Action Film. James Buhler, Mark Durrant, 2020-11-16. Music in Action Film is the first volume to address the central role of music and sound in action film, arguably the most dominant form of commercial cinema today. Bringing together 15 essays by established and emerging scholars, the book encompasses both Hollywood blockbusters and international films, from classic works such as The Seven Samurai to contemporary superhero franchises. The contributors consider action both as genre and as a mode of cinematic expression, in chapters on evolving musical conventions, politics, representation, and identity; musical affect and agency; the functional role of music and sound design in action film; and production technologies. Breaking new critical ground yet highly accessible, this book will be of interest to students and scholars of music and film studies.
